Fight to be Waged on Hay Bill.

Measure Never Approved by President, the House is Informed.

Friends of Real Preparedness will Have Inning Today in Congress.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 19.—As a result of President Wilson's formal repudiation of Chairman Hay of the House Military Affairs Committee, Congressmen who are advocating real preparedness instead of "Hay preparedness" will redouble their efforts tomorrow to have the Chamberlain bill substituted in the House for the pernicious Hay measure.

Representative Gardner of Massachusetts tonight served notice on Hay and the little army men of the House that he intends to wage a finish fight on the Hay bill.

Mr. Gardner will be aided by Minority Leader Mann and, in view of the President's action, it is expected that a number of Democrats, who yesterday supported Mr. Hay because they believed his statement to the effect that his measure was fully approved by President Wilson, will now join in the fight on him.

Chairman Hay tonight is in a much worse predicament than on Friday night following the reading of the letter of Secretary of War Baker pointing out the fallacy of his measure.

HAY'S REPLY TO HOUSE.

Yesterday, when the House convened Mr. Hay was asked what he thought of Secretary Baker's letter. In reply he said:

"I am authorized by the President of the United States to state this bill meets his approval. In other words

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, March 19.—The Daily Chronicle's Amsterdam correspondent cables that it is impossible to exaggerate the anger and anxiety all over Holland over the news of the second disaster to Dutch shipping in the North Sea, laid to a German submarine. "The outlook now," says the correspondent, "is most serious. Last night in all the streets, crowds and cafe throngs in Amsterdam one heard on all sides expressions of exasperation and declarations that the time to act had arrived. Holland has suddenly changed from a nation indirectly affected by the war to one prepared and determined if necessary to take a very different role. A sudden seriousness has seized the people. I am reliably informed that three very large submarines, each carrying 120 men, were completed at Antwerp last week and are being prepared for immediate service on the Belgian coast."

COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.

With the slackening of the fighting around Verdun, the Russians have started a big offensive movement against the Germans on the eastern front.

Berlin chronicles an attack of great violence by the Russians around Driswiaty Lake and Lake Narocz, but says the Russians were repulsed with great losses, 9270 Russian dead having been counted in the Lake Narocz region.

Saturday the Germans in the Vaux-Damloup sector, northeast of Verdun, began another spirited attack against the French, but were driven back. The attack was not pushed again during Sunday and only intermittent bombardments took place.

Berlin reports the recapture of some ground from the British northeast of Vermelles, in the region of La Bassee and the driving of the French from a postion northeast of Badonvillers, in the Vosges. London admits the capture by the Germans of three mine craters at the Hohenzollern redoubt.

The French guns have been busy bombarding German trenches in Champagne and German depots northeast of St. Mihiel. Five French aircraft dropped bombs on Metz, ammunition depots near Chateau Salins and the aerodrome at Dieuze, while twenty-three other machines attacked the aviation camp at Habsheim and the freight station at Mulhausen.

It is officially reported that Gen. Pershing's expedition has located Villa and that the force is being divided for the purpose of cutting off the bandit's escape. On the other hand, news from Washington indicates that army officers there are not at all sanguine that the desperado will be easily captured, as he appears to be drawing farther south. Meanwhile fighting has been reported near Torreon between the Carranza troops and Villistas.

Frantic Placards in Towns and Villages Urge National Unity.

Discontent and Anxiety Suddenly Find Open Expression Following Von Tirpitz's Resignation—Accumulating Difficulties Cause Atmosphere of Gloom—Bombardment North of Verdun has Materially Slackened.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ROTTERDAM, March 19.—Germany is now in the throes of the greatest political crisis of the war. The depth to which it has suddenly divided the nation may be gauged by the nature of appeals for unity which appear not only in all the journals in the form of editorials, but by a wholesale posting of frantic Wolff messages in all towns and villages, urging the absolute necessity of disciplined unity behind the government.

Discontent and anxiety suddenly are finding expression following Von Tirpitz's resignation. These are not confined to any one class but are widespread, the Tirpitz affair bringing to a head and providing an opportunity for the discussion of all of Germany's accumulating difficulties. A message in the Neue Freie Presse evidently inspired by the Chancellor's friends to explain the real position to the less bellicose Austrians says:

"That a difference between the Chancellor and Von Tirpitz has caused a final decision is certain. This difference is probably less as to the object of the war against armed trading vessels than against the political methods to be used towards the United States. The Imperial Chancellor has apparently stood by his opinion that he will be successful in arriving at an understanding with the United States without giving up that object. The coming discussion in the Reichstag is regarded as of the highest importance, for Bethmann-Hollweg more than ever has full powers as regards the German war policy and he has always stood for a moderate attitude which will not bar the way to peace."

BOMBARDMENT SLACKENS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, March 19.—The bombardment in the region to the north of Verdun very materially slackened during the course of the day, according to the official statement issued by the French War Office tonight. No attempt to attack was made by the Germans.

The text of the statement follows:

"North of Rheims our artillery carried out a defensive fire on the enemy trenches at Neuville and the Godat farm. There was marked activity of our batteries in the region of Ville au Bois.

"In the region to the north of Verdun the bombardment slackened appreciably during the course of the day. The enemy made no attempt to attack.

"Northeast of St. Mihiel our heavy artillery cannonaded revictualling depots of the enemy at Varvinay. There is nothing to report on the rest of the front.

The Belgian official communication reads:

GERMAN SEAPLANES RAID THE COAST OF ENGLAND.

Nine Persons are Killed and Thirty-one Injured, According to the British Official Report—One of the Four Invading Machines is Chased to Sea and Forced to Descend by an English Aeroplane.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, March 19.—Nine persons were killed and thirty-one injured in a raid of four German aeroplanes over the east coast of Kent today, it was announced officially tonight. A British airman brought down one raider over the sea, the German observer being killed.

The official statement on the raid reads:

"Four German seaplanes flew over East Kent today. The first pair appeared over Dover at a height of 5000 to 6000 feet, one at 1:57 p.m., the second at 2:02 p.m.

"The first dropped six bombs in the harbor, then went northwest, dropping bombs on the town. The other raider, after passing over Dover, appeared over Deal.

"The second pair appeared over Ramsgate at 2:10 o'clock. They dropped bombs on the town. One of this pair went west, the other north, pursued by a British aeroplane. One bomb is reported to have been dropped at Margate.

"The second machine appeared over Westgate at 2:20 o'clock. Here several of our aeroplanes went up in pursuit. No bombs were dropped on Westgate. The total casualties so far reported: Killed, three men, one woman and five children. Injured, fifteen men, five women, nine children.

"As far as ascertained, forty-eight bombs were dropped altogether. One bomb fell on the Canadian Hospital at Ramsgate, causing damage, but no casualties. No material damage done, several houses, the homes of artisans and cottagers being wrecked.

"Flight Commander Bone, Royal Naval Air Service, in a single-seated aeroplane, pursued one German seaplane thirty miles out to sea, where, after an action lasting a quarter of an hour, he forced it to descend. The German machine was hit many times and the observer was killed."

AUTO STAGE IS HELD UP BY MASKED HIGHWAYMAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, March 19.—An auto stage carrying six passengers was held up at 7 o'clock tonight a half mile this side of the international line by a masked bandit, believed to be an American, who took all of the money and valuables from his victims and escaped. A second stage which appeared on the scene during the hold-up was not molested, although the highwayman ordered the driver to proceed at full speed. Posses hurriedly summoned are searching the hills in the vicinity, but it is believed the robber crossed the border and is hiding near the Mexican town of Tia Juana.

The victims of the hold-up included five men, in addition to the driver of the machine, James Geer, and one woman, who all but collapsed when the bandit thrust his revolver into her face. The names of none could be ascertained, two leaving the automobile at National City, a few miles north of the scene, and the others getting away before the Sheriff could be notified.

The bandit had thrown a log across the road, and when the automobile, filled with sightseers from Tia Juana slowed down at the obstruction, he stepped from the darkness at the roadside and ordered the occupants to alight and line up beside the machine. Each person lost everything of value he possessed, the woman being compelled to give up a ring and her purse. The second automobile stage, carrying ten persons, then appeared and the bandit, after ordering it to proceed, darted into the underbrush.

Deputy Immigration Inspectors Frank G. Ellis and Willard Chaffin, both attached to the customhouse at Tia Juana, just across the border, were summoned to the spot, but the bandit had nearly fifteen minutes' start and, in the darkness it was impossible to find a trail of any kind. Sheriff Ralph Conklin was informed of the hold-up and left at once for the scene, about twelve miles south of the city.

According to Geer, the bandit wore a white handkerchief, in which two eyeholes had been cut, over his face. Geer was of the opinion the robber was of American nationality.

Constantine Can't Get Enough Small Change to Pay Messenger Boys.

LONDON, March 20.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily Mail, in a dispatch dated yesterday sent via Messina, says: "The Greek government is greatly embarrassed for money, and if it cannot raise a loan in England or France it may be forced to resign. The coffers are exhausted by the continuance of mobilization and the government is even unable to pay civil servants. Small sums, like the pay of telegraph messengers even, have been in abeyance. It is a common sight in Athens to see the wives of men who are with the colors making demonstrations for the small pittance due them, outside the government offices and the houses of the ministers. There was a disorderly scene today when 200 women outside the Ministry of the Interior cried, 'give us bread.' The police dispersed the manifestants amid screams and shouting."

ITALIAN SUBJECT KILLED BY BANDITS.

ENRICO VISCONTI FOUND MURDERED AT ENCINILLAS.

News of the Outrage Brought to Ojinaga by Brother of the Victim. Dead Man was Well Known and had Lived in Mexico Twenty-five Years.

EL PASO (Tex.) March 19.—Enrico Visconti, an Italian subject, and one of the best-known foreign ranchers in Mexico, was murdered by Mexican bandits on his ranch at Encinillas, Chihuahua, last Tuesday. News of the murder reached here today in a telegram sent by Vicenzo Visconti, brother of the murdered man.

The telegram was sent from Presidio by Veneolas Garcia, a brother of the head cattleman on the ranch. The cattleman escaped when Visconti was murdered and made his way to Ojinaga, where he communicated with Wenceslas Garcia.

Visconti's ranch is 75,000 acres in extent and located 100 miles south of Ojinaga and about an equal distance east of Chihuahua City. The bandits who murdered him seized his cousin, Juan Bilbao, a Spaniard, on his ranch sixty miles southwest of Encinillas, a week previously, and held him for $1500 ransom, which was paid from El Paso.

It is supposed Visconti refused their demands for money, but no details have been received here yet. A son of the ranchman is thought to have been with him on the ranch, but nothing is known as to his fate.

The murder of the ranch owner aroused deep indignation in the Italian colony here, where he was well known and respected. He had lived twenty-five years in Mexico. His brother, Vicenzo Visconti, sent a telegram today to the Italian Ambassador in Washington.

MORGAN RETURNS FROM WAR ZONE.

FINANCIER REFUSES TO TALK ABOUT EUROPEAN CREDITS.

Declares He Knows of no New Loans by the Allies and Neatly Evades Question About the Mobilized American Securities Held by the British.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 19.—J. P. Morgan returned today from England with Mrs. Morgan on the American liner Philadelphia. Mr. Morgan said that he had not arranged to take up American securities accumulating in London on deposit with the British government.

He asserted that he knew of no contemplated new loan to the allies, adding that their resources did not seem to be exhausted.

In answer to the report that he had arranged a new credit against American securities mobilized in London, Mr. Morgan said:

"I understand that the British expect to handle these securities as they have been doing in the past, and that they will be taken care of in a way that will not hurt the market."

Mr. Morgan was asked about his impressions of the progress in the war.

"I am not a military man," he said with a smile, "and cannot discuss that question. I did not observe, however, any signs of weakening."

Cavalry Arrives at Destination After Drive of 110 Miles in the Pink of Condition—Outlaw Chief Forced to Abandon Wounded in His Extremity.—Mexicans Raid More Colonies.

WITH THE ARMY, March 18, via wireless to Columbus, N.M.—After marching more than 110 miles into Mexico in record marching time of forty-two hours, the American punitive expedition today received information apparently locating Francisco Villa, the object of the chase. Disposition of the troops began tonight for the task of hunting him down. Meanwhile, Villa was reported to be continuing his outrages upon Americans.

The expedition reached ———— (name deleted by censor.) They were informed that the Mexican leader passed through this place only a few days ago. The latest information of Villa's present whereabouts placed him on the ranch of Candelario Hernandez, one of the sub-chiefs with him on the raid against Columbus.

GEN. PERSHING LEADS PERSONALLY.

Gen. John J. Pershing personally led the flying cavalry column in the 110-mile dash. Every man in his command was mounted. They pressed through a section of Mexico where water was scarce. For such a large body of men the speed maintained was remarkable and the good condition in which they came through was inspiring.

Only a few cavalry horses and pack mules were lost, the victims of a hard riding trail. The men reached the camp thirsty and hungry, but otherwise in good condition, fit for action and eager for the pursuit of Villa to begin in earnest. Here they were met with reports that Villa had raided the American colonies in the vicinity of his mountain retreats and that he had killed residents of these colonies.

The location of Villa's latest hiding place, Candelario Hernandez ranch, was not clear tonight, nor did the dispatch passed by the military censor reveal the places where the American colonies, which Villa was reported raiding, are situated. The ranch was understood to be on the properties of Luis Terrazas, the multi-millionaire land owner, whose properties Villa has been confiscating and distributing, while he held Luis Terrazas, Jr., for more than a year, squeezing millions in valuable property from the Terrazas family by threats of killing the son. The seized Terrazas properties are scattered over more than half the State of Chihuahua, so that the Hernandez ranch might be 100 miles or more from Gen. Pershing's outposts.

From thirty-five to forty miles north and also southwest of the Casa Grandes region, where last night's report placed the American troops, there are numerous American Mormon settlements, but it had been believed that the Americans all had left these towns.

LOSS OF HORSES NOT UNUSUAL.

The loss of some horses and mules by Gen. Pershing's squadron is not considered unusual for such a march. The bandits whom the Americans are pursuing spent the lives of horses freely to maintain the lead which the Americans are trying to cut down. That the American troopers went through with the loss of only a few animals is considered on the border to be a remarkable exploit in itself. Many predictions had been made before the expedition started that the American cavalry horses could not stand up under the hard work of the mountain trails, with scanty fodder and uncertain water facilities.

The type of horse which they are chasing is a small, wiry pony, with hoofs unshod, the hoofs being treated with a sharp knife to keep them in condition. These unshod horses are said to "climb like cats." It is further boasted that when they have no food their riders give them a bunch of cactus.

MEXICAN HORSES EAT CACTUS.

The eating of cactus is a well established attainment of these horses. The variety fed is prickly pear, from which the spines have been burned.

In the first rush at least, the American corn-fed horses have equalled the traditions of the famous Villa mounts.

As the Americans divide the pursuit of Villa, another interesting subsistence question is named, the question whether in an emergency the American troops can live on fresh beef, as the Mexican outlaws subsist. This beef is eaten before the flesh cools, a practice which to the uninitiated causes serious stomach trouble.

News of Gen. Pershing's presence with the vanguard was a surprise. His cavalrymen, starting from Columbus, had a considerably longer ride to make than those of Col. George A. Dodd, who started from the western end of the New Mexico boundary. The dispatches from the front do not indicate whether Gen. Pershing left his main column to take the leadership of Col. Dodd's men, or whether the main column sent out a flying squadron which joined with Dodd's troopers.

Unofficial dispatches placed Col. Dodd's command in the Mormon colonies near Colonia Dublan yesterday morning.

Villa Driven Into a Trap by the Rapid Advance of the Americans.

At Bay.

Thirty of His Men Shot at Columbus are Found at El Valle, One of Them Reported as Being Pablo Lopez. Forces of the Allies are Fast Closing in on the Raider, Who is Now Surrounded in an Almost Foodless Section.

EL PASO (Tex.) March 19.—Villa has been driven into a trap by the rapid advance of the American troops, according to information received today in wireless dispatches from the front and in telegraphic messages to Gen. Gabriel Gavira, the Carranza commander at Juarez.

Everything seems now to depend on the ability of the Carranza garrisons to hold their end of the net. On three sides of the bandit chief he is hemmed in by strong Carranza columns while on the fourth the American soldiers are driving forward with amazing speed.

Villa was reported in the Babricora Lake region tonight, on the ranch of Mrs. Phoebe Hearst, which he has ravaged several times in the past. Babricora is about fifty-five miles south of Galeana, where one section of the American expeditionary force has arrived and is pushing forward at the rate of thirty-three miles a day. A few miles to the west of the bandit's position is Namiquipa, which is held by a powerful Carranza garrison. On the east are the frowning barriers of the Sierra Madres barring the way to Sonora.

Gen. Gutierrez, Carranza's field chief, declares that he holds all the passes to Sonora. In any event it is very unlikely that Villa would make a break for Sonora for that is the native State of Gen. Obregon, Carranza's Minister of War, and the natives are said to be staunchly loyal to him.

VILLA BLOCKED.

To the south Villa's way is blocked by the Carranza garrison at Madera, a town of considerable importance, as the headquarters of the Madera Company, Limited, an American concern which has vast lumber, mining and railroad interests. On account of the importance of this town an exceptionally heavy Carranza force is said to hold it.

The whole situation seems to hang tonight on the Carranza troops. If they remain loyal to the first chief, which up to the present time they have shown every indication of doing, Villa appears trapped. It is, of course, realized that he is on ground of his own choosing and a country admirably suited for guerrilla warfare and surprise attacks.

While Carranza leaders and the United States military authorities have succeeded so far in avoiding any friction, there is one serious question which may arise at any time to threaten the entire situation. As the lines of communication of the American force lengthen the problem of bringing up supplies becomes increasingly more pressing.

To grant the United States permission to use the Mexican railroads for shipping supplies, it is thought here may be misconstrued by many Mexicans. On the other hand, a refusal would scarcely harmonize with the professed desire of the Carranza government to co-operate in every way with the American authorities. The arrival of this crisis is being anxiously awaited on both sides of the border.

ABANDONS WOUNDED.

Villa fled to avoid a conflict with the Carranzista troops under Col. Cano. Among the thirty wounded, who had been shot in the Columbus raid and carried along in wagons only to be abandoned at El Valle, was said to be the Villista leader, Pablo Lopez. Lopez is the leader, whose death was reported as a positive fact at the Columbus raid. Later reports cast some doubt upon his death, and indicated that another chief carrying his papers might have been the real victim. Lopez, in these later reports, was said to be badly wounded. The telegram said that Lopez is in a bad way, having been shot through the abdomen and both legs, which were broken. The Villista chief, Cervantes, is reported with a number of bandits in Las Cruces.

AMERICANS DIVIDED.

Gen. Bertani, commanding the Carranza forces at Casas Grandes, came to Juarez today to talk over the military situation with his superior, Gen. Gavira. He said that Gen. Pershing's force is divided, with part near Casas Grandes and a part near Galeana, some distance south of Casas Grandes. The Americans encamp in the country, but have permission to go to the towns to buy food, fodder and other goods. An order to this effect came from War Minister Obregon.

Villa spent last Wednesday and Thursday in El Valle, according to reports at the Juarez headquarters, but fled without giving battle when he saw the troops of Col. Cano from Santa Ana, escaping up a steep canyon from Las Cruces.

"Villa is now in a very difficult section for us," said Gen. Gavira, "and very favorable for his purposes. He is now in broken, rocky, pine-clad, mountainous country, full of places of concealment. Only infantry can operate in it to advantage.

FOOD SCARCE.

"From the boundary down as far as Pearson, the country is flat and sandy, with roads. But south of there, horses must be used as transports instead of wagons and motor cars. There are high ridges and many obstacles. While I have never campaigned in that section, I understand good water is obtainable from springs and also the pasture is fair, which is to Villa's advantage. But the people in that part have almost given up the cultivation of the soil, because the country has been long overrun by bandits, who took everything they wanted. Villa won't find food there.

"I can say I have every confidence in the situation, for the net drawn by the Americans and Mexican forces is closing up."

Villa's turn to the west was rather a surprise to Givira, who said that Gen. Gutierrez thought he would try to escape eastward—an event Gutierrez was prepared for.

The town of Juarez spent Sunday in the usual Mexican fashion, with a line of refreshment stands along its main street and orchestras playing in the amusement resorts.

BERLIN, March 19 (via Sayville.)—The Austro-Hungarian hospital ship Elektra was torpedoed Saturday in the Adriatic Sea by an Entente allied submarine, according to the Overseas News Agency. One sailor was drowned and two Red Cross nurses were seriously wounded.

The statement of the news agency follows:

"Vienna reports that the hospital ship Elektra of the Austro-Hungarian Red Cross, bound from the North Adriatic to Southern Dalmatia, was torpedoed March 18 by an enemy submarine. The steamer stranded. One sailor was drowned and two Red Cross nurses were seriously wounded.

"The Elektra was not unknown to the enemy as a hospital ship and was provided with the prescribed visible marks."

Mrs. Rogers of Detroit Arrives in El Paso and Tells How She Hid with Her Baby Two Days in an Abandoned Mine Shaft to Escape Death at Cananea.

EL PASO (Tex.) March 19.—Mrs. Wallace Rogers of Detroit, Mich., arrived here today with her 15-months-old infant, and told how she had hidden with her baby for two days in the shaft of an abandoned mine near Cananea, from Mexican bandits.

Mrs. Rogers's husband is interested in mining property near Cananea, but was away from home when the little colony fled on the approach of the bandits.

Mrs. Rogers said she hid with her baby in a deserted mine shaft more than 1000 feet below the surface of the earth for two days until the bandits departed. She also declared that the Mexican bandits not only had no respect for the American flag, but that it actually incited them to outrages, the only flag that offered any protection at all, she said, being the British flag.

"I am bitterly ashamed to admit it," she said, "but whenever trouble started we began to hunt for a 'Union Jack.' It was by no means a bullet-proof shield, but it was the only flag I ever saw that the Mexicans paid any deference to."

Refugees continue to arrive here and at other points along the border daily, but the majority of them refuse to discuss conditions in Mexico in any way, as they fear their property in that country would be destroyed if they aroused the resentment of the Mexicans.

the coast. The seaplanes, however, arrived over the town and dropped a number of bombs, one of which killed a man and four children.

So far as can be ascertained, the other Ramsgate casualties total one woman and eight children slightly injured.

The first bomb dropped in Ramsgate fell squarely on a motorcar, killing the driver and setting fire to the gasoline tank. Pieces of the bomb flew among children on their way to Sunday-school, killing four of them. Other bombs hit a business block, a barbershop and several residences.

One bomb fell through the gable of a hospital to the floor below, but nobody was injured. The weather was clear and the attacking machine flew very high.

DOVER IS BOMBED.

A dozen bombs were dropped in Dover and four persons were killed there. One of the missiles crashed through the roof of an orphanage, causing extensive damage and injuring a nun. The children in the institution suffered no injury, having been taken to the cellar at the first alarm. One of the raiders dropped four bombs into the sea as he was departing. Several British aeroplanes started in pursuit.

At Deal bombs also dropped and some damage was done to property. There were no casualties. The town had only a few minutes' warning of the approach of the aircraft. Most of the inhabitants rushed into the street, where they had an excellent view of a fight in the air between the raiders and an English air squadron which rose in pursuit. With the aid of a telescope it was possible to distinguish a great number of machines, twisting and turning in every direction in their maneuvers to get quickly to the required altitude to combat the invaders.

PEOPLE LITTLE AFFECTED.

As this strange Sunday afternoon entertainment proceeded, the people, regardless of danger, flocked to street corners, open places and to the water front. One of the machines in the air suddenly turned toward Deal and flew across the town, its passage being marked by the explosion of a number of bombs. The first three bombs fell at virtually the same moment, whereupon half the crowd in the open places fled to shelter. Lter three other bombs fell at intervals of about thirty seconds. Thanksgiving services were held during the evening in all the local churches.

Bandits Fail in Their Attempt to Reach the Monterey Train, on Which Many Refugees are Being Brought to the Border for Safety. Belief is Americans Should Leave.

TORREON (Mex.) March 19.—Fighting took place between Carranza forces and small bands of Villistas at five different points in the neighborhood of Torreon yesterday, apparently with a view to reaching the Monterey train, which was derailed near Pomona two days ago. The attacks were directed against Villisca, Matamoros, Coyote, San Ignacio and Canon Chorritos, where the government patrols successfully held their ground with but a small loss in killed and wounded. The train reached here today reporting that four Mexicans had been killed in the wreck, which was due to bad conditions of the roadbed.

The Americans here, who number about 100 men, women and children, including those in Durango, are undecided about leaving for the frontier, as the train journeys at very slow speed, apart from risks of derailment.

It is the belief here that there is absolutely no business at present here for Americans and it might be better for them to go at least to Monterey.

THE TWENTY-FIRST TO LEAVE TACOMA.

VANCOUVER (Wash.) March 19.—Preparations were completed today for Co.'s A, B, D and the band of the Twenty-first Infantry, to leave tomorrow for Tacoma, where they will board the United States steamship Pittsburgh for San Diego, Cal.

About 200 men and officers comprise the force. The troops will be in command of Maj. William Brooke.

TAGGART TO SUCCEED SENATOR SHIVELY.

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) March 19.—Thomas Taggart, national committeeman from Indiana of the Democratic party, it became known here tonight, is to be named successor of the late Benjamin F. Shively in the United States Senate. Gov. Ralston and Mr. Taggart would not discuss the appointment for publication tonight, but the commission probably will be issued tomorrow or Tuesday.

RUSSIAN MINISTER RESIGNS PORTFOLIO.

VILLA FLEES TO MOUNTAINS.

Outlaw Reaches Favorite Hiding Place in Guerrero.

Noted Native Scouts are Now Aiding the Americans.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—Villa, fleeing with his outlaw followers before the advance of the American expeditionary forces in Mexico, has reached his own country in the Guerrero district, where high officers of the army said tonight he may almost indefinitely evade capture. If the bandit chieftain makes a stand, Washington is satisfied that the campaign will quickly end, but if he leaves his followers, he can, military authorities agree, reach a haven of safety in the near-by mountains in less than a day's riding.

In the Guerrero district and in the country adjacent to Babicora, Villa is at home. For years he operated there in defiance of the laws of Mexico and its constituted authorities. The mountains to the west offer countless hiding places and routes of escape. If hard pressed Villa might, officials believe, abandon his men, don the garb of a peon and flee so far into the south that it would be exceedingly difficult, if not impossible to apprehend him.

To meet this situation, Gen. Pershing, it was learned today, has decided to employ men as scouts who have lived all their lives in these mountains. These men know the hiding places and retreats to which the bandits are sure to take refuge, if hard pressed. Upon them as a final resort, will fall the task of trailing Villa to earth. Elaborate scouting plans are understood to have been completed.

AMERICANS AVOID TOWNS.

The War Department, it became known tonight, has, at the request of the State Department, sent explicit instructions to the forces in Mexico not to occupy Mexican towns. Such occupation, it is said, might have the result of stirring up resentment among the Mexicans. However, Gen. Pershing's orders will not prevent him from searching a town should he have reason to believe that Villa, or any of his followers were secreted there. Neither is he prevented from passing through towns in an emergency, although officials feel sure that such action would be taken only where it was necessary. Upon no condition, though, will American troops enter a town and set up headquarters there.

Acting Secretary Polk of the State Department today sent to Eliseo Arredondo, Ambassador-designate of the de facto government, a reply to a note delivered by the latter during a conference at the State Department yesterday. State Department and Embassy officials declined to divulge even the nature of the contents of the communication.

A reply to the request upon the Carranza government for permission to ship supplies to the American troops by rail from El Paso is expected some time tomorrow.

CONDITIONS IMPROVE.

Also advices to the State Department today were said to show that conditions in various sections of Mexico under control of the de facto government were improving.

Only one dispatch was given out for publication by the War Department. This was from Gen. Funston and it conveyed the information that two troops of the First Cavalry, stationed at Calexico, on the California-Mexican border, were to remain at their station to protect the Imperial Valley. The text of the communication faollows:

"Replying to inquiry of commanding general Western department as to whether all the First Cavalry was to leave or whether two troops could be left at Calexico; knowing that the Imperial Valley was an important point and would probably require protection, I replied that the two troops at Calexico should remain where they were. As this point is not in my department, it would not be in my province to send other troops there and for the present I should not want to spare any for this purpose.

[Signed] "FUNSTON."

it is his bill, it carries out the recommendations he made to Congress when he addressed Congress at its convening in December, last."

As stated this morning Chairman Hay was not authorized by President Wilson to make that statement and he made it after he had failed to get into communication with the President following the disclosure of Secretary Baker's attack on his bill.

President Wilson himself has now repudiated Mr. Hay. The White House has issued a statement in which it says that the President is not committed to the details of either the Hay bill or the Chamberlain bill, but wants the best he can get from Congress.

Representative Gardner today confessed that he feels somewhat embarrassed about pressing Mr. Hay for a further explanation of his statement of yesterday, in which Mr. Hay deliberately misrepresented the position of President Wilson without the President's consent to make any statement.

GARDNER'S POSITION.

"I don't want to embarrass Mr. Hay," said Mr. Gardner. "The essential thing in this controvery is whether Mr. Hay or Secretary Baker is right. I am satisfied the Secretary is right and that the President now knows he is right and fully approves his letter to me pointing out the inadequacy of the Hay bill. I think it is atrocious if the President every approved the Hay bill, as Mr. Hay seems to think he did, for that measure in no manner at all provides for the adequate defenses for which the President appealed to the people on his western trip. Mr. Wilson's approval of the Hay bill, either at the time it was introduced in the House, or now, would indicate one of two things, that the President was not sincere in his promise to obtain a larger army from Congress or that he did not know enough about the army to see the ridiculousness of the Hay bill."

When the House convenes at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning Mr. Hay will face a real crisis in his leadership. An amendment offered by Representative Kahn of California, ranking minority member of the Military Committee, increasing the regular army from 140,000, as provided in the Hay bill, to 220,000, will be considered. There were indications tonight that this amendment will command more strength that it had last night when the House adjourned. The increase is due almost wholly to the repudiation of Hay by the President. Efforts were being made by the Republican leaders to get the Republican members of the Military Affairs Committee who thus far in the fight have sided with Hay to desert him and stand for a real bill. How these Republicans could continue to support Hay in view of the President's action is more than the leaders in the House can understand.

"There is no longer an opportunity to get nonpartisan action," said one prominent member tonight. "There will be a division tomorrow between the pacificists and the preparedness men in the House. Hay will lead the former and Mann the latter."

EVENTS IN THE SENATE.

While the attention of official Washington and the country will be largely focused on the House tomorrow in view of the casting off of Hay by the President, events in the Senate promise to be of more than ordinary interest.

Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the Senate Military Committee, will move to take up his army bill as soon as the Senate convenes. His motion will be opposed by the anti-preparedness crowd, headed by Myers of Montana and Vardaman of Mississippi. Nevertheless Senator Chamberlain felt confident tonight that the motion will carry. According to the report on this measure it will make the present national guard of 120,000 immediately available for service on the border or in Mexico. Also it authorizes an increase in the national guard from 120,000 to 280,000 men; the creation of a volunteer force of 261,000 men ready for service as soon as it can be prepared, and an increase in the regular army of fighting troops of 74,000 men, or with side branches of 98,000. In the present emergency, under the terms of the Chamberlain bill the regular army could be increased to 236,000 men.

The Chamberlain bill also makes adequate provision for reserves. How far in advance of the Hay measure it is can be seen when it is considered that under the terms of the Hay bill, as pointed out by Secretary of War Baker, the increase of the army would cover a period of several years; there is no provision for a volunteer force; and the national guard provisions are insufficient.

MAY DISCARD HAY BILL.

If the Chamberlain bill is put through the Senate before the House finishes with the Hay bill, Minority Leader Mann will probably make a motion to recommit the Hay bill with instructions to discard it and report out the Chamberlain bill. If this measure carries, the Chamberlain measure will at once go to the President for his signature.

Chairman Hay does not intend to give up the fight, however. His friends tonight insisted that he may come to bat tomorrow with a demand for the passage of his bill without amendment ,except where he himself offers the amendments. He has several which he will offer in order to correct errors of phraseology and other minor mistakes. Mr. Hay, however, will fight to the last ditch all efforts to discard his measure and substitute the Chamberlain bill.

RIPE OLIVE DAY.

Tuesday, May Sixteenth, Chosen by Governor for State Festival.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OROVILLE, March 19.—Tuesday, May 16, will be designated officially as "California Ripe-Olive Day" by Gov. Johnson, who coupled with this announcement today a promise of co-operation of himself and State officials in a State-wide festival in recognition of the advances made in the olive industry.

The announcement was made at a meeting of olive growers and packers, who convened to perfect plans for the celebration.

Can't Stop It.

EL PASO (Tex.) March 19.—Ammunition is being smuggled across the border into Mexico daily, according to a statement made here today from an authoritative source.

The man who made the statement has given the information in his possession to the government authorities. He refused to allow his name to be used.

"I know," he said, "that the military and Federal officials are doing everything in their power to stop the traffic and they are being aided in every way possible by the various local authorities, but the smuggling is still going on. With about 1500 miles of frontier, by far the greater part of which runs through lonely uninhabited places, it is well nigh impossible to completely stop this traffic with the handful of men the government and border patrol have at their disposal. I hope there are no Americans involved in it. If there are they ought to be hanged in public."

VILLA WELL SUPPLIED.

Americans from Mexico express the conviction that the Villistas, or any other bands of insurrectionists will not have their operations curtailed by lack of ammunition. They assert that a generous share of the vast tide of cartridges and other munitions that flowed into Mexico from the United States, Japan, Germany and other sources during the last five years has been cached in various parts of the country, under the control of one or the other of the various factional chiefs.

That large quantities of rifles, ammunition and even a few machine guns are hidden in or around El Paso is a report that has many believers here, although it is scouted by the police and military officials. There is, however, no question that uneasiness is growing here over the attitude and temper of the Mexicans.

Czar's Men Report Success on the Western Front in Poland.

Kaiser's Troops Regain Ground Lost to the British Near Vermelles and Beat off French Assaults in the Le Mort Homme Section Around Verdun—At Thiaville the Allied Dugouts are Destroyed.

PETROGRAD, March 19. (via London.)—The following official communication was issued today:

"Western (Russian) front: In the Riga sector the enemy opened a lively artillery fire on the Ikskull bridgehead and farther south. In the Jacobstadt section there has been an artillery duel in the northern division. In the Vidza region our artillery cannonaded German trenches. The enemy attempted to take the offensive near the village of Medziany and south of Everecz, but was repulsed.

"The enemy artillery was active in the vicinity of Storgonne. Our skirmishers took some enemy trenches in the Upper Stripa region and repulsed a counter attack. In the same neighborhood we repulsed an enemy effort to approach the village of Yusefovka.

"In the Black Sea near the Bulgarian coast our torpedo boats sank a steamer loaded with benzine. They were, thereupon, attacked unsuccessfully by enemy aeroplanes which threw eight bombs. This did not prevent our torpedo boats from taking the steamer's crew aboard.

GERMAN GAIN.

BERLIN, March 19 (via London.)—A successful attack against British lines northeast of Vermelles in which the Germans regained ground they had lost in mine fighting of March 2, was announced today by the War Office.

In the Verdun region, French attempts against Le Mort Homme and east thereof were stopped at the outset.

The text is as follows:

"Western theater: Northeast of Vermelles, southeast of La Bassee canal, after effective artillery preparation and five successful explosions, we captured from the British some [illegible] gains they had obtained in mine fighting on March 2. New, Reliable Pianos at $275.00 Is a Specialty of Ours

Ask to See Some New Styles in Car Just Received.

For many years we have sold the Wellington Piano.

It is the product of the celebrated Cable Company of Chicago.

A description of it sounds just like the description of any other piano, but the work it does, the service it gives, is taking the place of many a $400 instrument in schools, conservatories and studios.

Our experience with it runs over a period of about 15 years.

Today it is our biggest seller (numerically speaking,) with the possible exception of the Ludwig.

No factory in the United States has finer facilities for turning out good pianos at reasonable prices than the Cable Company.

Few retailers have the opportunities for output that we have, covering as we do the territory from Idaho to the Mexican border.

If you need a piano that will look well in your home, that will stand hard practice, that you can get every dollar you put into it out any time within two years in trade on a more expensive one that is sold at the right price, buy

URGES BORAH FOR CHAIRMAN.

Williams of Oregon Tells of Convention Plans.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 19.—Ralph E. Williams, Republican National Committeeman of Oregon and one of the Taft stalwarts of 1912, was one of the early arrivals for today's meeting of the National Committee's subcommittee on convention arrangements. Others who reached the city included former Gov. Franklin Murphy of New Jersey, Fred Stanley of Kansas and William F. Stone of Maryland, for many years sergeant-at-arms of the committee. Mr. Williams declared himself for the selection of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho for temporary chairman of the convention. Senator Borah was one of the Roosevelt floor leaders in the 1912 convention although he refused to leave the Republican party.

"I was one of the meat eaters of the convention four years ago," said Mr. Williams. "I ate as much raw meat as anybody. I was against Roosevelt during the consideration of contests on delegates before the National Committee and throughout the convention.

"But this time I am for the man who can be elected. There is considerable Roosevelt sentiment in Oregon and if Roosevelt is thought to be the strongest man I can accept him and support him to the limit. The Hughes sentiment also is fairly strong. I believe that Justice Hughes could be elected without a doubt.

OREGON FOR CUMMINS.

"The delegates from Oregon probably will be instructed for Senator Cummins of Iowa, but that does not mean that they will not be willing to switch to someone else.

"In the coming convention everything must be done in the open. The people must know exactly what goes on. We must place all our cards on the table. I would be willing to let the Progressives have everything they want.

"I favor the selection of Senator Borah for temporary chairman. I do not know, however, whether he wants the place or not, never having heard from him on the subject.

"I have no idea how the subcommittee stands on the proposition. The most active campaign for the place seems to have been conducted for former Gov. Charles S. Osborn of Michigan. I have had several letters from his boosters."

MURPHY CAUTIOUS.

Former Gov. Murphy, another of the Taft men of 1912, was cautious about discussing candidates. He said the selection of a temporary chairman is up in the air.

"Members of the committee attach extraordinary importance to the selection of a temporary chairman of the convention," said Mr. Murphy. "There is a feeling among most of the members that we must be especially careful to get the right man. For this reason if some member suggests to delay action until April we might decide not to name the chairman at the present meeting.

"Up to date none has been even definitely slated for the post. There is an unusual number of active candidates. Two in particular have been pushed very hard."

"Are those two Senator Borah and former Gov. Osborn?" Mr. Murphy was asked.

"I did not have them in mind," he replied. "But I refuse to allow the names to be drawn out of me by a process of elimination."

OTHERS MENTIONED.

Others who have been mentioned for the temporary chairmanship, include Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, Senator Thomas Sutherland of Utah and Gov. Samuel McCall of Massachusetts.

Mr. Murphy said that the New Jersey delegation would come to the convention unpledged to any Presidential candidate. In discussing President Wilson's chances of re-election he asserted that the President will have trouble carrying his own State.

Mr. Stone said that the Maryland delegation also will come without any strings tied to them.

"The sentiment in Maryland is that the delegates should use their sober judgment in determining the man best fitted for the Presidential nomination," said Mr. Stone. "There is some Roosevelt sentiment and some Hughes sentiment in my State."

CONVENTION ARRANGEMENTS.

Mr. Stone during the afternoon looked over blue prints showing proposed seating arrangements in the Coliseum with the superintendent of the building. Letting of contracts and various other details connected with the convention arrangements will occupy most of the time of the subcommittee.

Charles D. Hilles, chairman, and James B. Reynolds, secretary of the National Committee, together with other members of the subcommittee will arrive tomorrow morning. The meeting is scheduled for 11 o'clock at the Congress Hotel and will continue at least two days.

The committeemen will be the guests of National Committeeman Roy O. West of Illinois at a dinner tomorrow night at the Chicago Club. Henry J. Allen of Wichita, Kan., one of the leading Roosevelt men of the 1912 convention, and later a Progressive party leader, was in the city today.

GERMANS DENY SINKING TUBANTIA.

BERLIN, March 19 (via Sayville,)—No German submarine could have been in the vicinity of the spot where the Dutch liner Tubantia was sunk and no German mines had been laid in that region, the German Admiralty announced yesterday. The official statement said:

"A German submarine is out of the question in connection with the sinking of the Tubantia, as the place where the accident took place is less than thirty miles from the Dutch coast, which means that this place is within the territory declared to be free for shipping by the German announcement of February 4, 1915. It is [illegible] that no German mines [illegible] there."

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 19.—Eastern and Middle Western States continued cold today, showing little change from yesterday. All are below freezing at night and do not reach the thawing stage during the day. Chicago had a maximum of 33 deg. and minimum of 30 deg. There were traces of snow and rain in New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan. Western Canada still shows 2 to 20 deg. below zero, and cold weather is likely to continue.

KELLY IS ELECTED.

Fresno Man Is Made Lieutenant-Colonel of the Second Infantry of the State Guard and Heath a Major.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—Maj. Will Kelly of Fresno, commanding the Third Battalion, Second Infantry N. G. C., and a veteran of the Spanish-American War, at an election held in the State Armory today was selected as lieutenant-colonel of the regiment, succeeding Lieut.-Col. Arthur S. Crites of Bakersfield, who recently resigned because of the press of private business.

Maj. Will H. White of Chico, senior major of the regiment, also was a candidate for the position, but lost out by two votes, the ballot standing 18 to 16.

To fill the vacancy of major, Capt. Benjamin M. Heath of Hanford was elected over Capt. C. H. Fowler of Fresno by a vote of 19 to 14.

VILLA DESERTERS JOIN CARRANZA.

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) March 19.—Five hundred troops of the de facto government, largely boys of from 14 to 18 years of age, arrived at Agua Prieta, opposite here today. They began training preparatory to proceeding to Eastern Sonora, where they will reinforce the garrison guarding the mountain passes of San Luis, Pulpito, Ojitas and Dolores, which lead into Chihuahua. Mexican officials said most of the boys were deserters from Villa.

The situation in Sonora is well in hand, Gen. P. Elias Calles, Military Governor, announced today.

The Governor has asked for the reopening at Hermosillo of the La Colorado Mining Company's property, the only mining property in the State closed when it was announced that an American army would chase Villa. The request has been sent to officials of the company in New York. If the request is denied Gen. Calles said he will take over and operate the mines, but he declared confiscation is not planned, merely an improvement in industrial conditions.

TWO ARE KILLED IN AUTO WRECK.

DUBUQUE (Iowa) March 19.—T. J. Fitzpatrick, an attorney, and his bride of two months were killed and Mrs. Margaret Morrison, mother of the young woman, and Mrs. David Hack, daughter of President Gorman of the Rock Island Railroad, were injured when their automobile left the road and fell down a ten-foot embankment near here this afternoon. The occupants were pinned under the car, which turned over.

MILLIONS GIVEN BY ROCKEFELLER.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Appropriations made by the General Education Board, founded by John D. Rockefeller, "to promote education within the United States," from the time it was organized up to June 30, last, totaled approximately $16,862,000, according to the first installment of the board's annual report for the fiscal year 1914-15 made public today. More than $10,848,000 of this amount already has been expended up to June 30.

GREEKS STARVE; FOOD ABUNDANT.

Prices Soar as Products Rot in Near-by Fields.

Fish in this Fishing Nation Brings Dollar a Pound.

Bad Internal Management is Blamed for Situation.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

ATHENS, Feb. 25.—"Greece is much more likely to be starved into war than Germany is to be starved out of it," said a prominent official of the present Greek government to the Associated Press correspondent. The expression is scarcely accurate, for while the prices of the ordinary commodities of life, and especially foodstuffs, have in many instances doubled and in virtually all instances greatly increased in the past year, the fault is largely with Greece. If there be serious discomfort in the country, it is quite as much due to bad internal management as to the mastery of the Mediterranean maintained by the Franco-British fleet. The "starving" process, therefore, is much more apt to lead to trouble for the present Greek Cabinet than, unaccompanied by any other circumstance, to Greece's enforced participation in the war.

For the common people of Greece the situation is rapidly growing desperate. The streets of Athens are alive with beggars. The Island of Samos is in a state of sporadic revolt. Pireus and Patras have had disquieting demonstrations of popular discontent under the increased cost of living. While a million and a quarter pounds of potatoes rot on the ground in Thessaly for lack of transport, the price of potatoes in Athens has risen from 24 cents to 48 cents a pound in the last year. Yet the second attempt to fix maximum prices of foodstuffs, which went into effect at the end of January, and which is supposed to be rigorously enforced by the police, set the wholesale price of potatoes at 3 1-5 cents a pound, maximum, and the retail price at 4 cents a pound. Potatoes today, therefore, cost twelve times the legal price and double the market price of a year ago, though there is no lack of potatoes within a day's sail of Athens.

SOME OF THE PRICES.

It is much the same with almost every other article of food normally within reach of people of moderate means. No cargoes of rice have been held up by the police boats of the allied powers—yet rice, which in January, 1915, was 4.9 cents per pound, today brings 10.2 cents. Mutton, the principal meat consumed in Greece, was 10 cents a pound a year ago, now it fetches 19 cents—and Greece supplies her own mutton and to spare. Beef was 9.6 cents, now it is 21 cents a pound. Pork was 12.3 cents, now it is 19 cents; chickens were 58 cents, now they bring 72 cents, and the beef, pork and chickens consumed in Greece are raised in Greece. Fresh fish, in a country where fishing is one of the leading occupations, brought 13½ to 15 cents a year ago—and now run from 75 cents to $1.08.

Onions for the peasant's soup cost 1.3 cents per pound in January, 1915; today the peasant must pay 4.8 cents per pound—or eat his soup unflavored. Bread, when it can be had at all, which is by no means always and even then only after hours of waiting in line before the bakeries, is 4.8 cents a pound, against 3.4 cents a pound a year ago.

In some instances, this anomalous situation is due to the control exercised by the allied fleet over the commerce of the Mediterranean. Notably has this been the case with coal and, until recently, with petroleum. It is not that the allied powers deliberately hold up shipments of coal to Greece in order to cripple Greek internal transport, but that the allied nations themselves have none too much coal to spare and certainly no very great number of vessels available for its carriage. If coal is high in Greece, so it is also in France, but the French government has had the foresight to provide against anything like a coal famine, while the Greek government has not.

COAL SCARCE.

It is on this account that from $40 to $50 per ton has been frequently offered for coal at the water's edge, in Pireus, with none to be had even at that price. For whenever coal does reach Greece, it is snapped up by members of the present Cabinet and their friends, to run their own factories—while the Greek navy lacks the coal to enable its ships to police the Greek territorial waters against violations of neutrality. When Admiral Karr, the head of the British Naval Mission in Greece, desired a Greek torpedo boat to come to Messina to fetch him, one of the members of the Greek Cabinet vetoed the order on the ground that if there was coal enough for a torpedo boat to make that trip, he needed that coal in his own business.

Outside of the very questionable integrity and the unquestionable inefficiency with which Greece's resources are partitioned, the next leading cause of the rise in the cost of living in Greece has been the mobilization. With all the most able-bodied men of the country under arms, men are lacking and labor is high. The extraordinary advance in the fresh fish market is due largely to the fact that the greater part of the fishermen of Greece are mobilized. Transport facilities are crippled for the same reason quite as much as on account of the coal famine. Olive oil has risen in Athens from 9⅛ cents in January, 1915, to 16.4 cents in January, 1916, owing to the scarcity of field laborers—for Greece exports olive oil in normal times. In every branch of the economic life of Greece labor is wanting. Prices go up. The bread winner is away, so that the income of the poor goes down. Everywhere the people suffer. Meanwhile 200,000 men in Greece, soldiers at a cent a day, march along the hills of Macedonia—consuming but producing nothing—not even glory.

CARDINAL GOTTI DEAD AT ROME.

ROME, March 19 (via Paris.)—Cardinal Jerome Mary Gotti, prefect of the Propaganda, died today.

Cardinal Gotti was born in 1834 at Genoa and was made a cardinal in 1895. He had been ill for some time. The office of prefect of the propaganda is one of the most influential in the Catholic Church.

COUNTERFEIT GANG IS UNDER ARREST.

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 19.—Capt. Thomas B. Foster of the United States secret service has announced that the last of the gang of counterfeiters who have been circulating spurious $5 Federal reserve bank notes in the larger cities on the Pacific Coast has been arrested. The counterfeit currency first appeared here about March 1. Since that date four men have been arrested in this district and three in San Francisco on charges of possessing or passing counterfeit money.

TORPEDO - BOAT DESTROYER GOES DOWN IN ADRIATIC.

Forty-seven Men and Officers of the Crew are Reported Lost in an Encounter with an Enemy Undersea Craft Which Occurred Early Saturday Morning.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, March 19.—The French torpedo boat destroyer Renaudin has been sunk in the Adriatic by a submarine. Three officers and forty-four of the crew were lost. Two officers and thirty-four of the crew were saved.

The Ministry of Marine made the following official announcement tonight regarding the loss of the destroyer:

"The squadron torpedo boat Renaudin was sunk in the Adriatic by an enemy submarine on the morning of March 18. Three officers, among whom were the commandant and second officer, and forty-four seamen were lost. Two officers and thirty-four seamen were rescued by a French torpedo boat, which accompanied the Renaudin."

The destroyer Renaudin was built in 1913. She registered 756 tons and was 256 feet in length. She was a 30-knot boat, but in her trials had developed 32 knots.

PORTLAND STRUCK BY A HEAVY STORM.

ONE MAN IS KILLED BY A FALLING TREE.

Many Barns and Other Outbuildings are Damaged and a Bolt of Lightning Rips Shingles off the Roof of St. Francis Catholic Church.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) March 19.—A high wind, accompanying an electrical storm, which swept over Portland and environs late today, caused the death of William Marks, a suburban resident, who was crushed to death when a tree fell across his house. A number of barns and other outbuildings in the district southeast of the city were destroyed or damaged.

A thunderbolt struck a spire of St. Francis Catholic Church and traveled to the main roof, where shingles were ripped off over an area of fifty square feet.

Within the space of fifteen minutes in the downtown district, .30 of an inch of rain fell. The detonations of thunder and flashes of lighting were unusually violent. At the time when St. Francis Church was struck no services were in progress, but the Reverend Father Black, the pastor, experienced a severe shock in his study, 100 feet from the main building.

At one point in the city a trolley car was struck by lightning. No one was injured, but the car was totally disabled. Cars throughout the city operated on interrupted schedules.

Y.M.C.A. CLOSE MEET AT SAN JOSE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN JOSE, March 19.—The California Y.M.C.A. convention closed here tonight. This morning special services were held at which eulogies for the dead during the year were read. During the afternoon a women's meeting and a big mass meeting for men were held and in the evening two men's mass meetings were held, Lieut.-Col. Halford and Lyman Pierce being the speakers. This evening a grand farewell service was held.

BUT FEW MORMONS LEFT IN MEXICO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) March 19.—At the present time there are about 500 Mormons in the Mexican colonies. Before the trouble in Mexico, during the past year, there were some 7000, but many of them left the country because of unsettled conditions.

STEEL EARNINGS VAST INCREASE.

Bethlehem Corporation Shows Wonderful Prosperity.

Plan for Government Plant has Alarmed Schwab.

Will Make Armor Plate at a Tremendous Reduction.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 19.—The annual report of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation for 1915, issued here today, disclosed that the net earnings of the corporation and its subsidiary companies, after deducting expenditures, amounted to $24,821,408, as compared with $9,649,667 in 1914, an increase of nearly 260 per cent. Orders on hand December 31, 1915, aggregated $175,432,895, as against $46,513,189, on the corresponding date of the previous year.

The statement by Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of directors, and E. G. Grace, the president, referring to the remarkable recovery of the steel industry from its low ebb prior to the outbreak of the European war, declared that "today there exists an actual shortage of steel-making capacity in this country."

An interesting feature of the report was the statement that the average number of employees of the company in the United States had increased from 15,586 in 1914, to 22,064 in 1915, and that wages paid in 1915 amounted to $21,800,664 as against $14,312,948 the previous year.

GOVERNMENT PLANT.

Calling attention to the bill pending in Congress for the building by the government of an armor plant, Messrs. Schwab and Grace declared that "if such a bill is passed the value of existing armor plants in this country will be virtually destroyed." The Bethlehem Steel Corporation, it was pointed out, now has more than $7,000,000 invested in its plant devoted to this use.

"Recognizing that though the interests of your property should be carefully conserved by your officers, on a matter of this kind," said the report, "your corporation also has an important obligation to the nation of which it is a citizen, your officers have appeared before the Senate Committee on Naval Affairs and urged the defeat of the pending measure. As it is frankly declared that the sole purpose of the proposed enterprise is that the government may secure its armor at a lower price, your officers have submitted the following proposition to the Federal government:

"We will agree to permit any well-known firm of chartered public accountants to inventory our plant and make careful estimates of the cost of manufacture, with that data in hand we will meet with the Secretary of the Navy and agree to manufacture armor at a price which will be entirely satisfactory to the Secretary of the Navy as being quite as low as the price at which the government could possible manufacture armor on its own account, after taking into account all proper charges. As a concrete working basis for such negotiations, Bethlehem Steel Company has offered to manufacture one-third of the armor plate required for the contemplated five-year naval programme (estimated at approximately 120,000 tons) for a price of $395 per ton for side armor, as compared with the price of $425 per ton now obtaining.

"It may be added that while all other steel prices have greatly increased, the foregoing figure at which we now offer to make armor for the United States is not only a lower price than has been paid by the government for more than ten years, but it is also a substantially lower price than is paid for armor by Japan, Austria, Germany, France or England."

"In view of the earnings of the past year," the report continues, "dividends were declared of 7 per cent. on the preferred stock and 30 per cent. on the common stock of your corporation, payable in quarterly installments during 1916.

"With the recent extraordinary market for all classes of steel products and for ships, the various plants of your corporations enter the year 1916 with all departments, with one exception, running at full capacity.

"That exception is the armor plate department. Bethlehem Steel Company has practically completed deliveries to the government on all pending armor contracts. Contracts for the current year have not been awarded."

DIEGUEZ SENT TO CENTRAL MEXICO.

SAN DIEGO (Cal.) March 19.—Advices received here today from Guaymas stated that Lieut.-Gen. Dieguez, who has command of Carranza forces operating against the Yaquis in Southern Sonora, had departed unexpectedly for Central Mexico.

Rumors that could not be authenticated suggested that he had resigned his commission, but it was believed in Guaymas that Dieguez, who is a man of ability and a close friend of Gen. Obregon, will resume his duties as Governor of Jalisco.

Everything was reported quiet in Guaymas and military commanders in the State of Sinaloa were said to have announced that they had received orders to prevent any disturbance and to afford Americans every protection.

captured thirty survivors. A British counter attack failed.

"The town of Lens was again bombarded by heavy British artillery.

"While yesterday passed without special events on the left bank of the Meuse, French attempts early this morning against Le Mort Homme and east thereof, failed from the beginning. On the right bank, artillery activity temporarily increased to very considerable violence. At the same time hand-to-hand fighting developed at several places southward of Douaumont and westward of the village of Vaux, for small defense works.

FRENCH LOSE GROUND.

"This fighting is not yet concluded.

"The French yesterday were driven by German detachments out of the positions at the forestry house of Thiaville, northeast of Badonviller, which we left to them on the fourth of March. After destroying their dugouts, our men remained in their own trenches with forty-one prisoners.

"Mutual aerial activity in reconnaissance and attack was very pronounced. Our aeroplanes attacked railway buildings on the lines from Clermont to Verdun and Epinal, Lure and Vescul and south of Dijon.

"In an enemy aerial attack at Metz three civilians were wounded.

"Of a French aerial squadron which attacked Mulhausen and Habsheim, four aeroplanes were shot down in an aerial fight near Mulhausen. The occupants of the machines were dead.

"At Mulhausen, seven civilians were killed and thirteen wounded. At Habsheim one soldier was killed.

"Eastern war theater: The expected Russian attacks in front of Drisviaty Lake and Poitavy and on both sides of Narocz Lake began with the greatest violence, but the enemy was everywhere repulsed with extraordinarily heavy losses. Before our positions on both sides of Lake Narocz we counted 9270 dead Russians. Our losses were very small.

"South of Wiscniew Lake, there is an increase in the artillery activity.

"Balkan war theater: The situation is generally unchanged.

President Los Angeles Division, International Sales Managers' Association, writes on Thrift:

A SAVINGS Account, should, and I believe does, appeal especially to the vast army of salesmen in our city.

Every salesman is constantly reminded that no sale is ever complete until the credit of the customer has been found satisfactory. Credit and a Savings Account are almost synonymous terms.

Many salesmen handicap themselves by not getting a Savings Account back of them. I know of several salesmen with the ability to succeed in bigger jobs, but having no reserve funds to tide them over a possible period of unemployment, they dare not make the attempt. Truly a Savings Account is the key to the "Door of Possibilities."

AVOID ST. VITUS' DANCE

Physicians are baffled by St. Vitus' dance because it is a nervous disease in which they can find nothing actually wrong with the nervous system.

Long before the child becomes awkward and begins dropping things there is a period in which the appetite is fickle and the patient is tired and listless. The jerking movements characteristic of the disease come much later.

In the early stages a good tonic for the blood and nerves will go far toward preventing the development of the disease. But the tonic must be free from alcohol and opiates for these make the nervous condition worse. When your child appears listless, prefers to sit and read rather than go out and play and requires entirely too much time to get his or her lessons, give a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They cannot do harm, the system is sure to be benefited and you may avoid serious trouble.

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Write for free booklet on "Nervous Disorders."

The Treatment of Influenza or La Grippe

It is quite refreshing these days to read of a clearly defined treatment for Influenza or La Grippe. In an article in the "Lancet-Clinic," Dr. James Bell, of New York City, says he is convinced that too much medication is both unnecessary and injurious.

When called to a case of la grippe, the patient is usually seen when the fever is present, as the chill which occasionally ushers in the disease, has practically passed away. Dr. Bell then orders that the bowels be opened freely with salts, "Actoids" or citrate of magnesia. For the high fever, severe headache, pain and general soreness, one anti-kamnia tablet every three hours is quickly followed by complete relief. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for headache, neuralgia and all pains.

A MAYOR FLAYED.

Cleveland's Executive Gets in Deep for New Year's Hilarity.

"If I was the Mayor's wife I should have taken him home, spanked him and put him to bed," Dr. Bustard said. "And if I were the husbands of the women who kissed him publicly I should have spanked them. Friday night the revelry began with a bombardment of corks," he continued. "Just before 12 o'clock the lights went out and each man jumped from his seat and kissed the woman next to him. What did that woman's husband do if she happened to be with her husband? He either kissed someone else's wife or gave him a punch. In the midst of this bacchanalian orgy walked our Mayor-elect and seemed perfectly at home."

NEW TOWNSITES ARE ORGANIZED.

State Masonic Bodies Elect Officers at Tucson.

Nearly All Border Cities Ask Troops for Protection.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

AJO (Ariz.) March 17.—This locality, on the basis of promised prosperity, already has four townsites, with a gross population for all of about 1000 people. The principal mining company, the New Cornelia, has a townsite of its own name, to which it is expected it will remove its business, after erection of a hotel, an office building and a number of residences and cottages for its employees. The other locations are the Gibson and Clarkdale townsites, the last-named a bit handicapped by the fact that the name already is borne by the smelter town of the United Verde Copper Company in the Verde Valley, near Jerome.

The Valley Bank of Phoenix has opened a branch and still another bank has been established, with promise of a third. Renwick White, a well-known Arizona newspaper man, has sold his paper at San Simon and will start a weekly in Ajo. Building is active and there is general expectation that the camp will have 5000 population within two years. A large number of workmen will be required for the erection of the great concentrator and leaching plant of the New Cornelia Company, and thereafter for the operation of the mine and mill.

MASONS ELECT THEIR OFFICERS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 17.—The annual sessions of the Masonic bodies of Arizona, just concluded in this city, have taken their usual course in centering their offices in this city, under charge of George J. Roskruge, re-elected Grand Secretary of the Blue Lodge and of the Royal Arch and Grand Recorder of the Knights Templars. Mr. Roskruge was Grand Secretary of the first Grand Lodge of Arizona, instituted in Tucson March 25, 1882. The previous October, under a dispensation from the Grand Lodge of California, had been organized the Tucson lodge of the order, wherein Roskruge was Senior Warden.

The first lodge in Arizona was at Prescott, organized under a California dispensation dated April 22, 1865, with John T. Alsap as Master. Alsap later was one of the founders of Phoenix and was its first Mayor. There are now twenty Masonic lodges in Arizona, with gross membership of 2750.

The following-named have been elected to head the Masonic bodies in Arizona for the ensuing term: Grand Master F. and A.M., F. W. Perkins of Flagstaff; Grand High Priest Royal Arch, E. S. Miller of Flagstaff; Grand Commander Knights Templars, Harry T. Southworth of Prescott; Grand Matron Eastern Star, Mrs. Alice Lutley of Tombstone.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) March 18.—At the Arizona Capitol it is said that so many apprehensive border communities have petitioned for military protection that it would take several regiments to gratify all the requests. An additional company of regulars has been sent by Gen. Funston to Yuma, the action meeting with protest from Nogales, whence the command was taken, but which still is garrisoned by more than a regiment.

The local authorities are making no move toward putting Arizona's National Guard regiment on a war footing, though recruiting is said to have been stimulated a bit of late. The regiment has a strength of about 800, in twelve companies. At Tucson, Capt. Sidney Mashbir is organizing a battery of light artillery, though the the intention of offering the force as volunteers, in case of necessity, and not as a part of the Arizona Guard.

Though the Salt River Valley has been well combed for horses by agents of the European allies, advertisements announce that an army quartermaster will be here Monday, to purchase light artillery and cavalry horses.

YUMA IS FIGHTING SMALLPOX SPREAD.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

YUMA (Ariz.) March 14.—Smallpox, a disease common in the past along the international border, especially among the Mexicans, and by them considered of little importance, is to be fought vigorously in Yuma hereafter. Several mild cases of the disease having appeared, despite the lateness of the season, the schools have been closed and will be reopened only to vaccinated pupils. This action has been taken by the Mayor and local health officers on the advice of Dr. R. N. Looney of Prescott, executive officer of the State Board of Health, who investigated the local situation himself. There is no epidemic and no apprehension is felt of any spread of the disease, but no precautions will be omitted. One of these precautions is an order of the City Council forbidding the erection or maintenance of anything save fireproof buildings in the business section, forbidding the erection of adobe or "stick-and-mud" or tin-can buildings and denying the right to repair frame buildings in the flooded section when the repairs are to increase the value of any building more than 2½ per cent.

THE NATION'S PROGRESS.

Total Wealth is Estimated at Over a Hundred Billion More than of Either the United Kingdom or of Germany.

[Wall-street Journay:] At a time when the wealthiest nations of the world are making war expenditures and piling up debts running into billions for future generations to pay, it is profitable to look at the progress of the United States.

An exact inventory of the national wealth is impossible. Official figures are merely estimates, based on all available data. The total wealth estimated as of 1912 was $187,739,000,000. In 1904 it was placed at $107,104,000,000, making an increase of more than 75 per cent. in eight years, or $10,000,000,000 per annum. Counting from 1900, the estimated wealth has more than doubled.

Much of this increase is in the value of land, but the increased prosperity shows in other and substantial ways. In 1900 the total bank deposits were $8,460,000,000. In 1904 they were $10,000,000,000, and in 1914, $18,517,000,000. In round figures they are now $20,000,000,000. The increase in buildings and improvements, farm tools and machinery has kept pace with other increases.

From the farms of the country came $5,000,000,000 of new wealth in 1900, $9,872,936,000 in 1914, and approximately $11,000,000,000 in 1915. Mineral production in 1900 was $1,100,000,000, and this last year $2,500,000,000. The census of 1900 showed the total value of manufactured products at $11,406,000,000; in 1910 they were $20,672,000,000, and now are at least $25,000,000,000. In the period between the two last censuses, capital invested in manufactures increased 105.3 per cent. While employees in these establishments increased but 40 per cent., the amount paid to them increased 70 per cent.—this with an increase of 21 per cent. in the population speaks for the improved conditions of the people.

In railroad development, production of steel, the great amounts spent for educational purposes, and in everything bearing on the welfare of the people, there is the same remarkable increase.

An estimate made in 1909, placed the wealth of the United Kingdom at $88,700,000,000. Two years ago Sir George Paish estimated it at $85,000,000,000. An estimate of Germany's wealth, made in 1909, was $62,500,000,000. In 1913, Dr. Helfferich, of the Imperial Treasury, placed it at a maximum of $80,000,000,000, including investments in other lands.

How these three countries will compare in the decade following the war is a problem for business men to consider.

Wrong Way.

TO GET FOREIGN TRADE.

Our Governmental Policy Has Been of the Disintegrating or Killing Kind by Opposition to Big Business Interests and Railroads.

[Wall Street Journal:] There is not a great railroad in the United States which could not provide a newspaper with an interesting news story every day. The inquiry into the Southern Pacific's ownership of ships is a case in point. The evidence of how not to regulate railroads and how not to secure foreign trade is simply inexhaustible.

It was plain to the late E. H. Harriman that a good Pacific steamship service would help to realize his transcontinental railroad dream. Anybody who knew Harriman will remember that like Cecil Rhodes, James J. Hill and other pioneers, the mere making of money was entirely secondary to getting a big thing done. Harriman wanted to see the American flag on the Pacific, and indeed worked to that end successfully until Congress took it upon itself to paralyze our steamship development. When the Pacific Mail's office in the Far East had to be abandoned in consequence of the La Follette law, Mr. Schwerin, who was Mr. Harriman's appointee, was given feasts by China and Japan to show their appreciation of what he had done.

He received no such testimonial in his native land. The customs officers, following the procedure prescribed for the traveling American, probably examined his baggage, secured a sworn statement, and then called him a liar on the dock. He had seen the Japanese lines built up by intelligent government held. He had seen the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific advance money to the steamship line in order to build up trade. He had seen Congress kill the Pacific Mail's $15,000,000 contract for four big steamers, destined for the Far Eastern trade through the Panama Canal.

He had seen all this trade, through the Panama Canal Act, Interstate Commerce Commission rulings, and the La Follette Seamen's Act, as dead as E. H. Harriman, who had the vision to see a great world trade in the rays of the setting sun, believing daylight would break over the Rocky Mountains in the morning.

Perhaps ex-Secretary Bryan's reply to an American citizen who presumptuously thought he had been injured in Mexico, about covers the case: "Why did you go to Mexico? Wasn't the United States good enough for you?" With all profession of extending our foreign trade, does not this represent the Democratic party idea; one only paralleled by the know-nothingism of the days before the war?

How Fast Nails Grow.

[Pearson's Weekly:] No two finger nails on a person's hands grow at the same rate. The nail on the middle finger grows faster than any other, while the thumb nail is the slowest growing nail. As a rule, too, the nails on the right hand grow faster than those on the left.

The state of one's health, too, affects the rate of growth. The nails on invalid's hands grow considerably faster than on the hands of a healthy person. Taken on the average the rate of growth is an eighth of an inch a month, or from an inch to an inch and a half a year.

First Time in History.

[Indianapolis Star:] This is the first time we can recall when it would have been safe for Portugal to undertake to whip Germany, Austria, Bulgaria and the Turk all at one time.

Women Indorse Sherman.

[Baltimore American:] The Easter hat is under official ban in London as a useless extravagance. And the feminine British public arises as one woman to indorse Gen. Sherman in his famous definition.

FEARS CRISIS WITH GERMANY.

Washington Apprehensive of Submarine Situation.

Question Passes Point Where Compromise is Possible.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, March 19.—A situation almost certain to provide the materials for a more serious crisis with Germany than any which have gone before is growing up almost unnoticed amid the excitement in Mexico and is giving the few officials here who still watch European affairs the gravest concern. The differences over the conduct of the submarine campaign have now passed the possibility of compromise, and at the same time the German policy bids fair any day to take a turn which will make it practically impossible for Americans to escape it. Following briefly stated, are the elements which threaten the very gravest complications:

THE SITUATION.

The United States is bound, not only by law and international honor, but by the recent utterances of the President and the results of his fight with Congress to protect its citizens in the full exercise of their rights.

Germany is forced by her internal needs, as well as by her announced policy, to prosecute her submarine campaign, and if possible to make it a success.

The State Department has taken a position, which makes it impossible to succeed in the submarine campaign and imposes serious risks upon the U-boat crews without invading the rights which the United States must uphold.

The only policy by which Germany can make her submarine campaign a success—that of sinking without warning all vessels in English waters—would make it impossible for Americans to avoid danger by any precaution less drastic than staying home altogether, thus surrendering every right on the seas.

Given these conditions, officials here believe that sooner or later plain and direct conflict between American rights and German action is sure to arise—if it has not already arisen in the Silius, Tubantia, Patria or Palembang cases, on which the State Department has not yet received evidence. Denials have already appeared in some of these cases and disavowals are expected in others, but the administration has about reached the limit of its assimilation of denials and disavowals. What the result of such a conflict will be no one here is ready to predict, but it is [illegible] it would be most serious.

THE CRUX.

The crux of the [illegible] is in the recent [illegible] to armed merchant ships, which [illegible] it practically impossible for the submarines to operate without [illegible] counter to the American view of [illegible] law. Under these rulings the President holds that an armed merchantman is entitled to warning from a submarine, and must be treated in all respects like an unarmed vessel [illegible] deliberately offensive use [illegible] use, of the armament forfeits her non-combatant rights. A merchantman acting offensively only when she [illegible] in search of enemy submarines [illegible] sole purpose of destroying them [illegible] without any idea of self defense.

Firing on a submarine that approaches a merchantman is a [illegible] able measure of self defense [illegible] must be assumed that the [illegible] intend to destroy the merchantman. The merchant captain is entitled under the law of the seas to defend [illegible] property against confiscation or destruction. Orders therefore [illegible] issued by Great Britain to [illegible] ters, instructing them to fire on submarines that pursue them, are [illegible] fensive in character and do not [illegible] the vessel liable to instant [illegible] as an auxiliary cruiser.

These views are now held at [illegible] White House and the State Department. Consequently if Germany sinks an armed ship without warning with peril to American lives, President Wilson must class the crime [illegible] that of the Lusitania, the Arabic [illegible] the Ancona.

CONFLICT SEEMS SURE.

It is believed here that a new conflict with Germany is unavoidable unless she abandons the U-boat war [illegible] there is no hope felt that she will [illegible] this. There is already some [illegible] tion as to the course of [illegible] when the conflict comes. The position of the President is [illegible] been fixed by his letter to Representative Pou and the fight with Congress. Also it is recognized that there is no hope of his reaching an [illegible] with Germany, and achieving [illegible] "diplomatic victory" to which [illegible] rificed so much in the last [illegible] even those who criticise him [illegible] verely believe that there will [illegible] further concessions from him [illegible] can control the situation.

The impending crisis is likely [illegible] hastened and made even more [illegible] by an expected demand from Great Britain for permission to [illegible] ships sailing to American ports [illegible] a few weeks after the outbreak [illegible] war, the United States has had [illegible] formal understanding with [illegible] British merchantmen using American ports should not be armed. This arrangement was made at the [illegible] of the State Department [illegible] passing on the offensive or defensive character of the armament [illegible] case.

It is now believed probable [illegible] Great Britain will force the United States to make public its views [illegible] arming all vessels in the trans-[illegible] trade. It would be impossible for [illegible] government to permit the clearance [illegible] armed British steamers [illegible] under any informal arrangement [illegible] as that made in the case of the Italian ships, and furthermore the [illegible] government would probably not consent to any such arbitrary [illegible] ment of the use of the guns [illegible] imposed on Italy.

Appreciation.

KAISER SHOWS REGRET AT VON TIRPITZ RESIGNATION

LONDON, March 19, 1:40 p.m.—Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent forwards a dispatch from Berlin giving the text of Emperor William's letter to Admiral Von Tirpitz, as follows:

"My dear Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz: After I have, to my greatest regret, seen from your report of your illness and your letter of resignation presented to me on March 13 that you are unable further to conduct the business of the ministry of marine, I comply herewith with your request releasing you from your office of Minister of State and Secretary of the State Ministry of Marine, and I place at your disposal the legal pension.

"I feel myself obliged also on this occasion to express to you my imperial thanks for the excellent services you have rendered the father[illegible] your long career as builder and [illegible] izer of the navy. Especially, I [illegible] point out what you accomplished [illegible] ing the war itself by preparing [illegible] means of fighting in all departments of naval warfare by marine [illegible] tions. Therewith, you added to [illegible] successful work in peace time a [illegible] of honor in the severe times of [illegible] This is gladly acknowledged by [illegible] and by the German nation. I [illegible] will express my appreciation by conferring upon you the Star of [illegible] Grand Commanders, with [illegible] my Royal Order of the [illegible] Hohenzollern, and by ordering [illegible] your name further remain [illegible] naval list.

"With the sincerest wishes for [illegible] further welfare, I remain

BUSINESS WORLD'S EYE ON GERMAN SITUATION

Increasing Evidence that the Kaiser is at Last Weaken-ing is Outstanding Feature—His Defeat Would Mean a World-wide Adjustment of Values — Money Market is Without Pronounced Change.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BOSTON, March 19.—Boston News Bureau summary: The situation: It is good opinion that the strongest feature in the situation today is the increasing evidence that Germany is finally weakening. With the defeat of Germany would come a world-wide adjustment of values and yet this would be partly offset in its effect by a resumption of confidence such as the world never saw before. With perhaps few exceptions the banking world has not discounted the sensational advances in raw products prices.

Business interests believe they detect signs of renewed war purchasing in the United States and Canada by the allies. Guarded inquiries and credit negotiations lend color to this.

The week closes without any pronounced change in the money market. That the tone is slightly firmer is undoubtedly true and yet money seems to be in ample supply where the names or the collateral are of the very choicest grade. Money is firmer in Boston than elsewhere, because money does not accumulate so fast here and because Boston banks are better loaned up. But money rates in New York even are generally 1-4 per cent. above recent low. Boston banks are not greatly interested in outside commercial paper unless makers are willing to talk 3½ per cent.

On call, money to bankers is unchanged at 3 per cent. Time money is quiet and firm at 3 1-4@3½ per cent. for short dates, 3½ per cent. upward for six months and 4@4 1-4 per cent. for a year. In outside commercial paper rates are mostly 3 1-4@3½ per cent. In New York money on call at the Stock Exchange rules at 1 3-4 and 2 per cent. There is no particular change in time money conditions. The tone is dull and firm but rates show no quotable alteration. On all industrial loans 3 1-4 per cent [illegible] for four, five and six months [illegible] business is being done in [illegible] maturities at 3 per cent. [illegible] mixed loans are 3½@3 1-4 [illegible] for sixty days, 3 3-4 per cent for [illegible] days, 3 per cent for four, five [illegible] months. Commercial paper [illegible] and inactive, sales [illegible] made at 3@3 1-4 per cent. [illegible] tions show a tendency to [illegible] the higher rate, but owing [illegible] offerings the choicest [illegible] be moved at 3 per cent.

United States Smelting has [illegible] ent the largest supply of [illegible] in the country. The [illegible] refused to sell lead for ahead [illegible] been conserving its supplies [illegible] year 100,000,000 pounds will [illegible] dled, worth now at 8 cents [illegible]

Some time before June 30 [illegible] Securities will cancel at least [illegible] 000 of its twenty-five-year [illegible] collateral trust bonds of [illegible] but $13,000,000 outstanding [illegible] interest being charged [illegible] 000, or 15 to 20 per cent [illegible] company is now earning [illegible] months. No dividend [illegible] the close of the fiscal period [illegible] with a probable rate of 4 [illegible] Distillers, for the year [illegible] show better than 11 per cent [illegible] stock.

American Writing Paper [illegible] have been running [illegible] ahead of the same week a [illegible] with prices averaging an advance [illegible] 30 per cent.

Chevrolet Motor has been the [illegible] ture of the New York curb [illegible] past week, reaching a new [illegible] mark of 106, an advance of [illegible] within two weeks. Demand [illegible] was such that offerings had [illegible] by controlling interests [illegible] runaway market. [illegible] already earning [illegible] ly. Plans have [illegible] put 150,000 cars [illegible] conservatively [illegible] 000, or 75 per cent [illegible]

BUT THREE DAYS MORE OF THE BIG CLUB OFFER.

Spurred to Endeavor by Offer of Eighty Thousand Bonus Votes and Seventy-five Dollars in Gold, Contestants Make Record Climb in "The Times" Automobile and Prize Contest—All Have a Chance.

TODAY, tomorrow and Wednesday, are the last club days of The Times' big automobile campaign. At 9 o'clock on Wednesday night, March 22, the 80,000 bonus vote offer and $75 gold offer closes. More votes are obtainable on new subscriptions within these next three days than at any later time in the campaign. Out-of-town candidates may work on this offer until the last hour, and then mail their subscriptions at their local postoffice in time to insure the postmark bearing an hour not later than the one mentioned. It is wise to place a special delivery stamp on such remittances, to avoid any possibility of non-delivery.

Honor, personal pride, and their own satisfaction in winning are the potent factors now behind the leading candidates who are daily nearing the end of their struggling race. With only three days of the big club offer remaining, and the realization that the winning votes must be secured now or never, next Wednesday promises to conclude the biggest week of the entire campaign.

Steady and diligent plodding, contrasted with the noise and bustle of whole communities backing their favorite candidates; city candidates surging onward with never a stop, while country contestants are battling with all their might, are features of the campaign. The beauty of it is that all of them have an equal chance to share in the great gift distribution that will come March 29.

There is not one of the candidates but wants to win; nearly all of them have again and again reiterated their determination to be successful at all hazards. Many of them have given assurance that the present special offer will be their way to victory, and the results of their efforts bear out the statement.

Candidates with heretofore low standings are making surprising advances. Every day they creep nearer the top, threatening the position of the leaders. In some cases these late starters have even surpassed the leading competitors.

CLOSE FINISH.

No candidate who is in first place in her district can rest assured that she will remain there. The indications, as stated before, are that the race will be a remarkably close one. Financial ability seems to be pretty much on an even basis. No sooner does one candidate inaugurate some new method of winning support and votes but her contender will spring something a little bit better. Verily, the competition is keen.

Too much stress can not be laid on the fact that the present special offer positively means more votes on new subscriptions than any other time during the campaign. It is also the very last club offer. Neither will any be offered later. Right now, and during the next three days, is the time when your efforts will reap the biggest results. New subscriptions are coming in from every source, and these are of importance to a candidate who hopes to win.

Subscriptions will never be easier to secure than they are right now, and to fail to take full advantage of this offer means that you fail to appreciate the value of the magnificent prizes for which you have been striving, and merely lack the ambition and perseverance to finish what you have already been fairly well started upon. You are the one who is going to benefit by this campaign, and you are the one who must do the striving. Of course, you have your friends and acquaintances who are supporting you, and this is valuable help indeed. But, in the last analysis, it is upon you that the result of your campaign depends.

The way lies open before you, and you must follow the way that leads to victory. The Times has pointed the way and placed the means to follow it at your disposal. You have but to take advantage of them and handle them rightly to come out successfully.

NEARING FINISH.

The last changes in the standings of candidates will be published in Wednesday's Times, and will thereafter not be changed until the end of the campaign and the winners are announced, except in case of corrections of errors.

Candidates who desire to publish a portion of their votes next Wednesday, in order to place their names in a good position, must see that their votes are in the campaign office before 12 o'clock Tuesday noon, March 21.

The next standings as published will remain positively the same during the last week of the campaign, as no changes will be made except to correct mistakes that may exist.

Every candidate must be entered in proper district in order to share in the distribution of prizes, and if you know of any other candidate who is entered in the wrong district, it is your duty to write the campaign manager at once. Also, see that your correct name and address appears in the list, so that any important mail sent you will be delivered promptly.

Address all your communications to the campaign manager and you will receive prompt acknowledgement of same. Be sure and watch The Times every day for important final instructions regarding the close of the campaign.

Edward Maynard Writes Mother in Los Angeles He Has "Gone Dippy."

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OMAHA (Neb.) March 19.—Edward J. Maynard, former instructor of nurses at the Iowa State Hospital at Clarinda, Iowa, last night shot and killed his wife of two months and then committed suicide. There was no apparent motive for the crime. Mrs. Maynard was a nurse at the Iowa State Hospital before she married Maynard. In a letter addressed to his mother, Mrs. A. M. Heath, Los Angeles, Maynard expressed the belief that he had "gone dippy or something," and bade her goodby.

CARRIED A FORTUNE IN HIS VEST POCKET.

REDWOOD CITY (Cal.) March 19. Discovery of a negotiable check drawn upon a Philadelphia bank in the vest pocket of the late Truman J. Jewell, a pioneer of Belmont, Cal., caused the estate of the dead man to leap from $20,000 in the real estate, to $80,000. Validity of the check was ascertained by telegraph.

The administrator of the Jewell estate found the check, which was drawn for $60,000, in a vest worn by Jewell, who was a bachelor, up to a short time before his death. The sum represented the price paid for a piece of Philadelphia real estate.

The entire estate was left by will to five nieces—Jewell D. Sornbargen of Massachusetts, and Seraph J. Deal, Emily J. Deal, Sarah M. Deal and Adeline C. Huntley of Philadelphia.

At Your Service—always!

OPENING

YOU are cordially invited to attend the opening of this magnificent new grocery store. It is dedicated to your service—another big forward step of an institution that is building its future by catering to your convenience and satisfaction.

1500-1520 West Washington Street
at Ellendale

Service—perfect, faultless service—quick accessibility to every section of the city, insuring more prompt and frequent delivery than ever, and a new and accommodating closing hour—7 o'clock—these are the factors that determined the location of this new store at the actual center of the city.

The opening of this new store will enable the Walter E. Smith Co. to render an even more satisfactory service than has been possible from its downtown stores.

Tokens, appropriate to the opening occasion, will be presented to each visitor. From 2 until 7 p.m.

Our Many Drug Stores.

[Boston Transcript:] There is a drug store for every 2000 inhabitants in the United States and a physician for every 667 inhabitants, according to a census of the drug trade just completed by the Pharmaceutical Era. There are 46,561 retail druggists located in 15,037 cities and towns. There are 280 drug jobbing houses including 12 that are owned by retail druggists on a co-operative plan.

On the basis of these figures there are 165 retail drug stores for every wholesale drug house. The number of physicians in the United States is estimated at 150,000, making an average of one drug store for every three physicians.

Slapped Face in Court.

[New York Sun:] A new cure for slapping faces has been demonstrated by Police Judge Quinn of Canton, O., who has become noted for original sentences he hands down. Thomas Nickols was before him on the charge of slapping the face of Mrs. Bessie Mare, proprietor of the boarding house where Nickols lives. Mrs. Mare was on the witness stand.

"Demonstrate to the court just how Nickols slapped you," she was ordered by the judge. She took the order literally and going up to Nickols gave him a resounding whack across the face with her open hand.

"About that hard, Judge," she said.

"About thirty days in the workhouse for you," the judge ordered, addressing Nickols, as he called the next case.

NEWSPAPERS OF CHINA ASK FAIR DEAL OF JAPS.

Monarchical Journals Insist that Tokio Demonstrate Beyond Shadow of Doubt Whether She is Supporting the Revolutionary Movement in Passive, if not in an Active, Manner — Situation Regarded as Acute.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

PEKING, March 16.—Monarchical papers throughout China continue to call upon Japan for action which will show beyond a shadow of a doubt that she is not supporting the revolutionary movement in a passive, if not an active, manner. The expulsion of Chinese agitators from Japan and the suppression of Japanese newspaper reports alleged by the Chinese to be responsible for sedition in China are demanded by the supporters of Yuan Shi-kai.

The following from the Peking Daily News, the semi-official mouthpiece of the Yuan Shi-kai government, is typical of the view expressed by vernacular papers in most of the larger cities:

"Any fiction lover would be well advised to secure translations of the telegrams which have been and are appearing in the Japanese newspapers published in Tokio and Osaka in regard to the situation in China. As flights of imagination they cannot be surpassed. Every day they tell of great victories by the rebels over the loyal troops; and of the secession of provinces, districts and towns. If the newspaper reading public of Japan believes what is published they must have gained the impression that the whole of the south of China is in revolt and that the seriousness of the situation cannot be over-estimated. A study of these telegrams shows that those which are most brazenly false originate from Chungking. One, a translation of which appeared in the Japan Chronicle of January 16, said:

"'The attitude of the commander of the Chungking troops is uncertain, and the situation in the town and neighborhood is threatening.' Let us turn from this to a special message just received in Peking from Chungking. It states that a certain Japanese named Hikawa, of a firm known as Sin Li, has been spreading rumors to the effect that independence has been declared in various places in Szechuan and that revolts were occurring in other parts of the province. He personally called upon a high military officer in Chungking and urged him to declare independence and recommend that if any of his junior officers refused to join the movement they should be executed. Hikawa explained that by taking this action the northern troops would be prevented from coming and it would be possible to help the Yunnan rebels to amalgamate the southern provinces into a republic. The high military officer concerned rejected the man's overtures with scorn and handed him over to the Japanese Consulate for punishment.

"These facts speak for themselves. A Japanese subject is showing his practical sympathy with the rebels by endeavoring to seduce loyal troops from their duty. Simultaneously the Japanese newspaper in Peking, the Shuntien Shihpao, is preaching sedition daily and making offensive personal attacks upon the Emperor-elect. The Japanese government has asked for the postponement of a mission from China, the chief object of which was to strengthen the friendly relations between the countries. A high Japanese military officer who is said to have had associations with the revolutionaries of 1911 and the rebels of 1913, has been sent to Shanghai, one of the centers of rebel activity, upon a mysterious mission. Most significant of all, the revolt in Yunnan was the direct outcome of the uncalled for and unnecessary advice given by Japan in October, last. The situation in China is being misrepresented by Japanese newspapers and encouragement thereby afforded to the Chinese anarchists who have found refuge in Japan and elsewhere.

"We do not suggest that Japan is officially countenancing the rebels. What we do claim is that her failure to give any tangible proof that she is sincerely desirous of seeing peace maintained in China is affording the rebels almost as much encouragement as an open declaration that Japanese regards their activities with sympathy. To give that proof would be easy. All that is required is a suppression of the activities of these Japanese subjects who are engaged in rebel propaganda and refusal to allow Japan to be used as a rebel base. A point that the Japanse government can scarcely fail to appreciate is the abstention of all foreigners other than Japanese from actions calculated to assist the rebels. There are other foreign newspapers besides the Shuntien Shihpao published in Peking, but they are not found abusing the Emperor-elect or encouraging rebellion. There are other foreigners besides Japanese in Chungking and other centers adjacent to the disturbed area, but they are not found sending out lying messages and endeavoring to persuade loyal troops to revolt. It can hardly be suggested that the explanation is to be found in the lack of control that the Japanese government is able to exercise over its subjects. The explanation is to be sought elsewhere. We would suggest to the Japanese government that it would be well for Japan's reputation if it were openly to announce that it discountenances the efforts of its subjects to accentuate local troubles in China and then took some steps to show that it was in earnest."

The Cure-all in China.

[World Outlook:] China is overrun with Japanese patent medicines. The ignorance of the great mass of the people makes them particularly gullible. On a poster scattered very widely over the Province of Fukien is a list of all the diseases a certain medicine will cure. The claims are exceedingly comprehensive. Then, at the end of the list, the poster goes on to observe: "If there are any other diseases not mentioned in the list above that are peculiar to your locality, be sure it will cure them, too."

EUROPE A SLAVE OF TRADITION.

MUST HAVE INFUSION OF BLOOD FROM AMERICA.

Prince of Monaco Says the People of the Warring Nations Cannot Change Without Foreign Aid, and Wars will Some Time Devastate that Part of the World.

[Cincinnati Inquirer] It is to America that the Prince of Monaco looks for the regeneration of Europe.

"The only chance for the survival and future civilization of Europe," said he, in receiving an American correspondent, "is the infusion of American blood into European peoples, and if such a thing were possible," he added smilingly, "I would like to see the best physiological means used for the purpose of injecting it. No country has done more for the progress of humanity than America, and it is only by learning from America that there ever can be such a thing as a United States of Europe.

"But there is this difficulty. European peoples are the slaves of tradition. It is in their blood, resisting every tendency to change. They live, as it were, in a web of race prejudices and customs and ideas which only the adoption of the American outlook can alter. If this change does not take place, and there should be three or four more wars in the modern style, Europe will become a desert.

"Every war sows the seed of other wars. Many colonels of regiments will tell you that the first 200 of their men killed in battle are always the finest men in the regiment, and thus war takes away the best of the race and leaves its reproduction to those of inferior quality. A few more such wars and Europe will be devastated, and those who are left with any strength or spirit will seek another sphere for their energies. That is why the peace at the end of the war must be established on such strong elements that the future may be for a long time preserved against brutal force, and on [illegible] that will lead to further wars by unjust treatment toward the independence of any nation."

As to the possible basis of such a peace, Prince Albert said:

"The best basis is that of nationality. It is a complicated problem, but with the exercise of good will not be insoluble. On this principle there need be no intrusion of political or extra-territorial ambitions. Politics will become internal, not movements invading other countries.

"Of all the regrettable features of the war," Prince Albert added, "none is more regrettable than the loss by Germany of her splendid opportunity for benefiting humanity.

"Germans were everywhere received by all other countries in a friendly and admiring spirit. They were regarded without distrust and the greatest attention was paid to what Germany was doing, or thought to be doing, for progress and the advance of civilization. There was much in her efforts and achievements to admire. Her internal administration, for instance, is the best in the world, and there was much else that other peoples might have learned from her with advantage. But this opportunity the Germans have now compromised by grave mistakes; and for years to come they have alienated the sympathies and lost the confidence of other nations."

Prince Albert of Monaco has won a more solid reputation as an oceanographer and man of science than as the ruler of the small but famous principality from which he takes his title. When not engaged on ocean exploration, he usually resides in Paris. His chief part in the war is concerned with the maintenance of about 1000 beds in his principality for the use of the wounded, and with the hospitable entertainment at his spacious "hotel" in the Avenue du Trocadero, of a weekly batch of four homeless soldiers on war leave from the front.

The Roof of the World

General Roofing Manufacturing Co.

"From Greenland's icy mountains,
From India's coral strand,
Where Afric's sunny fountains
Roll down their golden sand;
From many an ancient river,
From many a palmy plain,
They call us to deliver"
Their heads from sun and rain.

You will find CERTAIN-TEED affording equal protection from the snow and ice of the Arctic, and the sun and rain of the Tropics. It is literally "the roof of the world".

Making roofing is the General's chief business. He makes one third of all roll roofing made in America—39 other manufacturers make the balance. Such predominance is due to the General's ability to make the highest quality roofing at the lowest cost.

Every advantage that men, money, mills and machinery can offer is used to increase production, maintain quality and lower the cost.

The result is that today CERTAIN-TEED, the world's best quality, costs less than inferior roofing cost 10 years ago.

CERTAIN-TEED is made of the best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with a scientific blend of soft asphalts, the formula of the General's board of expert chemists. It is then coated with a blend of harder asphalts, which keeps the inner saturation soft and prevents the drying-out process so destructive to ordinary roofing.

CERTAIN-TEED is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years according to ply (1, 2 or 3). Experience proves that it lasts longer.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-surfaced shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate the merits of CERTAIN-TEED before you decide on any type of roof.

PORT ITEMS.

The steamer George W. Elder of the California South Sea Navigation Company first arrived today from Balboa, via Mexican ports, and proceeded to San Francisco, after discharging a partial cargo of coffee and hardwood lumber. She had nearly forty passengers, most of whom left the vessel here. The Elder called at Ensenada yesterday to land forty-eight Japanese and Hindus from Salina Cruz, but for some reason not explained the authorities there refused to permit them to land and they will have to be taken back to Salina Cruz on the next sailing.

Lumber carriers arriving today were the San Gabriel from Umpqua, Hornet, from Puget Sound, Shasta from Portland, and Celilo from San Diego.

The tug Dauntless arrived today from San Francisco with the schooner John E. Heston, Jr., in tow. The schooner was formerly the John G. North, and has been purchased by John E. Heston for a floating cannery, to be used in tuna fishing in connection with the Van Camp cannery here.

The American-Hawaiian steamer Georgian arrived today from New York and will discharge a partial cargo here, proceeding to San Francisco with balance of cargo. With the arrival of the Floridian, the next steamer due here, the service of the American-Hawaiian line will be discontinued indefinitely.

NORTHERN SHIPPING.

Departed: Steamer Edith, Balboa.

Dying Man's Last Request.

[Indianapolis News:] Realizing that he was gradually dying, Karl Kellams of Evansville, Ind., three days before his death, asked his wife to buy a black mourning dress and veil so that he could see her as she would appear at the funeral. To satisfy him, Mrs. Kellams dressed in mourning and stood at his bedside. Kellams had been sick of tuberculosis for some months.

More Shoe Troubles.

[Indianapolis News:] No wonder the Indiana shoe dealers think that something ought to be done about the women's shoe styles! If they can't think of anything else they might try the plan of some of the more cautious laymen, and use smoked glass.

The price of ticket, which includes all necessary expense of travel, round-trip transportation, berth on train and all meals, as well as auto rides and entertainments at different stopping places, is

Here, over historic ground, where early Californian adventurers—soldiers and padres too—took weeks to tramp over the rich soil and to cross the flowing streams, the excursionist travels smoothly, with modern conveniences and vehicles of rapid transit.

The following towns will be visited by The Times excursionists—Bakersfield, Corcoran, Porterville, Hanford, Laton, Fresno, Reedley, North Dinuba, Cutler, Redbank, Exeter, Lindsay, Visalia and Tulare.

Reservations are now being taken for this trip. As the party will be limited, applications should be made within the next few days.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Delegate to Report.

Rev. Eucario M. Sein, delegate from the Methodist Episcopal Church to the Congress on Christian Work that met at Panama, will make a report at 10:30 o'clock this morning to the Congregational ministers of the parish-house of the Frist Church in Hope street. Rev. James D. Eaton, for thirty years a missionary to Mexico, will also speak.

Kansans to Meet.

A programme of unusual merit has been prepared for the next meeting of the Kansas Association of Los Angeles, to be held Wednesday evening in The Times assembly hall. Hhe entertainment will consist of music, dancing, recitations, refreshments and songs. If you are from Kansas you will be welcome.

Arrange Interesting Programme.

There will be a nunmber of interesting talks at the Advertising Club luncheon at the Clark, Tuesday, by men well qualified to be referred to as experts. The programme is one of the most attractive yet submitted to the club and all members are urged to attend. Larry Altmayer, T. M. Denison, W. H. Thorndike, James Rogan and Fred Mace are some of the men who will speak.

Sales Managers to Meet.

The International Sales Managers' Association will hold an important meeting Wednesday evening, when officers and directors will be elected and an excellent programme rendered. Rubin Jaffe and assistants, under the direction of George M. Wessels, will give a demonstration in salesmanship. H. E. Thompson will sell some apartment-house fixtures while star critics will pick flaws in the methods used in disposing of the goods.

Grand Allied Concert.

Under the auspices of the Caledonian Club, a grand allied concert will be given at Trinity Auditorium Wednesday evening. The proceeds will be given to the French war orphans, Belgian homeless and Serbian refugees. Among the artists who will take part in the programme are Mrs. Louise Marie Better, Mrs. Ione Kisselburg, Henri La Bonte, H. C. Cassidy, Charles Henry de la Plate, Miss Audrey St. Clair Creighton, Sydney Francis Hoben, Miss Margaret Bitter.

ALASKA'S WONDERFUL GLACIERS

Within Five Days of Seattle are Finest in World.

[Leslie's:] A glacier is a gigantic field of ice pushing its appalling weight from the mountain fastnesses into the sea. Columbia glacier is from 300 to 400 feet high and extends for over four miles. It has been calculated that its area of ice would cover a large fraction of the entire State of Rhode Island. It was a beautiful, inspiring spectacle spread before our eyes at high noon the 29th of July on the way to Valdez. The summer morning had been warm—too warm for comfort on the sunny side of the steamer. About 11 o'clock the air began to cool. Cakes of ice and icebergs, some of them 100 feet long and over twenty feet high, began to drift by. Gradually in the distance we saw the outline of the marvelous and imposing Columbia glacier.

We need not go to Europe to see glaciers. Here they are within five days of Seattle—the finest in the world, and "all in America." Everybody was on deck, drinking in the magnificent spectacle. Nearer and nearer the Watson drew. The vast field of ice was sweeping across the horizon, showing masses of clear, translucent blue, masses of gray and others of shaded brown, sloping at the ends into a dark line of snow, ice and gravel. The steamer moved cautiously until the excited passengers with exclamations of delight found that they were within 1500 yards of the magnificent glacier. The warmth of summer had given way to the coolness of winter, as the stiff breeze from the enormous mass of ice swept by. The glacier's sea line was streaked and splintered. At the center a mammoth cave extended a thousand feet. Enormous masses of the crystalline palisade broke off at intervals and fell into the sea with the sound of distant thunder. The shrill bugle call to lunch sounded, but the passengers were deaf to the call that had been always welcomed. They stood enthralled and left the deck only when the steamer turned back on its course, and the glacier was slowly lost from view.

Can't Select the Time.

[New York Sun:] Mr. Choate says that the people have a right to "change their President." But they can't always do it in time.

Our Queer Language.

[Boston Transcript:] "Poor Blank has broken down."

"Feels badly about it, too, I suppose."

Compilation.

WAR LOANS ENORMOUS.

Estimated at Twenty-nine Billions for All Belligerents—Debts of Britain Tripled; Those of the Other Fighting Nations Doubled.

European war loans have exceeded a total to date of $29,000,000,000, according to a compilation made by Dow, Jones & Co. of New York and given out recently. These figures represent a doubling of the debts of every country at war with the exception of Great Britain, whose debts, due to the assistance given by her to her allies, have tripled.

Great Britain's debt, according to the statement, is still less than that of France and also of Germany, providing the obligations of the German states are included. Of great Britain's total war loans of almost $8,000,000,000, approximately $2,500,000,000 has gone to her allies. Following is a table showing the approximate war debts of the leading belligerent nations in billions of dollars:

	Previous war debt.	War loan.	Present debt.
Great Britain	$ 3,485	$ 7,670	$11,155
France	6,607	6,590	13,197
Russia	4,537	4,117	8,654
Italy	2,836	1,465	4,301
Total for Allies	$17,465	$19,842	$37,307
Germany	5,198	6,415	11,613
Austria-Hungary	3,970	2,547	6,517
Turkey	640	214	854

Note—In above table 000,000 omitted.

The total charges of the war to the allies, according to the statement, is about $20,000,000,000, while the cost to the central powers has been about $10,500,000,000. The cost of the war at present is estimated at the rate of more than $100,000,000 a day, or $36,500,000,000 a year.

Baffling.

WHEAT IS A PUZZLE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, March 19.—The wheat situation is unique. It puzzles the best informed traders by its unexpected changes. Bearish statistics, with prospects of a carryover of about 180,000,000 bushels against 55,000,000 last year, are offset, in a measure, by an unfavorable crop outlook in the winter wheat country and indications of a decreased acreage in the American and Canadian Northwest.

There also are signs of reduced acreage abroad, Russia being reported as 20 per cent. short.

While the United States will not raise as much wheat this year, the prospects are that the shortage will be offset by the large carryover. This probability tends to neutralize the effect of the numerous unfavorable crop reports being received.

When Cats were Protected.

[London Daily Chronicle:] During the middle ages cats were so scarce in Germany—where they are now being taxed by some municipalities—that laws were enacted for their special protection, and fines were imposed on those who killed or injured them. In Wales, too, a law was passed so far back as 938 fixing the price of cats according to their ages and qualities, and enacting that "if anyone steals or kills the cat that guards the prince's granary he is to forfeit a milch ewe, its fleece and lamb; or as much wheat as when poured on the body of the cat, suspended by its tail with its head touching the floor, would form a heap high enough to cover the tip of its tail."

Dear Friend:-

There is always one best place in each line of business in every city. Ours is certainly not only the best but is absolutely exclusive.

Here you will find artistic creations in the different lines of leather goods that no other store can show. We take pleasure in making ourselves agreeable to shoppers and would be glad to have you call at any time and look over our most desirable line of LADIES' HAND BAGS.

The new 1916 INDESTRUCTO Trunks are here and they are really marvelous. We considered the 1915 INDESTRUCTOS wonderful, but the 1916 models show a great advancement and are irresistible. They are greatly improved in interior arrangement for convenience and in artistic appearance. You have not the best or most conveniently arranged trunk unless you have one of the 1916 models.

The new line of INDESTRUCTO Leather Goods is also on display and we are delighted with the fine appearance of the new Suit Cases and Traveling Bags. They are thoroughbreds and we can most enthusiastically recommend them to those discriminating people who desire luggage of a better and different class than is kept in the ordinary trunk stores.

Trusting that we may have the pleasure of having you call and seeing you in person, we are

Yours most cordially,

INDESTRUCTO LUGGAGE SHOP

P.S. - We fully intended writing you personally the above letter but when we figured there were over 200,000 other friends we wanted to write the same letter, we found that it would require months of steady work to accomplish this and that would cause many to miss some of the good things while new. The publications in which this letter will appear reach over 225,000 persons in one day and we decided to have you and all others get the letter today. Kindly consider it a personal letter.

READY TO FILE THE PETITIONS.

Loyal Republicans Nominated to Attend Convention.

Thousands Must Register Anew or be Disfranchised.

Pernicious Advice to Voters Costs State Big Sum.

After a whirlwind campaign, the nominating petitions for Republican delegates to the national convention will be filed this morning with Registrar McAleer. He will probably have them checked up and ready for shipment to the Secretary of State tomorrow.

While it was no little task for a voter to sign the petitions, it being necessary to attach the signature, address, precinct number and time of signing to each of twenty-six petitions, loyal Republicans did not hesitate, and Saturday night the announcement was made that more than enough names had been signed.

The Republican delegates from Southern California, representing the Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh districts, including two delegates-at-large, are all pledged to support a Republican, not a Bull Mooser, at the Chicago convention. They are:

Delegates-at-large—Ex-Judge Walter Bordwell and Mrs. Cornelius Cole, Los Angeles.

Registrar McAleer announced yesterday that all nominating petitions including all political parties must be filed in his office by midnight Thursday.

MANY DISFRANCHISED.

Official announcement in San Francisco Saturday that no one can vote a party ballot at the August primaries without having stated his party affiliation at the time of registering came as no surprise to readers of The Times. Months ago this newspaper advised the voters to register their party affiliation, while other organs told them it was not necessary, arguing that the amendment passed at the recent extra session of the Legislature would not be referred to the people, and as a result the new law eliminating party lines would prevail.

All members of all parties, including some of the Progressives, unalterably opposed to the Johnson plan of nonpartisan elections, it was plain that the referendum would be supported. Now there is no question about it. Approximately 47,000 signatures are all that are necessary to call an election under the referendum law and reports from the referendum campaign managers are to the effect that more than that number of names have been signed to the petitions.

The effect of the malicious information disseminated by the selfish interests in control of the State government will be far-reaching, it is stated. It will be the cause of the disfranchisement of no less than 100,000 voters in California. In Los Angeles county, nearly 85,000 men and women have been fooled into refusing to state their party affiliations. It is estimated that the total in the State is fully 200,000. All of them still have a chance to participate in the August primaries, but to do so they must first go to the Courthouse and reregister. It is believed that not more than half of them will go to that much trouble.

COSTLY.

In addition to the wholesale disfranchisement, to correct the evil will cost the taxpayers an immense sum. If half of those who accepted the advice of the Johnson combine, de-

DEATH VALLEY RAIL MERGER.

Tonopah and Tidewater to Sell Part of its Ryan Branch and Abandon Rest.

Death Valley is to have a rail merger, for the Tonopah and Tidewater Railway Company filed an application with the State Railroad Commission, Saturday, for authority to abandon a portion of its Ryan branch in Inyo county by selling four miles to the Death Valley Railroad Company, and tearing up the remaining three and one-half miles of track.

The Ryan branch was built from Death Valley Junction to the Lila C mine, the borax deposits of which furnished all the traffic. Now the mines are closed and the settlement deserted. The Death Valley company has been operating four miles of the branch, under a third rail arrangement, in connection with its narrow gauge line to the Biddy McCarty borax mines. The Tonopah line will take up the third rail before conveying the property to the Death Valley corporation, as it will not be needed. The commission is asked to fix a price to the latter company.

PLAIN FOOD TO SOLVE PROBLEM.

Many are Starving Below Line, Says Mexican Refugee.

Escape from Villa Territory Due to Code Message.

Declaring that American corn and beans will do more toward solving the Mexican situation than arms or force, Fred M. Webb of the Frederick apartments of this city, arrived in Los Angeles last evening, having escaped from Mexico with twenty other Americans on a secret warning sent to the operators of the Tajo mines. The mine, forty miles south of Mazatlan, has a secret wireless equipment, Mr. Webb said, and the mine operators were warned to flee.

This action was advised by Americans at Mazatlan on receipt of a long message in code from Washington that could not be translated because the code book was lost. One phrase was known in the message and that was the ominous word, "ultimatum to Carranza" and the Americans were advised to flee. They arrived here by boat yesterday.

"Food and food alone will solve the situation in Mexico," declared Mr. Webb. "There is not a bushel of corn or beans for sale in many parts of the interior of Mexico. Men who have food can command any kind of service and they are thriving. The most fertile valleys in the world lie idle, the owners having fled and the stock has been driven off. The Yaqui Indians, that unconquerable race, have had to yield to hunger and they are willing to go anywhere and do anything for corn for their families. Given corn and peace Mexico will respond instantly and become a thriving country.

"The condition in Sinaloa is terrible. All bridges, depots, ranches and many houses have been wantonly destroyed. Ranchers are afraid to work their ground and the suffering is incredible.

"On the West Coast I saw probably 35,000 soldiers, but they are only held together because in the army they get food for themselves and families. There is hardly a chance of armed resistance against trained soldiers. They do not want to fight, they want food.

"But most of all they want to see their country restored to a basis of peace. The Mexican people are in the most deplorable plight that can be imagined. War-torn Europe can find nothing equal to conditions as they are at present in interior Mexico."

SANTA FE TO BUY LINE.

Joins Laton and Western in Application for Authority to Take Over Entire Capital Stock of Fresno County Railroad Twenty Miles Long.

The Santa Fe and the Laton and Western Railroad Company filed an application with the State Railroad Commission Saturday, asking authority for the latter to sell to the former the entire capital stock of the Laton company. The Laton company's line runs from Laton, on the valley division of the Santa Fe in Fresno county, twenty miles in a general northwesterly direction, and joins the main line of the Santa Fe. The total stock outstanding is $300,000.

The line since its completion has been operated by the Santa Fe. Approximately $200,000 worth of bonds have been issued by the Laton company, of which $178,000 have been sold and delivered to the Santa Fe for work and material furnished by it in building the line. The lease of the Laton line to the Atchison company expires tomorrow, and both companies want to unite the line by the sale to the Santa Fe.

NEW MOTION PICTURE ORDINANCE UP TODAY.

THE ordinance regulating public exhibitions of motion pictures and creating the office of Commissioner of Films and Pictures, will have another inning—probably the final one—when it is taken up for consideration by the Public Welfare Committee of the City Council this morning. It is understood the measure in its revised form meets the approval of the motion-picture producers, who have accepted it as a compromise and will offer no opposition to its passage.

The proposed law forbids the exhibition or display of any picture or film delineating the human form in such detail as a offend public morality or decency. Also taboo, under the measure, is the showing of any lewd or lascivious act, or any other matter or thing of an indecent or immoral nature or offensive to the moral sense. It will also be unlawful to picture any murder, suicide, robbery, hold-up, stabbing, clubbing or beating of any human being.

None of the reputable motion-picture producers desire to violate such provisions, it is asserted, and they are said to be unanimously in favor of it. Some of the leading producers are expected to appear before the committee and argue in favor of the proposed law. They will declare the motion-picture business has elevated itself to the point where the restrictions provided in the usual ordinance are objectionable to them.

It is for the purpose of enforcing the proposed provisions of the ordinance, and no other, that the office of commissioner of films and pictures will be urged. The commissioner will be appointed by the Mayor, subject to the confirmation of the City Council.

No person, firm or corporation, under the ordinance, will be permitted to rent, sell or give away, for exhibition in the city, any motion picture unless it has been approved by the commissioner. The proposed law provides, however, that if a picture has been approved by any censor or board of censors, recognized by the commissioner, it may be exhibited without his approval or consent, but it is provided that if the commissioner shall find any obscene or objectional picture that has been passed by the censor or censor board, he must issue an order to the exhibitor forbidding such exhibition. Each exhibition of a forbidden picture will be considered a separate offense.

The commissioner is to have free access to any place at which is held or given any public exhibition at which motion pictures are shown, and it is an offense, punishable by a fine for anyone to deny him access.

Another interesting feature of the proposed law is the provision demanding that the theaters or other places where motion pictures are shown must be lighted to the extent that the features of any person in such place or room or building may be distinguished at a distance of not less than [illegible] feet from such person during the hours when such place is open to the public.

The ordinance fixes a fine of not more than $500 or imprisonment in the City Jail for not more than six months as the penalty for violation of any of its provisions.

PEOPLE DEMAND VOICE IN POWER EXPENDITURE.

Improvement Associations Father Proposition to Allow Electorate to Decide Whether City Shall Duplicate Existing Distributing Systems or Wholesale to Private Corporations and so Secure Quick Revenue Return.

"SHALL the city duplicate any of the existing electric distributing systems or shall it make fair arrangements for the distribution of the city electric current over and by means of existing poles and wires, and thereby have the advantage of a speedy and large revenue?"

This is the question that will be put upon the ballot at the next city election, if the present plans of those opposed to the policy of the Bureau of Power and Light, are worked out.

Already this question is up before the various improvement associations of the city, and tonight a resolution to this effect will be acted on at a meeting of the Brooklyn Heights Improvement Association at the Bridge-street schoolhouse.

Already the Malabar Improvement Association, the West Tenth-street Improvement Association, and the Melrose Improvement Association have passed this resolution. The North-East-West Improvement Association has been instrumental in holding a number of mass meetings on the subject, and similar resolutions have been introduced at the South Park, East Jefferson and the Dayton-avenue organization.

With the long delay and wide variety of estimates as to cost, profits to be expected and the portions of the city to be served, it has only required the publication of the fact that the ultimate plan of the city calls for $22,000,000 for power production, and $8,000,000 for distribution, to make the power question one of the most important in the city.

FRIGHTENED.

Added to this, the project to increase the basis of property valuation for taxing purposes has frightened a large number of small property holders into the belief that additional bond issues are planned, with the result that there is an insistent demand throughout the city to have this question settled.

R. W. Kelley, who introduced the resolution calling for a vote by the people upon the distribution problem at the Malabar association, said yesterday: "There are really two propositions in the last analysis that the people have to choose between—either they must go ahead and vote all of the $30,000,000 which will be ultimately asked for by the power bureau, distribute the power, carry on the ruinous competition with the companies, and at the same time fight to secure the various power sites along the aqueduct watersheds—half of the power on Rush and Levining creeks already has been lost through procrastination of the most remarkable kind—or on the other hand the city can make some reasonable arrangement with the power people, and use the earnings from the power at wholesale, $1,000,000 a year, plus the $5,000,000 power money now on hand, to develop and save the city's power sites.

"Any half-way measure, any wobbling between these two ideas will be fatal, and the people will have squandered the $10,000,000 already put up in vain."

THE RESOLUTION.

Following is the resolution, which is being adopted throughout the city:

"Whereas, it is very evident to this association that economy and public interests both demand that the expenditure of large sums of money for the purpose of duplicating already existing electric pole and wire systems fully equipped to do the work, should cease. Now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, that this association believes that a genuine and earnest effort should be made to ascertain the public sentiment of taxpayers and voters upon the question before any further expenditures are made; and be it further

"Resolved, that the Honorable City Council be petitioned to place upon the ballots to be used, at the earliest election at which it may be done, the following proposition, to-wit:

"Shall the city duplicate any of the existing electric distributing systems, or shall it make fair arrangements for the distribution of the city electric current over and by means of existing poles and wires, and thereby have the advantage of a speedy and large revenue? And be it further

"Resolved, that this resolution and preamble, when adopted, shall constitute such petition to the City Council, and that a copy thereof shall be at once delivered to said Council."

LIKES SUNRISE COURT.

Chicago Social Worker Observes What is Done by Tribunal Here to Get at Root of Drunkenness; Will Recommend Plan in His Own City.

R. H. Crocker, a prominent Chicago social worker, who learned of the success of the Sunrise Court here, under the direction of Magistrate Griffith Jones, arrived in the city Saturday to investigate the work, and sat with Magistrate Jones on the bench yesterday morning.

He had been sent here to personally investigate the system which has allayed drunkenness here to a gratifying extent.

Mr. Crocker intends to recommend the organization of a sunrise court in Chicago. He said: "It is the first really practical work against intoxication I have ever seen, going to the very root of the traffic, and bringing into relief the vital spots where drunkenness is fostered and produced. I think one of the greatest things the nation could do would be to install sunrise courts, under a direction similar to that initiated by Magistrate Jones here, in every city in the country.

SELECT THE SPEAKER.

Rev. George Davidson, Rector of St. Johns' Church, will Speak this Week at Noonday Lenten Services at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral.

Rev. George Davidson, rector of St. John's Church, is the speaker selected for the noonday Lenten services at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral this week. Each address will be a unit in itself; the six will, however, form a connected series. The topics beginning with Monday, will be as follows: "The Christian Cross," "The Christian Aggressor," "The Christian Character," "The Christian Struggle," "The Christian Comfort," and "The Christian Hunger." The preacher is a man of pleasing and magnetic personality; clear, logical and forceful as a speaker. Since his coming from the East, the work of St. John's parish has made great progress, and some of the missions supported by the parish have outgrown their accommodations.

The noonday services begin promptly at 12:05 o'clock with the singing of a familiar hymn, followed by a few short, pointed prayers and another hymn in which everyone joins. The address is over sharply at 12:30. Judging from the gradual increase in the attendance, before the close of Lent these services will be as popular in Los Angeles as they are in many of the eastern cities, where the largest churches and theaters in town have been insufficient to accommodate those who desired to attend. Philadelphia and Denver are among the places where this has been the case.

Joyous.

SHRINE PARTY HAPPILY BUSY.

Official Caravan will Depart for the North Tonight.

If the visiting Shriners did not go to bed tired and exhausted last night or early this morning it was not because they did not have a most energetic day. After the jollifying of Saturday night at the Shrine Auditorium, any one but a Shriner would have been content to put in at least one day in bed. But not so.

The Shriners arose early and went out to Universal City, where for three hours they "acted up." And it was not an ordinary jinks, but a real film play. Nearly 500 Shriners with their wives and friends were present and, according to the regular "movie" stars, the visitors "made good."

The film was turned over to the developing experts and at noon today the Shriners, at a banquet at the Alexandria, will see just how well or how poorly they acted. The play will be produced during the lunch hour.

After having faithfully followed the instructions of Otis Turner, director of the play and also a Noble, the Shriners went by automobile to the beach, where dinner was served at the Nat Goodwin Cafe. A good deal of time was consumed at the dinner and then the party broke up to reassemble at the Alexandria at noon today. Tonight the visitors will leave on the Lark for San Francisco, where another elaborate entertainment has been provided. When the northern festivities are over J. Putnam Stevens, Imperial Potentate, Portland, Me., and a score of others will go at once to Honolulu for a visit.

The thousands of men and women in Los Angeles who work in the "movies," either steadily or as "extras," will realize, and the other thousands can easily believe, that staging a play with a bunch of "green" hands and doing it successfully is creditable both to the performers and to the directors. The play contained twenty-four scenes and required three hours to film. H. O. Davis, vice-president and general manager of the Universal company, assisted Director Turner. William S. Brown of Pittsburgh took the part of a sheriff. William O. Washburn, Minneapolis, in full woman's regalia, acted the part of the sheriff's wife. Dr. O. W. Burdat of Wheeling, W. Va.,

PLEA FOR SAKE OF NEEDY POOR.

Kind Work at Coleman House Cramped by Need of Cash.

Determined Committee Works Hard in Worthy Cause.

Letters Make Appeal Vital to Health and Happiness.

At No. 402 Beauchet street, where the Coleman House Settlement Association administers to the wants of hundreds of kiddies and their big brothers and sisters, and their fathers and mothers, and their uncles and aunts, things have not been going well lately. Coleman House finds itself in relatively the same situation as the old woman who lived in a shoe. Coleman House has so many children, little and large, it doesn't know what to do. It takes money to run a settlement house and minister to the needs of the poor and the benighted, and Coleman House needs money.

In order to keep up the work it has been doing for almost four years and to enlarge that work, the busy men and women who give of their time and talents to Coleman House recently inaugurated a campaign to raise $30,000. A tidal wave of campaigns for the purpose of raising money has swept the city during the past few months. Raising money at all times is a task that calls for special talents, and right now it seems harder than usual.

There are a lot of men and women in Los Angeles, however, who have said that Coleman House must have that $30,000.

COMMITTEE BUSY.

In order that the ways and means may be successfully planned and carried out, there is being formed a men's committee which is putting a big shoulder to the wheel. This men's committee has a personnel that spells success. It includes Leo V. Youngworth, Judges Craig, Reeve, Wood and others of the Superior Court; Prof. E. J. Lickley, Dr. Curtiss Brigham, Dr. Edward S. Merrill, Dr. W. F. Traughber, Edward Harper, Arthur Keetch, M. F. Shannon and a number of others.

This committee will meet Tuesday noon at Christopher's, No. 551 South Broadway, with a number of the women workers of Coleman House. It will be the third luncheon of the sort. At these gatherings the campaign is planned. The generals exchange ideas and the next move is decided upon.

Those who are in the councils of this campaign say strategy marks every move and that whatever results are obtained will be gotten without brass-band or red-fire accompaniment. It is one of those campaigns in which results will tell their own story. The major work will be by masked batteries.

WRITTEN APPEAL.

An appeal is being made by letter by the workers. This letter, that will go to many Southern Californians, tells of the aims and needs of Coleman House. It says:

"Because of your well-known kindness and generosity toward those less fortunate than yourself, we of Coleman House Settlement Association appeal to you for help.

"Coleman House is situated in the heart of the slums of Los Angeles, where ignorance, disease and poverty are encountered on all sides.

"The settlement house is the rendezvous of the neighbors, who, young and old, day and night attend the many instructive and educational classes, conducted by the volunteer workers who endeavor to give knowledge in hygiene, sanitation and all of the fundamental truths of life.

"These classes cover sewing, housekeeping, music, English and all the branches necessary to the betterment and uplift of these unfortunate people.

"The free dispensary is a godsend to these people, whose ignorance means death to them unless they are looked after. A recent case was that of a child with bronchial pneumonia. The mother, having no bed for her babe, had in desperation cut a cracker box in half, stretched some ropes and cord across it and over this crude mattress laid a few old newspapers. Here the tiny sick mite was found wrapped in a thin piece of cotton.

"The Coleman House dispensary is only an old room; the plaster is falling off the ceiling; there is little equipment. Its saving grace is its spotless condition. In one afternoon the doctors who give their services to Coleman House, performed eleven operations on tonsils and adenoids in that room.

"There are innumerable baby cases. Frequently the doctors are called to attend a mother who already has four, five or even six children sleeping in one bed, and no place to put the little stranger.

"The day nursery, where mothers could leave their little ones while they were away earning the living for the family, is closed for lack of funds. Never a day passes but one or more mothers comes with her baby in her arms, pleading to leave the tot while she goes away to work. As you well know, few employers will allow a mother to bring her child to work with her.

"Coleman House is but in its fourth year. Jane Addams recently gave it her highest indorsement—conclusive proof of its splendid work. It is indorsed by the Municipal Charities Commission.

"Because of the recent $1,000,000 campaign of Occidental College, the $50,000 campaign of the Y.W.C.A. and the many campaigns to raise funds for European war sufferers, we have found it almost impossible to raise any funds for Coleman House. The institution is non-sectarian and administers to the needs of twenty-three nationalities.

"Our only hope is in generous donations by real philanthropists like yourself. We must have large donations before long, or Coleman House will be unable to keep up its work.

"There are 75,000 foreigners in Los Angeles who will some day be voting citizens. Why spend so much money abroad and neglect those who are in need of attention at home?

"We are asking for $30,000 for building, equipment and maintenance. Surely you will extend a helping hand!

"Very Sincerely yours,
"COLEMAN HOUSE WORKER."

Checks should be made in favor of Coleman House Campaign Fund and addressed to Campaign Headquarters, 908 Auditorium building.

Mischief.

"BOMB" JUST A JOKE.

Mysterious Black Ball Thrown into Hall of Records Entrance After Midnight is Found to be a Relic of Some Cuban Field of Battle.

It contained neither dynamite nor nitroglycerin, nor any potential explosive of mysterious character, did that iron ball that was found at the entrance of the Hall of Records late Saturday night. It was round and black and mysterious looking, all admitted, and the fact that it was bounced in the portal of a $2,000,000 public building after midnight was a suspicious circumstance.

So the deputy sheriffs took it with careful touch into the distance. They tried to open it, but it resisted. First they knocked it cautiously, then with less care, finally they slammed it against a hard wall. It bounded back again.

Indeed, it would have bounded back from any surface not soft, for it had bounded before—bounded across the plains of Cuba when shot from a Spanish cannon. It is a relic of the Cuban battlefields, brought here by a patriotic society and placed in the doorway of the Hall of Records by two mischievous men.

Some one who needs an exceptionally heavy paperweight may have it. Application should be made to Sheriff Cline.

WITHSTANDS SHOCK THAT SEARS BODY.

TWENTY-FOUR HUNDRED VOLTS IN WIRE'S CONTACT.

Workman, Terribly Burned When High-tension Line Breaks as He Labors in Manhole, is Able to Reach Street and Call Help—Condition Precarious.

Two thousand and four hundred volts of electricity scorched across the breast of James Burns, an employee of the Edison Company, while he was laboring in a manhole at Fourth and Main streets yesterday morning, and he lives.

With the assistance of his friend, Fred Stokes, he climbed a ladder to the street surface and attracted the aid of Peyser Gratez, who was at work in a near-by manhole. Mr. Gratez caught Mr. Burns as he fainted and summoned an ambulance from the Crocker-street Hospital, where the injured man is in a precarious condition.

Mr. Burns, who lives at No. 3434 Poydras street, was bending over the conduit bearing high-tension wires. Mr. Stokes of No. 625 East Twenty-fourth street was near-by at work on another connection. Suddenly one of the high-tension wires broke, and a livid flame sprayed over Mr. Burns, scorching his clothing and inflicting a terrible burn on his breast and legs.

He was prepared against such an accident and kept his calmness as he jumped out of the flying fire. Mr. Stokes was in such a position he could not go to the rescue of his friend without subjecting himself to the danger of receiving the 2400 volts in his body. But he could reach out and give some assistance.

"Up the ladder," said Mr. Burns with his mouth muffled to avoid the fire.

"All right," said Mr. Stokes. "I'll do what I can."

He could reach out his arm and support one of Mr. Burns's unsteady legs as he swayed up the ladder. As the injured man climbed Mr. Stokes gave what assistance he could, as he dodged the fire and shoved at the victim's legs in an effort to get him to the top.

When Mr. Burns reached the street surface he was nearly overcome, but he gave one cry which attracted the attention of Mr. Gratez. It was not a new alarm to him. Five years ago he was working at Fifth and San Pedro streets when a similar event occurred, and by his prompt action he then rescued four men.

So he hurried to the top of his manhole and picked Mr. Burns from the pavement. Then he summoned the ambulance.

The novelty of the three names, Burns, Stokes and Gratez, so interested the police they did not credit the report of the accident when it was first given, thinking some practical joker was playing on their sympathies. Later the Crocker-street Hospital surgeons confirmed the word of the accident.

SUN KILLS AND CURES.

Causes the Worst Tropical Diseases and is Best Disinfectant Known.

[New York American:] Although the sun may well be called the greatest friend to the general health of mankind, yet in the tropics its benefits are not unalloyed.

Many of the worst forms of tropical diseases are chargeable to the intense heat of the sun's too direct rays. Fevers require treatments involving artificial lowering of the temperature by such means as icepacks or evaporation from moist sheets, yet ice is unavailable to a degree in most tropical countries. The result is as expected; the fever patients quickly die in the tortures of high temperatures which cannot be relieved.

Again the direct sun-rays may be charged with the sapping of normal human energy in the tropics. Sunstroke, anaemia, physical and nervous debility, inability to take proper exercise and the resultant disorders—all may be charged to the account of our friend the sun when he outdoes himself in kindness.

On the other hand the sunlight in the tropics is the best and practically only disfectant of easy application in destroying disease bacteria, vermin and the like. Mosquitoes cannot breed in the tropical sunlight, but must seek the scanty shade to prolong their malarial activities. Tuberculosis bacteria will not live ten minutes when exposed to the tropical sun, whereas they will live for hours and days in the shade. The tropical sun quickly dries and turns to sterile dust all forms of moist filth and decaying animal matter. It tends to disinfect and heal the sores of most human diseases whose infection would spread in the shade.

The sun may also be credited with the salvation of the lives of most half-savage natives of tropical countries who practically never bathe and whose skins would be disease-breeding grounds, were it not for the disinfecting power of the intense light.

QUIET REFUGE FOR EVENING OF LIFE.

HEBREWS' HOME FOR THE AGED FORMALLY OPENED.

Thousand Dollars is Raised by Auction and Other Means After Ceremonial—Scope of Work Shows Rapid Advance—Picnic Planned for June Fourth.

The ladies' ward and the synagogue of the Hebrew Sheltering and Home for the Aged Association at No. 131 South Boyle avenue, was formally opened yesterday afternoon when L. Slossberg, 97 years of age, swung wide the door of the ladies' ward. There were approximately 500 persons at the dedication.

M. N. Newmark was the chairman of the day and the opening address was delivered by Dr. Hecht at 3 o'clock p.m. The other speakers were Justice Summerfield, Rabbi Magnin, Rabbi Meyers, Simon Lewis, president of the association, and H. L. Facks, vice-president.

The auctioneer was M. Brown, and through his efforts the association received $250 for the cottage which was purchased by Isaac Norton and which will be known by his name. The key to the cottage was purchased by Mrs. J. Slossberg for $125. The total receipts for the day were $1000. The cottage will accommodate twenty-five persons. At present it has fifteen inmates and applications from many more have been received. The synagogue was purchased by Mrs. A. Lane and will be known as the Mrs. A. Lane Synagogue.

The present buildings were started January 25 and were built by the association members. Simon Lewis was presented with a room in the cottge by the bord of directors.

The association was organized two years ago and originally cared for three inmates in a little house at First and Rose streets. Today there are twenty-five persons in the wards and plans have been made for a large building upon which construction will be started about the latter part of August and which will necessitate an expenditure of $50,000.

A picnic to raise funds for the association will be given June 4 at Selig Zoo, under the auspices of the association.

BLOCKADING BY ANCIENTS.

Marcellus Attempted to Starve Inhabitants of Syracuse.

[Munsey's Magazine:] Blockading and blockade running, of which so much has been heard recently, is not a young war measure by any means. One of the earliest authentic instances of the practice dates back two centuries before the Christian era. Marcus Claudius Marcellus, commanding a powerful Roman army and an efficient fleet, laid siege to Syracuse, a rich city on the Isle of Sicily. Carthage, Rome's great rival on the north shore of Africa, one of the great sea powers of that time, was not at all pleased with the idea of Rome capturing Syracuse, a free city, and probably a source of great revenue through trade with Carthage.

Syracuse was a well-fortified city and there seemed to be no immediate prospect of Rome taking it by storm, so Marcellus decided to starve its inhabitants into submission. He put a cordon of ships across the entrance to the harbor and arrayed his army on the land side so that no succor could come from without. But he had underestimated the boldness of the Carthagenians. There was no question of contraband in those days—conditional or other.

In their swift oar-driven galleys the sailors of the African city easily eluded the ships set to watch the port and carried provisions and war material into the beleagured city. So successful were the Carthagenians in getting supplies into the city—running the blockade—that had it not fallen through treachery it would have been enabled to hold out indefinitely. While blockades probably had been established before on a small scale, the blockade of Syracuse is one of the earliest instances where the efficiency of a blockade by sea was of vital importance in determining the success of war on an important seaport.

Improved Radiogram Receiver.

[Consular Report:] El Imparcial, one of the leading dailies of Madrid, states that the Minister of Public Works, after examination and report by the Centro Tecnico de Aeronauticos (a bureau of the ministry), has approved a radiogram receiver of the type that does away with ear-pieces. It is stated that the radius of the new apparatus is in excess of 5000 kilometers (3100 miles), and that it is contemplated to institute radiographic service between Spain and the United States. Details of the new instrument are not yet available, writes Consul Robertson Honey, Madrid.

Members of the Westlake Fine Arts and Social Club will give an entertainment at Blanchard Hall at 8 o'clock p.m., the 31st inst., to raise money for their art scholarship fund.

The object of this club is to point out to tourists the places of interest in this State. Special days will be set aside by the club to visit the museums and exhibits, showing the opportunities in California and the scenic beauty of the mountains, canyons and parks in the State.

Features of the programme for the entertainment will be given by Miss Georgia Wright Kelsey, Miss Zillah Ernestine Withrow, Miss Una Marion Fleming, Miss Alma Taylor, Miss Ora Evelyn Thalman, Miss Susan Avery, Miss Dorothy Robinson and Miss Maud Toppierner.

LAST RITES FOR VETERAN.

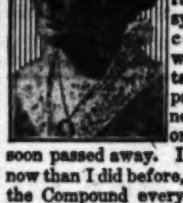
Farmer Who Saw Strenuous Service in Civil War Passes On.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon for Morris C. Stull, a veteran of the Civil War, who passed away last Saturday at his late residence, No. 2349 West Twenty-third street. The ceremonies will be under the auspices of Stanton Post, G.A.R., of which he was a member. Rev. C. Elwood Nash will officiate. Interment will be at Rosedale.

Mr. Stull was a retired farmer. He had served throughout the Civil War and fought in the battle of Gettysburg and the Seven-day Battle of the Wilderness and was twice wounded.

He leaves two sons and two daughters, Charles C., Arthur A., Della D. Stull and Mrs. Bertha Green, all of whom live in eastern cities. He was a widower.

Mr. Stull was a resident of Los Angeles six years.



MRS. MAY'S LETTER to WOMEN

Chicago, Ill.—"I suffered from a bad case of female ills. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and I took about six bottles. It fixed me up all right. The common symptoms of such a condition—pain when walking, irritation, bearing down pains and backache, nervousness and disordered digestion—soon passed away. I look much better now than I did before, and I recommend the Compound every time for female troubles, as it did for me all it is claimed to do. You have my permission to publish this letter." Mrs. J. MAY, 3548 S. Lincoln St., Chicago, Ill.

If you have any of the symptoms mentioned in Mrs. May's letter, remember what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for her, and try it yourself. It is a good old-fashioned medicine, made from roots and herbs, and it has helped countless numbers of women.

If you need special advice, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

REFRESHING CONCERT.

QUIETLY CHARMING MOOD RULES AT SYMPHONY "POP."

By Edwin F. Schallert.

Lovers of the musically beautiful found a refreshingly quiet atmosphere created by the programme presented at the popular concert of the Symphony Orchestra last Saturday evening at Trinity Auditorium. It is a pity that they were not more present at this event, as it was unusually attractive in its qualities.

The "Vorspiel" and "Love Death" from "Tristan and Isolde," is a welcome addition to any programme, and whatever may be said against the opera "Fairyland" as a whole, its intermezzo, also played at the concert, is a sweetly melodious piece of work.

Morton F. Mason received a fine ovation upon the presentation of his overture in C, whose strains of marchlike vigor were delightfully contrasted in the middle section with a more subdued lyric impression.

Axel Simonsen, 'celoist, always an artist of charm, never gave Saint Saens "The Swan" with more grace and fluence. It struck the popular chord of sympathy more fully than the "Kol Nedrei" by Bruch. Mrs. Katherine Shank had a bright happy number, which she sang with clear and light effectiveness, in "Lo! Hear the Gentle Lark," by Bishop, answering the call for encores with "The Midsummer's Lullaby" and "In the Woods," by MacDowell, both of rather quiet character.

A brilliant close to the evening was afforded by the Polonaise in E of Liszt. Another selection or so of this type would have added much to the programme.

NURSE PASSES ON.

Long Ill, but Faithful to Her Duties to the Last.

Miss Anna K. Stoops, for two years a nurse in the Receiving Hospital, died in her home, No. 5012 Lemon Grove avenue, yesterday after an illness of many months. She was a nurse of unusual ability and had a high standing in the hospital, where her work received the praise of Chief Surgeon Wiley.

She attended to her duties as usual last Saturday, was stricken late at night and died yesterday after intense suffering. She was 42 years old. Her body is at the Pierce mortuary.

Happily, however, it is claimed, the pernicious tricksters set a trap that will react to the welfare of the State. THE LOS ANGELES TIMES prints more "Want Ads" than all other local newspapers combined; and, having used in Los Angeles for many years the same argument employed by its San Francisco contemporary, it welcomes this approval of its judgment in the matter.

THE PREACHERS.

GO INTO THE HIGHWAYS AND HEDGES SEEKING SINNERS.

By the Faithful Reporter.

There was a generous outpouring of church people yesterday, and services both morning and evening, were largely attended. The pastors chose a diversity of subjects, but all of the sermons taught good lessons and were enjoyed to the utmost. Several ministers drew strong word pictures from the European war and the trouble on the border while another preached on the evil effects of the demon rum.

REV. W. E. TILROE.

UNIVERSITY M. E. CHURCH.

JESUS WENT ABOUT DOING GOOD AND GOOD FOLKS SHOULD BE BUSY NOT CRITICAL IN REVIVALS.

Rev. W. E. Tilroe, D.D., pastor of University M. E. Church preached yesterday on the subject "Good Folks and Revivals." He said, in part:

"Good folks need a suggestion often as to their Bibles and revivals. There would have been a Bible in the earth very likely had there never been a need for a revival. Men need training if they do not need medicine. But it would have been a very different Bible. God had to enlarge His [illegible] into a hospital. The [illegible] is so full of tears and pain that a [illegible] of cure and comfort was inevitable. 'Adam where art thou,' was a revival. The coats of skin was a revival. Noah and his ark was a revival. Canaan was the revival. The captivity in Babylon was the revival. Every prophet and every priest was the revival. The coming of Jesus was the revival. The irruption of the Holy Spirit was the revival. Our [illegible] would shrink into an annex [illegible] its hospital wards and corridors [illegible] out.

"Good folks should not get critical of revivals. Eating with publicans and sinners has its limits. Bad company is worse than it ever seems. Nevertheless there is no revival without bad company. If good folks for good reasons do not presently keep bad company more than they do there will be soon a funeral for all revivals. It is possible good folks need more [illegible] than they get. Very likely [illegible] kid and orchestra would [illegible] some people to the church. The [illegible] does seem to have its good points. [illegible] really did coddling ever yet grow [illegible]? Is not the tug and wrench [illegible] groan and death cry of the days [illegible] in the doom of coddling everywhere? The revival has been the salvation of the earth in all the ages. No [illegible] good man will waste his time in criticism as it marches on. The [illegible] of the ages is on hand.

"Good folks should be busy in revivals. Jesus went about doing good. He did not wait to have it ring him up. The shepherd went after his sheep. The woman swept till broom and floor met. The father saw his son a long way off and ran to smother him with his love. The very angels are hard at it. They could not be [illegible] and lazy. To them who are heirs of salvation they minister. Of course no man stays good long who does not do good. To be busy in revival is of his day's work.

"Good people are happy in revivals. It comes easy. The misery of the [illegible] in revival time is simply that they have mistaken their pew. The [illegible] rejoiced. The woman rejoiced. The friends and neighbors rejoiced. In the father's house was [illegible]. There was joy in heaven. To make merry and be glad is good [illegible] among the good. The man [illegible] can keep cool and correct and [illegible] in revival time would better [illegible] his prayers. His winter may [illegible] to spring. God pity him."

REV. ANDERSON.

SOUTH PARK CHRISTIAN.

JESUS WAS A REFORMER KNOWING HE WOULD BE MISUNDERSTOOD, BUT HE FORTIFIED HIMSELF.

Rev. Scott Anderson, pastor of South Park Christian Church, preached yesterday on the subject, "Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees you cannot enter the kingdom of God." He said, in part:

"Jesus was a reformer and was making a spiritual, political, social movement that was destined to fill the earth and last forever. He knew that, as reformers in all ages, he would be misunderstood, misrepresented and opposed by the reactionary supporters of the old, evil order of things, so he fortified himself against malicious attack, and proclaimed the superior merits of his cause by asuring the people that he had not come to destroy the law or the prophets, but to give them a deeper, fuller meaning; that the subjects of his kingdom would not be spiritual derelicts, but would be persons of greater righteousness than that possessed by even the leaders of the old order, that his movement was to supercede.

"There is a brand new movement starting in the world today, that is, it will be new and startling to this generation, though it is the same one that was inaugurated by Jesus among the Jews long ago. You will recall that He said that He was 'going into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom and return.' The time for his return is near, and the establishment of His world-wide kingdom will immediately follow, and all the work among men during these nineteen centuries has been an enlisting, recruiting, scouting expedition preparatory to his approaching conquest of the kingdoms of this world. And when the Christ spirit [illegible] soon begin to triumph in [illegible] politics and in social reconstruction, upheld and advanced, [illegible] not by religious re[illegible] who are now as always [illegible] the boast of world power, but [illegible] faithful, the 'little flock,' the [illegible] called out of the pro[illegible] 1900 years sojourn in the [illegible] (1900 years of persecution [illegible] world and spiritual Babylon.) [illegible] of old, the Christ of God, His [illegible] people, and his rising kingdom [illegible] maligned and opposed by [illegible] modern scribes and pharisees [illegible] effete, insipid, imaginary [illegible] will be so outclassed by [illegible] practical, conquering [illegible] of Christ and His holy [illegible] Christ is assembling his army [illegible] now."

[illegible] THE INSIDE FOR WAR; [illegible] WILL NEVER BE TAKEN [illegible] OUTSIDE FORCES.

Rev. W.L.Y. Davis, pastor of the [illegible] Adams M. E. Church, preached [illegible] on "Preparedness." He said [illegible]

"[illegible] Where? On the outside! [illegible] but be careful not to [illegible] so high it shuts you in while [illegible] shuts out. Mount big guns; [illegible] so big that the recoil in taxes [illegible] us. Enlist a standing army; make it sufficient to police [illegible] and bandits of the border; [illegible] they have to ride [illegible] the necks of every man, woman and child of the republic. Some would as soon take their chances with the bandits! Prepare and turn out great quantities of gunpowder; but not so much that we can have no sugar and gasoline. Listen to the army experts and consider their counsels; but remember there is a professionalism in the army as well as in religion, and of a kind, and it is as benumbing. May be a few more forts will be worth while along the coast; but many more State highways, so the soldiers we have may be flung to any threatened point in a few hours notice, will be vastly better, and then they will be fine to haul produce and tourists over between times.

"Prepare; but don't scare! Don't go around yelping, 'A wolf! A wolf!' when there is nothing but a ground-hog!

"Prepare on the inside! America will never be conquered by outside forces!

"Babylon got drunk and then she fell! Babylon was not knocked down—she fell! Rome fell! But not before she got her feet tangled in the strange woman's way. Then it did not take much to push her over! Few nations have been conquered—they fell!

"America, prepare! Prepare on the inside as well as on the outside. Prepare lofty ideals. Set them up in the market place. Prepare purity. Prepare it in the streets that nothing may entice. A man does not have to be caught up into the wilderness to be tempted today; the city streets do their deadly work.

"Prepare honesty and honor. Only deceit discovers the secret passes to the foe. A few can hold the country against invasion, if there be no traitors to lead the back way. Every gold brick is a weak block in the defenses of the nation."

E. GUY TALBOTT.

UNION MASS MEETING.

DECLARES PROTESTANT CHURCHES HAVE ABANDONED THE "EAST SIDE" TO DEVIL'S GRATIFICATION.

E. Guy Talbott delivered an address on "Los Angeles—A Mission Field," at the Union Evangelistic Mass Meeting in the First M. E. Church yesterday afternoon. He said in part:

"Los Angeles is a city of churches; there are about 250 churches with about 70,000 members. But there are some sections of the city with teeming populations practically without a Protestant church. The "East Side" in Los Angeles bids fair to rival that of New York, because the Protestant churches have abandoned the field to the devil.

"Los Angeles is also a city of foreigners. There are over 40,000 Mexicans living in Los Angeles and less than 800 are members of Protestant churches. There are ten missions for Mexicans in Los Angeles. This is the biggest home mission problem in Los Angeles. There are 23,000 Slavs in Los Angeles and one or two little missions among them. There are 35,000 Jews and two small missions. For 10,000 orientals there are five missions with 561 members. We have 20,000 Southern Europeans and almost no Protestant work among them.

"Here is a great unworked field for the Christian workers of Los Angeles. These people constitute our great problem with reference to disease, crime, poverty, unemployment and social unrest. This is true because the churches have neglected to cultivate the field.

"There are 23,676 children in the Sunday-schools in Los Angeles and 83,000 children in the public schools. Thousands of these children in the public schools ought to be in the Sunday-school. Have you asked them to come?

"Then there are several thousand church members in Los Angeles whose church affiliation is back East. By persistent personal effort in the next few weeks we can add many thousands of these church members to the churches of Los Angeles.

"For these reasons a personal evangelistic campaign at this Lenten season is most timely. The fields are white unto the harvest. The church members of Los Angeles must go forth as reapers. By personal work during the next few weeks we can reap much of these ripened harvest fields."

REV. CLYDE SHEPARD.

MT. HOLLYWOOD CHURCH.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS MAKE PLAUSIBLE THE ROAD TO HELL, ONLY GOD CAN CONQUER OUR SINS.

Rev. Clyde Shepard, pastor of Mt. Hollywood Congregational Church, preached yesterday on the subject, "Great Measures for Great Needs." He said in part:

"Your remedy must be commensurate with your disease. Soothing-syrup will not kill snake-bites. You cannot cure diphtheria with a gargle. Medicine alone will not take away tuberculosis.

"The monstrous war of the world did not give way to the urging of neutrals, nor to the clamoring of enthusiasts. There can be no end of war in the world until there is the essence of peace in human hearts. As a man is, so are men.

"Social injustice and industrial inequality and political corruption, deep-set diseases of the social system, cannot be cured by the salve of the optimist, the fretting of the pessimist, nor the skin treatment of reformers. A new social consciousness, a new humanity is the remedy, and Jesus is the means.

"Human ills may not be reached by easy methods. Good resolutions make plausible the way to hell. His own bootstraps never yet lifted the straining fool. Man's ills result from sin. Only God can conquer sin. That is why Jesus only will meet the needs of humanity."

DR. EBY.

FIRST U. B. CHURCH.

HE THAT FOLLOWS THE DEVIL IN PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS IS SATAN'S GUEST AT HIS BANQUET TABLE.

Dr. John Albert Eby of the First United Brethren Church, preached last night on "The Devil's Banquet," taking his text from John ii:10. "Every man setteth on first good wine, and when men have drunk freely, then that which is worse." He said in part:

"How true these words of the Master of the feast at which our Lord turned the water into wine. He certainly did describe the banquet prepared for men by the arch fiend of men's souls that is so radically different from the banquet prepared by the Son of God. The devil does serve a rtmendous banquet table. Multiplied millions of young men and women are feasting at the devil's board this very night.

"He that follows the devil in pursuit of happiness in this life or the next, is satan's guest at his banquet table. And the same awful experience that uncounted millions have had will be his experience. It will be the best of the wine at the beginning of the feast and then that which is worse and worse, until the dregs of hell are poured into his lips. If the moderate drinkers of liquor of today would listen to the testimony of the old soaks, who are staggering under the power of the palsy of the old toper, but they will not. The good wine of the first glass has deceived them. They imagine that it will always taste the same. They feel sure of their power to stop when they please. But before they are aware of it, a fatal cup of a worse brand of this devilish poison is forced into their hands and they are compelled to drink what turns out to be as bitter as gall. The worst of the wine of drunkenness comes at the end of the feast. Is there a drunkard in all God's universe that does not know it? A million habitual drunkards in America today could testify to that dreadful fact. The first flush of intoxication, of inspiration and of exhiliration that comes to the novice may be a pleasant sensation. But what of the sordid, maudlin, slobbering, disgusting drunken fool who ten years later is only fit company for the swine in the ditch? The more than seventy-five young men whom I saw enter a saloon on Fifth street in this city one night recently, in just fifteen minutes watching, while my wife and daughters were in the public library, were happy and buoyant and hilarious and had few, if any of the marks of the devil's table on their faces. But if any living man could see them in ten or fifteen years from tonight, what a different story would be told by their faces. Oh, young men of Los Angeles, listen to reason and experience, listen to conscience, listen to the warning voice of this Master of ceremonies. The best of wine is served at the first course of the devil's banquet but the last course is lighted at the mouth of the pit of hell and consumes like a raging fire."

REV. SELECMAN.

TRINITY AUDITORIUM.

MESSAGE OF CHRIST TO MODERN LIFE IS ESSENTIALLY THE SAME AS HE DELIVERED TO THE ROMANS.

Sunday morning at Trinity Auditorium, Rev. Charles C. Selecman, pastor, had for his subject, "The Message of Jesus to Our Modern Life." He said in part:

"The student of history finds that occasionally a teacher arises whose doctrine transcends the geographical limits of his own nation, as well as the epoch in which he lives. Homer has been called the universal poet. With much greater accuracy Jesus may be styled 'The Universal Teacher.' There is a freshness about the message of Jesus, as applied to the conditions of our modern life, that makes the sermon on the mount as up to date as the last edition of your daily paper. In determining the message of Jesus to the twentieth century it will aid us to inquire what was His message to the first century. Humanity is the same from age to age, and in every land. We shall, therefore, not be surprised if we find that the message of Jesus to our modern life is essentially the same as that which He delivered to the Galiileans and Romans 1900 years ago.

"Paulina, the spouse of Caligula, appeared at a festival wearing a set of emeralds valued at $2,000,000, six times as much as the famous fatal necklace of Marie Antionette. Women counted their years by the number of their husbands. Another barrier against the approach of the new religion was the practical ruin of the middle class, and the congregation of collossal wealth in the hands of a few. On the one hand was unrestrained luxury and voluptuousness; on the other, abject destitution and lack of moral purposes; a race with pale faces, flabby cheeks, swollen eyes, trembling hands, enfeebled understanding and ruined memory.

"The populace was absorbed in spectacular sports of the theater, in chariot races, and gladiatorial contests. The majority of the population were in the bondage of a most abject slavery. Along with this was a religion, which had in itself none of the elements of moral renewal. Into this unlikely environment came Jesus preaching the gospel of the Kingdom of God. He arraigned materialism, declaring that blessedness arises not from outward conditions, but from inward virtue. He taught the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of men, proclaimed good news to the poor, and instilled in His followers a patient optimism that contained within itself the promise and premonition of final victory.

"Our modern world with its spirit of materialism, its atheistic socialism, its shallow systems of philosophy and education, its boasted spirit of progress, its blood-bespattered militarism, its devotion to voluptuousness and luxury, its lack of moral earnestness, and its impotent religious formality needs to hear afresh the message of Jesus, which is the gospel of the Kingdom of God. Jesus intended not only to save individuals, but to organize and regulate human society on the principles of the Golden Rule. He would bind men together today as of yore by the doctrine of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man."

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL.

THERE IS A GODWARD AND MANWARD SIDE TO EACH OF THE GREAT DOCTRINES OF CHRISTIANITY.

Dr. William Horace Day, in his sermon at the First Congregational Church yesterday morning, took for his subject, "What is the Bible?"

"To put it in just a word," he said, "the Bible may be said to be a record in various literary forms of a progressive revelation, which God has made of Himself, through the religious experience of certain men and of a certain people chosen for their exceptionally spiritual capacity. Dr. David Starr Jordan says: 'The Bible speaks to the human heart as no other book in any language has spoken.'

"The Bible is a progressive revelation; it goes up a mountain step by step, and on the top of that mountain there stands a cross, an empty tomb, and above it is an ascending Lord, and any step which man has constructed by which God's truth shall go upward toward that end, any step which leads toward that mountain top, is of God; any step which, for the moment, seems to turn aside from the direction toward Christ is of man. I want you to realize that there is a Godward and a manward side to each of the great doctrines of Christianity. Whenever we obscure either of these aspects we have disastrous results in the teaching of the churches. Man was God's partner in making the Bible. Like other literature it contains a variety of literary forms. The Bible has poetry as well as prose, laws, orations, prayers and hymns; the Bible has history, also drama and fiction. For example, certain students of today read the book of Jonah and insist that it is not prosaic history, but a great story told as the result of the creative imagination of a great literary prophet, a sermon story built up exactly as Jesus built up His parables out of the elements of human life, that it is a creation, not of history, but of imaginative literature. God can speak through the imagination as well as He can speak through the careful work of the prose historian. Any book written by an individual will reflect a common personality; in anonymous books; we even find suggestions of the character and personality of the author. Behind these different books we find absolutely distinct personalities, no two exactly alike. We realize that, as in other literature, the capacities of the individual man have contributed to the form of the book, which has been written in the name of God, but most important of all, should we, who are modern Christians, remember that we find different elevations of moral and spiritual insight. Christ is the final key to the scriptures and there is no other."

TUCSON ENJOYS BUILDING BOOM.

Scores of Large Structures are Being Erected.

Self-propelling Shell Made by Local Inventor.

Yuma Begins Campaign Against Spread of Smallpox.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) March 14.—With mining activity bringing new business daily to Tucson, the year is opening vigorously in the building trades, with scores of large new buildings projected or under construction. One of the most important is the Scottish Rite Cathedral, which is to be completed April 15, and to be dedicated a month later, with Dr. R. B. von Klein Smid and Epes Randolph as the principal speakers. Complete and furnished, the building will cost $150,000, of which $20,000 will be spent on the stage. A special organ, to cost $10,000, is being built at Van Nuys, Cal., and is expected to be the best in the Southwest, outside of Los Angeles. The building, which is being erected by Weymouth Crowell of Los Angeles, is the only one in Arizona especially designed for Masonic uses.

STUDENTS IN MOVIES.

The student body of the University of Arizona will be seen most effectively in the movies, photographed as the students formed an immense A on the side of Sentinel Peak, where they had just completed the building of a university letter in white that now forms a prominent feature of the Tucson landscape.

NEW MAN-KILLER.

A Tucson man, H. D. Barrett, claims to have perfected a self-propelling shell, thrown from a small tube not unlike a surveyor's transit, to be readily transported in a light motor car, together with necessary ammunition. He is said to claim that distances up to even 100 miles are possible through the repetition of the propelling force he has provided. While claiming that the new arm would help in the defense of the coasts, he attaches even greater importance to its use as a range-finder. Barrett is an expert in the manufacture of munitions and has been employed in an eastern torpedo factory. He has sent offers of his invention to the War Department and will give the United States the first opportunity to secure his rights.

METEOR ON BORDER.

Along the border all the way from Nogales to Douglas, early Saturday morning was seen a brilliant meteor, that burst as it neared the ground and with loud detonation. At Nogales there was declaration that one of the fragments buried itself in the sands of a nearby gully, leading to supposition that a hostile aeroplane was bombarding the city. The same phenomena have been reported from Naco and Gananea, where it is believed the meteor dropped in the San Jose Mountains, about nine miles south of the line.

CATTLE DYING.

A large number of range cattle and horses have died within a small area west of the San Xavier reserve, mainly around water holes. It is assumed that some noxious weed is the cause.

Work has been commenced on the new Courthouse of Graham county, to be erected at the new county seat, Safford. The building will cost $40,000.

TRAPPED BURGLAR LEAPS TO SAFETY.

LOCKED IN AN UPPER ROOM HE SPRINGS TO GROUND.

Uses Ladder to Climb into Apartments of Women—Found by One Victim and Baffled by Fall of Ladder, He Still Manages to Get Away with Jewelry.

With his pockets full of stolen jewelry taken from the apartments of Mrs. Isaac Higley and Mrs. G. W. Vosburg of the Shoreham Hotel, No. 666 Carondelet street, a porch-climbing burglar was cornered early last night in the apartment of Mrs. Higley and after having been locked in, escaped from a window before the police arrived.

The burglar, wearing a mask and armed with a heavy blue-steel revolver, climbed a ladder to the second story of the hotel and entered the apartments of Mrs. Higley. After taking about $40 worth of jewelry, he went to the apartments of Mrs. Vosburg and helped himself to jewelry valued at $100 and about $18 in cash.

Returning to the apartments of Mrs. Higley, he was discovered when she entered. Drawing a revolver from his hip pocket, the intruder ordered Mrs. Higley from the room. He then ran to the window but was unable to get out, because the ladder had fallen to the ground.

Mrs. Higley, screaming for help, rushed from her rooms and locked the door after her. The police were sent for and Detectives Parsons and White answered the call. Until a short time before the police arrived the burglar could be heard in the room.

With drawn revolvers the police unlocked the door, but the intruder had leaped from the window to the ground, a distance of almost thirty feet, and escaped with his loot.

According to Mrs. Higley, the thief is about 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 155 pounds and was dressed in dark clothing.

Shakespeare Translated.

[Chicago News:] At a certain foreign university the students, who had been studying Shakespeare in their native tongue, were requested by an examiner to translate into English the opening lines of Hamlet's soliloquy, "To be, or not to be." The following was the result:

The first Frenchman declaimed "To was, or not to am;" the second rendered it, "To were or is to not;" while the third gave a still more liberal reading, "To should, or not to will."

SPELL STILL HOLDS.

"CABIRIA" STILL HOLDS MUCH OF ITS PRISTINE ATTRACTION.

By Grace Kingsley.

In spite of the fact that many big feature photoplays have been produced since "Cabiria," that picture still remains in many ways the most remarkable of its sort ever shown.

Its scenes of ancient warfare and religious feasts, the handling of the mammoth crowds in the production, and other spectacular events and circumstances make the D'Annunzio photoplay one of surpassing qualities.

The picture is on view at the Garrick this week, and yesterday drawing big crowds, despite its long run at other theaters heretofore. It was filmed in Italy, Switzerland, Africa and Spain. The story centers around Cabiria, whose history from the age of 6 until she is finally happily married, is as eventful, exciting and picturesque, as any modern thriller. But it is Maciste, the great negro, who performs feats of Herculean strength, that we remember—Maciste, breaking his huge chains, Maciste swimming strongly against the current, Maciste in mighty hand-to-hand battle.

Palace.

Blanche Sweet, who is usually seen in silks and satins, is appearing in rags this week at the New Palace. The offering is "The Ragamuffin." This photoplay was a decided hit on Broadway a few weeks ago, and was selected by the Palace management as a fitting film with which to start the policy of showing a Paramount production each week. The mystery and thrills of "The Iron Claw," the sensational serial starring Pearl White of Elaine fame, continues to grow with each episode. The third instalment is showing this week. The latest Pathe News is also included.

Strand.

"Tillie's Punctured Romance," six reels of real cheer with such well-known comedians as Charlie Chaplin, Chester Conklin, Harry McCoy, Marie Dressler, Mabel Normand and Minta Durfee, taking the principal roles, is a source of laughs at the New Strand this week. Although the photoplay has been shown more than any other one comedy, its popularity seems to know no abatement. In the audience yesterday were large numbers of people who had seen it several times before, but yet were anxious to secure another hour and a half of hearty laughter.

OUR ECONOMIC SLACK.

Over Four Billion Dollars is Annually Spent by People of United States for Many Things Quite Unnecessary.

[Commerce and Finance:] The more closely the reactions of commercial life are studied, the more one is convinced that they are almost entirely psychological.

The economic history of the war up to date is a remarkable demonstration of the truth of this statement.

With the outbreak of hostilities business was prostrated. Everyone feared that a commercial dies irae had arrived, and that the mercantile world would be resolved into chaos. But, instead of depression, we have stimulation and prosperity, not only in this country, but also in England and Canada, and now everyone is concerned lest the war that terrified us in the advent may harm us in the ending.

Seemingly there was some warrant for the belief that war would result in more or less financial dislocation and commercial distress, but the idea that peace can have anything but a beneficent effect is about the most absurd that could be suggested, especially in the United States, where the average profit derived from our foreign trade is hardly equal to the aggregate of our annual expenditure for moving pictures, soda-water, candy and chewing gum, and far less than our yearly bill for liquor and tobacco.

For the information of those who do not know what these things cost us it may be mentioned that we spend each year:

For moving pictures	$ 450,000,000
For soda water	200,000,000
For candy, 20 lbs. per capita, at 15c.	300,000,000
For chewing gum	50,000,000
For tobacco	800,000,000
For alcoholic liquor	2,500,000,000
Total	$4,300,000,000

Lest some may think the above estimate of candy consumption excessive, it may be added that the total consumption of sugar in the United States is now about ninety pounds per capita, as against fifty-nine pounds per capita in 1900.

These figures will enable us to glimpse what may be called the economic "slack" in the United States that can be taken up in case of need to meet any unusual contraction in our ability to buy the things that are really essential, or any temporary dislocation in our relatively unimportant foreign trade.

FLEXOTONE
Electrelle
PIANO PLAYER

We can make this attachment in a day, without changing the appearance of your piano.

The Flexotone Electrelle is reasonable in cost and is actually superior to any other piano-player known —because there is no foot pumping
—because the Flexible Expression Control, for the first time, makes real expression and interpretation possible with player device.

We will gladly demonstrate the wonderful tone and expression-producing qualities of the Flexotone Electrelle. Interesting booklet sent free

LIKE TENNYSON'S BROOK.

Year after year the discussion rages as to what shall be done about the deadly grade crossing. So many plans, so many screeds, so many tracks that meet and cross; while just to minimize the loss of life is all we need. But cars may come and cars may go; the talk goes on forever.

FINDING BROADWAY FAIR.

At some moment when the world calls to you and when you can invite the world, when you find yourself standing in peculiar suspense, like a bird balanced over a bough of its choice, you will find this Broadway of Los Angeles throbbing and beautiful with its electric stream of vivid life, pulsing and warm and lovely.

CHEMISTRY FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

Soon we shall read under the head of "Help Wanted," advertisements phrased as follows: "A newspaper proprietor of low mental caliber, who is highly carbonated, desires to obtain a cook with calcium temperament with small destructiveness and no human nature at all. Apply at the office of the Progressive Liar."

NATIONAL LARCENY.

The Brazilian government has—it is said—determined to "requisition"—that is to say, to steal, or, as the Big Bull Moose would say, to "swipe" forty-three German ships that are interned in Brazilian ports. Under international law an interned ship is sacred. But since England and Germany have repealed international law, Brazil claims the right to do likewise, and she has added to the code the declaration that private property does not exist as against national necessity. The Brazilian doctrine is—If you see anything you want, why, take it.

INHOSPITABLE MEXICANS.

The hospitality of the Carranza officials toward the gringos wearing Uncle Sam's uniforms who are in pursuit of Villa and his cut-throats is far from being effusive. The Carranza officer in command at Casas Grandes declines to allow the American forces to find quarters in the town or even to enter it. He grudgingly accords them the right to pitch their tents on the mesa outside the city limits, and to find water and procure fuel if they can, or failing to procure it they can go thirsty and eat their bacon raw.

WHAT THEN?

Suppose that the American forces in Mexico capture Villa, and, instead of returning him to New Mexico to be tried for murder, they turn him over to the Carranza forces, which—under the decree of outlawry—would be privileged to execute him without a trial and without delay. And then suppose Carranza pardons him or suffers him to escape or lets him go upon parole, what then?

Or, suppose after a battle Villa is reported slain and the United States troops return from their foray and all is quiet for a few weeks, and then Villa—who was not killed—reappears at the head of another band and makes another raid.

What then?

THE SPRING FEELING.

Is is queer how spring goes to the head. You awake some morning to find the feel of springtime in the air, to hear the little birds splitting their throats with joy, to smell peach blossoms and honeysuckle, and when you get up the thought of work indoors, of paved streets and loaded desks or talky meetings is hateful—you loathe people and people's doings. You are aching to stay out in the sunshine, to feel the soft breezes in your face, to step on springing live things. You want to take to the "open road—afoot and light-heated," and you rebel at the fate that commands you to the housed existence.

And when spring's in the air most of us are seized with the garden madness. We know perfectly well that it's foolish—we can buy more stuff for a dollar than we can raise with $3 worth of fertilizer and $5 spent on seeds, implements and labor—yet the fascination of watching beans poke their hump backs out of the ground, of seeing the faint green of lettuce push up into light, of counting the cucumber stragglers that answer to coaxing, gets us all—at least, most of us are weak enough to neglect more important things and fall for it.

And then there's the delight of seeing fig leaves grow an inch a day and watching the little figs jump out of the smooth skin of the tree; and the exquisite beauty of the unfolding grape vine, and the wonder of blackberry wreaths flung over the back fence—back yard gardening can't be figured in dollars and cents.

And a part of the springtime renewing that tingles in the blood is the demand for new clothes—we just have to have 'em. After all, it is a natural instinct and a wise one that calls for blossoming headgear for the female and a spring suit for her mate. The spring outfitting is only a necessary expression of the rising tide of life that corresponds to nature's yearly resurgence.

And the man who denies the lure of spring, who has ceased to feel the quickening pulse that makes him get up early and tackle the devil-grass in his lawn—he is ready for the grave and a resurrection that will make him all over again. And the woman who doesn't own a craving for a spring hat with pink roses or a bunch of sweet peas on it—well, she has ceased to be a woman—she's only a relic.

THE BROTHERLY LOVE OF JOB.

Socialism supposedly bases its precepts—but alas! not its practices—on the principle of brotherly love. With much heralding of the dawn of a brighter day, small indeed in its scope, but universal in its application, the Job Harriman colony project of fraternal communism was launched at Llano in the unfettered freedom of Antelope Valley, "far from the madding crowd's ignoble strife."

The most skeptical should be converted. All the people needed to convince them of the infallibility of the doctrines preached by Marx and Proudhon was to see them in operation, blessing the increase on fertile acres under the star of human harmony. Job was to be the prophet to lead the children into this latest promised land.

If the success of an enterprise can be measured by the amount of fees it brings to opposing lawyers, by the amount of extra work it entails on courts and justices; if it depends on the ingenuity of human brains in the art of backbiting and the disparagement of others, on the amount of savings lost to advertise a "holy" cause, then the success of the colony at Llano is so complete and so startling as to deserve the title of the eighth wonder of the world.

Its history has been a succession of open disappointments and public lawsuits, of veiled suspicions and secret feuds—and has ended with the secretary of the undertaking being accused by a brother in distress of writing threatening letters to himself for the purpose of fixing a grave charge against innocent members of the colony.

No doubt an experiment in socialism might be better devised and more honestly handled than was this abortive attempt of the labor-union agitator. The reasons for its failure are many. But the lesson must have been driven home to all unprejudiced observers that, even backed by conscientious and earnest enthusiasts, an attempt to further human happiness, except through the guidance of divine laws, is in its inception doomed to failure.

For a greater than any earth-born philosopher has given to man the only perfect and workable system for securing his inalienable rights, life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. A complete document, to which nothing can be added, from which nothing can be taken away, has revealed the only basis for a perfect state of society in Christ's Sermon on the Mount. It is ideal. It is practical; the only practical system that will stand the test of time.

The colony at Llano, presumably promoted to carry out the theories of socialism—as would any other colony actually formed for this single purpose—developed a mass of enmities and abuse directly opposed to the idea of brotherly love, antagonistic to the doctrines of Christianity. Some day, taking a broader view of our duties and responsibilities, enthused with the higher love that even in the world's present distress is surely incubating, men may combine to form a world-wide, universal colony where one will stand for the good of all and all for the good of one. But when that day arrives such a civilization will not be the result of following faulty systems devised by human philosophy; it will come as a practical demonstration of the eternal truths revealed in the Sermon on the Mount.

INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION IN BRITAIN.

The war has revolutionized public opinion in Great Britain with respect to her commercial policy, and the changes proposed, while inspired by a demand for measures of punishment against Germany, will necessarily take effect against all the countries in the world.

It is believed that immediately upon the restoration of peace German manufacturers will begin an international commercial war for the "dumping" of their merchandise. At the same time there will be a period of dislocation of industry in Great Britain consequent upon the disbandment of her huge army and the restoration of millions of men to civil employment.

The Tariff Reform League in England, inaugurated by Joseph Chamberlain, has been in existence for years and has made repeated efforts to overturn the free-trade policy and establish protection in its place. Manufacturers in many industries rallied to the support of the Tariff Reform League and with the financial resources at its command it carried on a campaign which startled the country by its energy and persistence.

Yet, strangely enough, it could never win the support of the workers who would have been the principal beneficiaries of protection, and when the test of a general election was applied protection was again and again defeated, until the leading protectionists admitted that their only hope of success lay in a period of industrial depression which might lead the working classes in their misery to abandon their old beliefs and adopt protection.

No such period of industrial depression has ever materialized. But in its place the war has created a sentiment against Germany which affords the protectionists an even more potent instrument than would be provided by low wages and depressed trade. The present plans of the Tariff Reform League, therefore, are not merely directed against German imports, but include the adoption of an elaborate system of discriminatory duties.

The war places the free traders on the horns of a dilemma. They will support measures which the instinct of self-preservation urges as being necessary to check Germany in any effort she may make to attain a position which would ultimately be used for military aggression. But while agreeing to punitive measures against Germany, they will, nevertheless, resist the adoption of protection as a policy. The leading Liberal organ in the British press has emphatically declared that though it is prepared to assent to prohibition of commerce with Germany, it is fundamentally opposed to the abrogation of free trade with the world.

British opinion on these questions finds expression in a report of the London Chamber of Commerce and a series of resolutions which were adopted by the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

Their considered conclusions are embodied in a series of recommendations which, as stated by a London correspondent, include preferential reciprocal trading relations between all parts of the British empire; reciprocal trading relations between the British empire and the allied countries; the favorable treatment of neutral countries; the regulation by tariff or otherwise of trade relations with all enemy countries so as to render impossible a return to prewar conditions; that steps be taken to prevent the dumping of enemy goods into British markets after the war; that discriminatory taxes be levied upon the tonnage of all enemy ships using the ports of the British empire; that the government be urged to encourage the production and utilization of raw materials and manufactured goods within the empire under such legislative conditions as will prevent them being controlled by or on behalf of the enemy; that the naturalization laws be modified and that the government be asked to guarantee for a period of years, by subsidy or otherwise, new or "key" industries established prior to and since the commencement of the war.

The resolutions further propose that "the policy of real free trade between the sister states, the allies and neutral countries (i. e., free exchange of commodities between nations without duty, except for purposes of revenue) be advocated." An antidumping duty against German and American goods is further recommended and it is proposed that China and Siam be invited to enter the commercial alliance of the Entente powers.

Out in the Cold.

WANTED, A GOVERNMENT.

Any kind of government is better than no government at all. Let it work ever so crookedly in practice, the harshest government is of more account than theoretical perfection that fails to connect. Russian autocracy is as undesirable as any regime well could be to those compelled to support it, but the Russian peasant is better off than the Mexican peon.

What Mexico must have is a government that can immediately do some sort of governing, can provide a weekly pay roll, clean up the rubbish and litter that have accumulated during an interregnum of five years, start some agriculture and industry going again, pick out from a lot of superfluous soldiers a few efficient and badly-needed policemen.

Too much benevolence and too little strength make as much hardship in the world as too much strength and too little benevolence. This is why Madero tripped and fell. This is where the shoe pinches for Carranza or any other Mexican leader whose reforms are all in the future and leave the present to shift for itself. The strength of Porfirio Diaz was used autocratically; but has Mexico benefited by the weak benevolence of Madero?

There are so many people able to sketch out for Mexico a rosy future, so few to tackle the problem of a thorny present. The land is blest by nature, its resources are magnificent, its undeveloped wealth is vast, its mineral and agricultural possibilities are unlimited. If we could start right now with a clean slate, if we would wipe out the debts incurred, the foreign entanglements, the lack of revenue, the spirit of unrest, what an ideal state we could construct from the rich and fertile domain of wonderful Mexico!

Unfortunately, it can't be done. The first step to tidying a house and restoring and refurnishing it is the removal and destruction of ancient rubbish and litter. So far no Mexican seems to have an inkling of a notion where to start on his Augean stables. The northern Hercules could perform the labor if engaged to handle the pitchfork.

The home of the ancient Aztecs cannot be restored and refurnished till the rough work has first been attended to. The dastardly raid of Villa may eventually bring good out of evil for the distressed Mexican nation, provided its better classes will cooperate heartily with the American expedition sent to remove one of the chief obstacles to Mexico's regeneration.

Carranza has now a chance, such as with the best results was once given to Cuba, to at last make a definite move for the cleaning up of the Mexican premises. Whether he is a big enough man to size up correctly the situation ahead of him remains to be seen. There is no doubt that the mass of the Mexican people are sick of civil war. A few resolute leaders, by taking hold of the helping hand held out by Uncle Sam, could at last bring about that permanent peace for which the true friends of Mexico have so long been praying.

But prayers must give way to actions. Fifty years from now we can foresee a decent, intelligent and well-educated people living happily in the Mexican Garden of Eden, where at present desolation and waste are the order of the day. But seeing things fifty years hence does nothing to remedy present evils. Just now Mexico needs men of action, not men of dreams and supplication.

JAPAN'S NEW POLICIES.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]

BY GEORGE BRONSON REA,
Editor the Far Eastern Review.

IF THE United States desires peace with Japan over the California issues, we can buy it at a price, we are told by Mr. Aidachi Kinnosuki, the dean of the official Japanese publicists in this country, in the February Review of Reviews. All we have to do is to acknowledge Japan's paramount commercial and political interests in China, and permit Japanese managers, engineers and other skilled assistants to exploit that country with American capital. We can take our profits from the investments under the political guarantee of Japan, but we must not send our own men there, nor must we expect the trade which follows the loans. Mr. Kinnosuki tells us:

"Besides, this answer to the Far Eastern question solves also the California problem. Let American capital and Japanese energy develop Northern Manchuria and Yunnan, and you will see with what an indecent lack of manners 'the politest race on earth' would turn their backs on the smiling foothills of California and the thirsty cities of Arizona."

In the above words Mr. Kinnosuki throws the searchlight on recent events in China obscured by the operation of Japan's publicity system. It is an axiom among well-informed journalists in the Orient that the Japanese press cannot long keep a state secret. It is bound to come out. Official denials follow as a matter of course, but when this occurs it is invariably good evidence that the story is true.

As illuminating examples of this fact it may be recalled that a Tokio newspaper published the full terms of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance three days before it was officially gazetted. It was at first officially denied, then officially confirmed. Three days after the twenty-one demands were presented last year to President Yuan they were published in full by an Osaka newspaper, yet the Japanese government strenuously denied the existence of more than eleven demands, and accused the Chinese of falsifying the facts. There are other such incidents that could be quoted to prove that the Japanese press invariably gives the cue as to where trouble will next break out in the Orient.

Mr. Kinnosuki, true to the traditions of Japanese publicity methods, now reveals to us the new slant of Japanese policy in Yunnan, the southwest province of China, located within the French sphere of interest and bordering on the Burmese province of her ally's Indian Empire. When the news was cabled from Peking in December last that proofs were in Chinese hands that the bandits in Mongolia and the revolutionaries in Shanghai had been armed by the Japanese, an indignant denial was immediately forthcoming from the Japanese Foreign Office. In November an Associated Press dispatch informed us that a French cruiser had captured a Japanese steamer off the coast of Annam carrying arms to India. Some time later the well-informed correspondent of the London Telegraph at Peking cabled that the steamer, instead of carrying arms to India, was headed for the coast of the Chinese province of Kwangsi, and that the arms were destined for the revolutionaries in Yunnan. This has not been denied. The leader of the revolt in Yunnan, Tsai-Ao, is a graduate of a Japanese military college with pronounced Japanese tendencies.

Mr. Kinnosuki's invitation that we finance Japan in Yunnan "lets the cat out of the bag." It indicates the new trend of Japanese policy, as revealed by a large section of the Japanese press. With Yunnan in their control the ring of Japanese bayonets around China is complete, and the way is paved for supplanting French interests in that province and exerting pressure on Indo-China. Japan's domination of this province gives her control of the southwest mountain passes commanding the only land road open to the empire of India beyond.

"Independence of India cannot be expected in a short time. After Japan's power has increased a great deal she may think of extending her protecting hand to India."

So Prof. Niita of the Imperial University told the people of Japan only a month ago. Prof. Yamagami, writing on "Japan in India," in the last number of the "Japan Magazine," again emphasizes the new aspirations of his people. He points out that the alliance with Great Britain affects India only in the event of that country being attacked from without; "so far as internal troubles go, the terms of the alliance do not apply."

"Between Japan and India there exists a profound sympathy in religion, literature and tradition, and we are accustomed to regard Indians as kindred. Too long, indeed, Japanese statesmen and scholars have been indifferent to India. There is a lamentable disposition on the part of the authorities in India to regard Japanese in that country as so many spies. Europeans having made their own missionaries spies in the countries where they labored, fancied the same thing about our Buddhist priests studying in India. Our traders and travelers have also come under the same suspicion. If Japan is to be expected to help in guarding India she will expect greater freedom in that country," concludes Prof. Yamagami.

Japan is not pledged to assist her ally in the event of a rebellion in India. Japan is peeved because the British authorities refuse to permit her political missionaries, operating under the guise of Buddhist priests, to spread dissatisfaction in India. The Indians are co-religionists and kindred. Japan is looking forward to heading a great Pan-Buddhistic empire. Japan lays her plans long in advance.

The day may arrive when the only road through which India may be occupied will lead through the southwest mountain passes of Yunnan. The control of Yunnan is the initial step forward in the great dream. America is requested to finance Japan in this great scheme of world dominion. There seems to be no limit to the soaring ambitions of the Japanese expansionists. The new trend of policy will not be lost on those powers whose interests are so openly menaced.

MEXICO.

God made a garden and loved it well,
  Fashioned and formed on a fair design.
"Life here a tenderer tale shall tell
For my toil-worn children, and peace shall dwell

Such was God's purpose. He planted there,
  Gathered, selected from every clime,
Green grass and flowers of beauty rare,
Fruit, grain and cattle, that all might share

  Of the western storm and the northern cold,
And filled every cleft in the rampart steep,
Wherever the pick and the drill sank deep,
  With iron and silver and oil and gold.

Man saw the garden and liked it well,
  Found it the home of his heart's desire,
And there, where the angels in peace should dwell,
He lighted a brand with the sparks of hell

OLDFIELD, O'DONNELL AND BURMAN BEAT RECORD

Burman Smashes Old Standing Start Mark.

O'Donnell and Tetzlaff Share Big Honors.

BY HOWARD ANGUS.

Eddie O'Donnell, the Irishman who never stops, and Teddy Tetzlaff, the Terrible, drove away with the lion's share of the glory and gold in the automobile races at the Ascot Speedway yesterday.

Eddie O'Donnell won the fifty-mile event by quietly sitting back in his throbbing Duesenberg, while it rolled off the laps without stopping. His time was 43m. 5s. This is faster than that made by Pullen for the first half of the 100-mile race. The Providence time looks like it might have been made by an exhibition of go-carts in comparison.

CLOSE SECOND.

Wild Bob Burman, in a Peugeot, finished second, only an eighth of a lap behind O'Donnell. Eddie Pullen, the hero of Ascot, in his Mercer was a whole lap to the rear, having stopped three times to change tires. George Hill, in Barney's Cyclone, was fourth, while Cliff Durant gave up the ghost in the thirty-first lap.

Teddy Tetzlaff, in his attractive little Milac, was the hero of the ten-mile race for light cars and the Australian pursuit race. Tetzlaff made some ten Fords and others eat his dust in the first event.

BARNEY AGAIN.

Barney Oldfield, in his fire-spitting Christie, set a new world's record for a mile track when he zig-zagged around the oval in 45s. Burman also made a new mile record from a standing start. His time was 53 1-5s., which put to shame Louis Disbrow's former mark of 1m. 3s.

The crowd of yesterday was insignificant and shrivelled in comparison with the big mass of humanity that flooded Ascot at the opening of the track. Policemen yesterday did not have to fight the jam back with their billy clubs to give the drivers a chance to race. The hundreds were missing from the rail. The center of the field was not black with men and women. The roof of the paddock was not crushing and crackling under the weight of a thousand shouting kids.

HAPPY GEORGE.

But just the same, George Bentel smiled in his sleep last night. The grand stand was a black mass. And between the grand stand and the white, simmering oval people were standing in another black bunch.

The races started promptly at 2 o'clock when a big automobile towed Barney's Christie out onto the track and pulled it along until the engine began spitting fire and rumbling and roaring like a loose volcano. The MIDWICK POLOISTS WALLOP CORONADO.

EXTRA PERIOD PLAYED BECAUSE OF TIED SCORE.

Hecksher Ties Things up with About a Minute to Play, and After Two Minutes of Overtime Drury of Midwick Puts Over His Only Goal and Wins the Game.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN DIEGO, March 19.—A tie game in a special cup match between Midwick and Coronado this afternoon kept both the players and the large crowd of polo fans at high tension. After the close of the eighth chukkur, Drury of the Midwicks made a goal, which gave the decision to Midwick.

The game was full of exciting features, and wonderful polo was played. The established rating of the two teams gave the advantage to Coronado, as their aggregate was 18 goals, while that of Midwick was 16. But the game was not a handicap game and no one could tell whose it was until the deciding goal was reached.

RATINGS.

The Midwick line-up and rating was: No. 1, R. Neustadt, 2; No. 2, R. W. Weiss, 4; No. 3, Hugh Drury, 7; No. 4, Carleton Burke, 3. Total goals, 16.

Coronado—No. 1, G. M. Hecksher, 0; No. 2, C. P. Beadlestone, 6; No. 3, Malcolm Stevenson, 8; No. 4, Maj. Colin G. Ross, 4. Total goals, 18.

Beadlestone, who is playing against the wishes of his friends since his fall, was not playing up to his rating today, but Malcolmn Stevenson, on the same team, was there every minute. Maurice Hecksher, who is not rated high, played excellent polo.

HERO HUGH.

On the Midwick team, Hugh Drury's generalship, the steady playing of Reggie Weiss, who can always be depended upon for a consistent game, and the fast mounts of Carty Burke told in the contest; and Bobby Neustadt at No. 1 played his best game of the season.

In the first period the Midwicks scored three times and until the last half of the game appeared to have it all their own way. Not until the fourth period did the Coronado team score, when Hecksher made a pretty goal. At half time the score stood 4 to 1 in favor of Midwick. Then the Coronados began to play harder and two safeties by Drury and a foul for crossing against Bobby Neustadt, pulled the Midwick score down, though they made a couple of goals.

IMPROVING.

In the eighth the playing was furious, as the score stood 5 to 4 in favor of Midwick, but a second before the closing signal Hecksher made a goal that tied the score. In the play-off for the tie, Drury soon goaled as though determined to settle the matter and the victory went to Midwick.

Midwicks—Goals, Neustadt, 2; R. Weiss, 3; Drury, 1; Burke, 1. Total goals, 7. Penalties, Foul against Neustadt; two safeties against Drury. Total penalties, 1. Net score, 6.

ANGELS CELEBRATE SABBATH BY BEATING "CHOC SHOP" PLAYERS.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE- EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ELSINORE, March 19.—The Sabbath was cut five ways here today, to-wit: Church, horseshoes, fishing, baseball and grub. Nearly everybody in town partook of one or the other of these things, while some of the more robust participated in all of them.

SOME PAIR.

Mayor Sebastian and myself attended the First Methodist Episcopal Church and, by listening to a sermon by Brother Phillips, the well-known pastor, gained the spiritual strength to sit on a hot board and watch the ball game this afternoon. President Powers and Jim Morley also attended divine worship. A few of the athletes likewise turned out, but most of them stuck around the hotel premises and played horseshoes or went down and angled for catfish, which now inhabit the lake in pleasing numbers. The lake now comes up close to the back yard of the hotel and thus the catfish are placed within the reach of all.

Grub is mentioned because the noon hour was the scene of a chawming luncheon in the middle of the dining-room at the Lakeview. This luncheon was staged by W. M. Petitfils of Los Angeles in honor of Mayor Sebastian, President Powers and the Peerless Leader. That nothing might be left out some of the scribes were also invited. The food was excellent.

THE REASON.

Mayor Sebastian is here as the guest of G. S. Woodford, grandson of Col. A. W. Woodford, a fine, old Virginian, who once ran for Governor of that State. Col. Woodford is a life-long Democrat and lives next door to the hotel. This is mentioned because he is believed to be the only Democrat in Riverside county. This shows that he has the courage of his convictions.

One of the most remarkable games of horseshoes ever played was put up by Koerner and Bassler, who shut out Thompson and Arkenburg, 21 to 0. This was far more lopsided than the baseball game in the afternoon between the Angels and the Chocolate Shops of Los Angeles, who traveled all the way down here to get licked.

OUT OF LUCK.

W. M. Petitfils, boss of the visiting team, lost out all around. Not only did he burn up a lot of gasoline coming down and going back, but he soaked a lot of good money in a handsome silver cup to be given to the winners. By virtue of winning, 5 to 1, the Angels are now the proud owners of this trophy. The cup cost $25 and will hold two gallons of anything that you want to pour into it.

It has two handles, so that you can grab it with both hands while drinking, which is a fine idea. Chance is undecided whether to fill the cup with sudphur water or use it to carry two gallons of Elsinore mud back home with him? This mud has so many good qualities that Frank wouldn't mind having some for use around the house.

MORE GUESTS.

The noon train did its duty today by depositing George Washington Zabel on the depot platform. Zabel until sold to Los Angeles was one of the Chicago Cubs best young pitchers. He cometh from Kansas City and when not pitching is a chemist by trade. He worked some yesterday but will not concoct any curves in public for some days and an equal number of nights. Zabel has already set up a laboratory and each night secretly works on a number of new curves, which he plans to spring on unsuspecting batters who have no knowledge of the mysteries of chemistry. He is preparing a gas ball which it is said, will asphyxiate the heaviest batters in the league. This gas ball does not kill outright but serves its purpose by leaving the batter unconscious for five hours. Like most of this year's crop of Los Angeles players, Zabel is a tall rangy cuss.

WASHINGTON COACH CUTS OUT STANFORD BABE RACE.

SEATTLE (Wash.) March 19.—The proposed race between the Stanford and Washington freshman eight-oared crews when the two varsity eight meet here April 8, was vetoed yesterday by Hiram B. Conibear, director of aquatics at the University of Washington. A low grade of scholarship and lack of interest among the first year men prevented a large turn out of candidates and Conibear decided that it would be inadvisable to enter a freshman crew that was not representative.

He said that he hoped to stage a triangular freshman race between California, Stanford and Washington when the University of California varsity crew races Washington here in May.

WOMEN'S TITLE IS AT STAKE.

Annandale Club is Completely Swamped in Match.

Brentwood Opening Scheduled for Saturday.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

The eighteen-hole qualifying round for the women's Southern California golf championship will be played at the Midwick Country Club tomorrow, starting at 1 p.m. Sixteen to qualify for the championship flight.

First round match play at 9 a.m. Wednesday, and mixed foursomes in the afternoon.

An approaching, putting and driving contest will begin at 11 a.m. Thursday morning, and second round match play in the afternoon.

The semi-finals will be played on Friday and the finals on Saturday.

TEAM MATCH.

After the narrow shave against San Gabriel, Midwickans put their best foot forward for the Annandale team yesterday, and licked them definitely three points to one and one tied match.

E. S. Armstrong played and defeated Arthur Braly, 3 and 1 and 1 up. Robert E. Hunter defeated E. N. Wright, 5 and 3 and 1 up. J. C. Niven beat Frank Tatum, 3 and 1 and 1 up at the nineteenth. Harold B. Lamb and Michael McLaughlin tied their match. H. B. Ingalls was the only one to score a win for Annandale, beating Hugo Johnstone 2 and 1 on both counts.

HOUSE-WARMING.

The new Brentwood Country Club at Santa Monica will make an informal debut next Saturday and Sunday, when members will invite all their friends out to see the completed nine holes, the superlative view, each other's stylish sporting clothes, to drink tea and other inspiring beverages.

Vice-President Tom McCall and Secretary Fertig are in a flutter of anxious excitement these days, for while this party is dubbed informal, it must simply ooze stylish eclat. To which end socially prominent dames will be invited to pour tea, and golf and tennis celebrities must positively be on exhibition. President Thomas C. Bundy and Madame May Sutton Bundy, for instance, must duly impress the stylish tennis tone which is to permeate the club, and golfers galore must play that sporty nine holes and pronounce them good.

B HANDICAP.

The B class players at the Los Angeles club are keeping up as much enthusiasm in their handicap event as though it carried championship laurels—why, the match between M. P. Snyder and H. W. Howard actually went to the twenty-fourth hole before Snyder could beam the conquering smile. And then he played the second round against Marion Gray and was put out by 2 and 1.

L. T. Cooper won from A. B. Barrett 1 up, Thomas Ridgeway beat J. H. Miles 7 and 6, Marion Gray beat Allen Shore 2 and 1, C. W. Pickell beat R. G. Thomas 1 up, Charlie Van Loan, one-armed, but triumphant, won from Willis G. Hunt with a swanky 6 and 5, W. S. Bicksler also beat C. W. Pendleton 6 and 5, Dr. Requa won from E. W. Maxson 3 and 1, C. G. Andrews from Albert Crutcher 5 and 4, F. S. Macfarlane from W. H. Burnham 4 and 2, J. M. Walker from S. Cole 3 and 2, F. E. McMullen from H. L. Billson 4 and 3, and E. G. Howard from Rev. C. T. Murphy 3 and 2; Frank Gillelin beat H.H. Cotton 1 up; H. A. Barclay won from Muma by default, and Barclay Brown beat L. W. Denison 1 up in twenty-four holes.

ANNANDALE TOURNEY.

The two tournaments running at Annandale have each completed another round of match play.

In the president's cup competition, H. B. Ingalls won from E. J. Bowes 1 up; F. E. Day from Don Dawson 6 and 5; H. Jevne from Dr. Brem 2 and 1, and A. G. Volk from Henry Newby 4 and 3.

Tom McCall of Brentwood,

Who is all "het up" over the house-warming and informal opening of the new club this coming Saturday and Sunday. On Tom's worthy shoulders rests the responsibility for the success and eclat of the affair.

Records Fall.

big red-beetle car rushed into the curve and began zig-zagging like a nigger chaser. The crowd rose expecting to see Barney go hurtling over the fence. But he held it down.

REAL SPEED.

On the back stretch it was just a red blur. On the upper turn Barney went high and took much more time. He had enough of zig-zagging. Down the straightaway he streaked so fast that he could not get the car under control by the time he hit the curve. Once against the Christie almost turned turtle. The announcer began shouting at the top of his voice, "Barney Oldfield sets new record for mile track. Time 45s." The crowd jumped up and shouted. Oldfield walked back to the pits still smoking his cigar. It was twitching nervously. He was rubbing his forearms. Their muscles had come near breaking from the strain.

As soon as the smoke from the Peugeot floated off the track, Teddy Tetzlaff in his Milac, Cliff Durant in his Chevrolet and a whole flock of Fords began lining up for the light car race. Starter Lowry had more fuss and worry getting them lined up then a hen has getting its chicks under cover during a thunder shower. No matter how he lined them, somebody would be out of place. Finally he took each car by the nose and pulled it into position.

STAYED THERE.

Tetzlaff was the pole car. Purring along like a sewing machine the Milac kept a quarter of a mile ahead of its nearest pursuer from start to finish.

Tetzlaff began lapping the Fords after the first five miles and kept up doggedly to the finish. Mahoney in a Ford that he had tuned up and worked over for weeks hung on about a quarter of a lap to the rear while Cliff Durant in his Chevrolet was about half a lap behind at the finish.

In the Australian pursuit race the four cars got a quarter of a mile apart for the start. Elliott in his Gordon Special was in front of the grandstand. Teddy in his Milac was just around the first curve. Parsons in his Stutz was on the back stretch. Lentz in his Romano was on the upper curve. At a signal from Lowry the cars were off.

MISSING.

As soon as a car was passed in this race, it was out. The Romano came by the grandstand crackling and spitting and choking and gurgling and making a hundred other weird noises. The mechanician was toying with the side of his car. He looked like he wanted to get under to see what was the matter. For three laps the Romano kept up the racket while the body of the mechanician flapped out to the side like a flag. As it took the curve on the fourth lap, Jim Parsons, in a Stutz rushed by it in a whirl of dust and smoke.

The Romano was out. Lentz simply let the car coast around the rest of the track and beat it for the gate. He didn't even wait to see how the race came out. The Stutz now took after the Gordon Special with the American flag painted on its side and Elliott at the wheel. Slowly, almost an inch at a time, the Stutz crept closer and closer to the white Gordon. The lavender Milac with Teddy at the wheel was on the other side of the track from the two.

The Stutz on the straighaway threw a big piece of rubber. As it took the curve, the Stutz skidded up even with the Gordon and the crowd rose. "He'll get him," it shouted. But the shout died in a gasp. The Stutz suddenly half turned around and began skidding. It bumped into the rail on the top of the curve. Everybody blinked expecting to see the car turn turtle. The rail held. The car bounced back onto the track and limped around to the pits very slowly while two scared men clung to their seats, knowing that they had almost felt the cold breath of death.

ALL OFF.

Later a tire on the Gordon began throwing little patches. The mechanician leaned over and watched it slowly go to pieces. He shouted something in Elliott's ear. The car immediately slowed down and crawled to the pits. Teddy whizzed by. Lowry grabbed the checkered flag. The mechanician waved his hands wildly. A bunch of camera men began running after Teddy, their coat tails flying behind them. An old hero had come back.

Everybody stood up and those who had money paid ten cents for five cents worth of soda pop while the five big cars got ready for the fifty mile race. Pullen and Burman were the favorites with the crowd. Each was given a cheer as his car was rolled into place.

Wild Bob Burman was riding his black bullet alone. Where a mechanician should have been was an empty hole. He was saving weight. On the second lap, Pullen, in his red car, stole past the black Peugeot on the upper curve. For fifteen laps Pullen held that lead with Burman right behind. O'Donnell was almost half a lap behind. Durant was nowhere while Hill was driving too cautiously in the Cyclone.

LAPPED.

On the fifteenth lap, Pullen shot by Durant in his fourteenth lap. Burman, sitting up straight in his car with a black mask on his face, followed doggedly, slipping by Durant a second later. As Pullen passed his pits the mechanician waved his hands. The crowd let out a long-drawn "Oh" of disappointment. Pullen was only in the pits thirteen seconds changing a tire, but that was long enough for Burman to jump into the lead. His white teeth gleamed in a grin beneath his black mask. Then Burman waved his hand for the pits and an excited yell went up. The race would be even again. The crowd forgot that O'Donnell would be a lap ahead of both.

Pullen and Burman were practically together, but on the twenty-third lap Pullen went to the pit again and changed both his rear tires. O'Donnell, in his Duesenberg, whiffed by. Burman followed down the track like some Ku-Klux Klan wild man.

Pullen then began his frantic effort to win back what he had lost. He drove madly. He took the curve low and never shut down at all. His only chance was to go like the wind and trust to luck. Slowly he began to make up that lap. At one time the Duesenberg was just a fraction under a lap ahead of him and Burman only half a lap. On the forty-first lap the red car coasted into the pits again. The race was now definitely between O'Donnell and Burman.

SPEEDING.

Burman let out to make up the half-lap. He swayed back and forth in his seat as if trying to push his car along. On the last lap he had pulled up until he was just an eighth of a lap behind, but that gap remained between him and victory to the end.

When the race was over Burman rushed wildly to his pit and began talking with his face, hands and feet all at the same time. He used some picturesque and rather violent language on his pitmen. It seems that they had been giving him the sign that he was in the lead until the forty-fifth lap, when they suddenly woke up. Too late, Burman started on his dash for the thousand bucks.

So, perhaps after all, it is a pitman, rather than his Silvertown tires that O'Donnell has to thank for the victory.

All of the cars that finished in the money were Silvertown cord tires, anyway, and there was only one pitman who blundered.

Ventura gasoline was again used by the winners. Al Waddell deserves much praise for the speed and dispatch with which the races were run off. The whole programme was over by 4 o'clock.

Alfredo de Oro, who recently lost the three-cushion billiard title to Charles Ellis, may have to wait perhaps a year before he will have another opportunity to contest for the emblem.

GLAZE COACH AT COLORADO.

BOULDER (Colo.) March 19.—Ralph Glaze, former Dartmouth and University of Colorado football star, was last night elected football coach at the University of Colorado.

Glaze was captain of the Dartmouth football team in 1906. In 1907-08, he was on the pitching staff of the Boston Americans. Last year Glaze was football coach at the University of Southern California.

DESMONDS CLAIM THE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Desmonds defeated Fullerton yesterday and lay claim to the Southern California amateur baseball championship because of this. Fullerton has defeated the San Pedro Merchants and the Pacific Electric, the other two contestants for the title. The score:

NEW RULING AIMED AT M'LOUGHLIN AND BUNDY

Local Tennis Wonders Sure to be Barred, Along with Willie Johnston, Fred Alexander and Wallace Johnson if New Proposed Rule is Put Through — Is to Become Effective in 1918.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, March 19.—The Executive Committee of the [illegible] Association last night made public a proposed new [illegible] presented for adoption at the annual meeting of the [illegible] President G. T. Adee and other officials admitted that the [illegible] so ambiguous it would be impossible under it to disbar Maurice E. [illegible] Thomas C. Bundy and W. M. Johnston, the Californians, or F. B. [illegible] and Wallace F. Johnson in the East, because of their [illegible] sporting goods business.

Two features stand out prominently in the new rule. It [illegible] source of violation by prescribing against the payment of expenses [illegible] by clubs giving tournaments unless permission is obtained from the [illegible] Committee.

It prohibits a player engaged in the sporting goods business [illegible] ing in any open tournament, match or championship while so [illegible] does not declare him a professional. Players may be disbarred [illegible] their names to be used for advertising purposes. These rules [illegible] come operative until April 1, 1918, if accepted at the annual [illegible]

President Adee explained that no action whatever was [illegible] against players now engaged in the sporting goods business. Ample [illegible] being given men to enter another line of business and it was [illegible] provision would make it possible to vote a perfect and [illegible] into the tennis code, he said.

The Executive Committee arranged the schedule of tournaments [illegible] will be issued next week. The list contains thirty more [illegible] any previous year.

Patterson's Crew to Begin Last Two Weeks of Training on Home Lot.

TIGERS WORK AT THE PARK.

Spectators will Have to Use Knot Holes.

Gleichmann and Griggs Want Same Job.

Several Pitchers Have to be Decapitated.

"Hap" Patterson and his Vernon Tigers return to Washington Park this morning for their first workout of the season on the baseball diamond. For two weeks they will practice there, getting ready for the opening of the Coast League, April 4.

SECRET STUFF.

The practice is scheduled to begin at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. This will be the first chance that the fans will have to see the Tigers. From all reports this chance will be through a knot hole. Lock, key and bar are to be at Washington Park. The magnate believes that seeing and knowing too much about the teams beforehand is bad for the gate and takes the edge off the baseball appetite.

For that reason the fans are to be forced to hunger for baseball until the season opens. After that they can see all they want at 50 cents in the shade and 25 cents in the sun.

SOME JOB.

Patterson is confronted with the delicate and rather disagreeable task of getting rid of about half his players. The rules read that only seventeen men can be carried, and the Tigers have something like thirty now.

The fight for places on the squad is one of the hardest that has been seen in years. Perhaps the stiffest fight of all is at first base, between Gleichmann and Art Griggs. At Santa Paula both of these players were hitting the ball hard, while Gus was fielding with his usual brilliancy. A slump for either one this week will mean cooking his gander.

THE HEAVERS.

The next two weeks are also to be trying ones for the pitchers. There are eleven on hand, and only seven will be able to stick the season. What makes the cutting so difficult for Patterson is that all of them have big league or Federal league reputations and are just naturally good.

About the only men who feel safe are the outfielders, and they are nervous.

SLIM LOVE IS ON CRUTCHES.

MACON (Ga.) March 19.—The hospital squad of the Yankees received a large addition today in the person of Slim Love, the six-feet-seven hurler of California pitching talent. Slim came through yesterday's practice session without any injury but on the way back to the hotel from the ball park he tripped over a rail on the tracks which the Yanks have to cross and sprained his instep severely. He was able to get around last night but today Warry Sparrow had to requisition a pair of crutches for the tall boxman. The longest crutch made is too short for Slim, but he is struggling along under the handicap. It is not likely that he will be able to pitch for the next two weeks, perhaps not then.

Love's injury, closely following that of Shocker on Thursday, has increased the burdens of Wild Bill Donovan. These two were in the front ranks among the youngsters who "have shown something" and Donovan has been planning to look both over carefully before he is called upon to make his final selection of pitchers. Both of the injured men rounded into shape quickly and have been displaying fine form. If they suffer setbacks which are expected to keep them out of the game for some time each is likely to lose the form already attained.

MR. UNDERTAKER DO YOUR WORST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) March 19.—Billy Papke, former middleweight champion, who quit the ring in 1913, will emerge from retirement April 12, when he will meet Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul in a ten-round bout here, it was announced last night.

Angels Win.

President Powers, Jim Morley and Secretary Weber plan to depart from this place tomorrow and barring accidents and speed cops, should be in Los Angeles before nightfall. Powers worked out with the athletes yesterday and enjoyed a swim. He would very much like to stay longer but business calls him hence. He is busy trying to provide the opening-day customers the best that the market affords in the way of seats. He brings the pleasing news that every box seat has been sold and paid for.

Boots Weber brought down a roll of bills with him large enough to fill the beak of a pelican, but after settling with some of the ball players who paid their own way to California and attending to some other matters that called for money, he goes home a poor man.

NO CHANCE.

While here Weber called off the proposed game in San Diego next Sunday. Learning that it was a ninety-mile drive with two or three rivers to cross, he decided that the athletes might not be able to stand this strain. In passing up this pastime the club also passes a $250 guarantee. That shows how little we care for money.

Jim Morley, umpired today's game single-handed and got away good. A lot of umpires have not succeded doing this, especially after the game.

The horned toad which Harl Maggert and Jack Ryan discovered in their bed seems to have become a fixture on the club. No way has yet been found to get rid of it. It was sent away the other day but returned to the hotel later in an innocent-looking pasteboard box, address to Ralph Works. This morning it was unexpectedly found in Oscar Hortsman's pants pocket about 10 a.m. Oscar does not care much for horned toads and rather than reach in his pocket and remove it, he rapidly took off his trousers and threw them out of the second-story window. In this way he was able to get rid of the toad.

The boys intend to return Oscar's pants to him tomorrow morning and this means that he will appear in public again today. He is tired of having his meals served up stairs and longs to mingle with the giddy throng in the dining-room. Pete Standridge has adopted the toad for his own and expects to take it for a trip around the circuit with him this season. No other toad has been thus favored.

Levi Arkenburg and Frank Shellenbach, two young pitchers brought here from Los Angeles, will be sent home to their parents tomorrow. It is felt that they need more experience. In case Chance can't place them with some other club, he will be forced to release them outright in a few days. Already the club management has sunk $30 worth of hotel grub in these two youngsters here and in case they are released, this will be a total loss. This thing of being compelled each spring to feed young players for other leagues of lower classification is one of the most depressing things about running a ball team.

REAL MONEY.

The game today was witnessed by $40 worth of paid admissions. Mayor Sebastian threw the first ball with consumate skill and grace. It was hoped to have Mayor Krek of Elsinore catch this ball, but he explained that he is only a bush Mayor and would not go behind the bat with a major league Mayor pitching.

The combat was so close for five innings as to cause the Peerless Leader to wrinkle his brow thoughtfully between innings. The Chocolates sprung on us a southpaw pitcher by the name of Matt Wells, who has all kinds of hooks and but for the fact that his support exploded in two innings, he would have held the Angels to two runs, despite the fact that they outhit the visitors seven to five.

Jack Ryan worked five innings, Scoggins two and Williams one. Jack fanned no less than six. At the end of the fifth he was so warm that he was boiling over at the tops of his shoes. Watch his smoke this season. An error by Larson let in a run in the third with Jack on the job, but the Angels tied it up in the last half, when the opposing shortstop threw the ball out of the park.

RAH FOR LARSON.

Larson redeemed himself in the seventh when he scored two with a mammoth triple into the broad open country beyond center field. After that the issue was no longer in doubt and in the eighth, an error and two singles paved the way for two more runs. Scoggins and Williams both showed good form.

Joe Jackson, Jr., again looked good. He is very fast and stole two bases. He would have swiped another had he not been overcome by the heat. Boles, who stole one base yesterday, swiped two more today. At this rate he will steal approximately 400 this season, counting exhibition games.

Although none of the boys played dirty ball they all took a swim following the game. This sure is the life if you don't weaken.

SHAVER LANDS FAT EIGHTEEN-POUNDER.

Roy F. B. Shaver, the rotund secretary of the Southern California Rod and Reel Club, showed a couple of eastern visitors a sample of light-tackle fishing yesterday off San Pedro. Mr. A. Bauer of Chicago, a guest of the Hotel Raymond, and Mr. I. Shrimski, also of Chicago, were Shaver's guests. A few miles off shore they encountered a fleet of yellowtail. Roy succeeded in landing an eighteen-pound specimen on a three-strand line after twenty minutes of arduous and intellectual effort.

BOBBIE VAUGHN UNSIGNED STILL.

TACOMA, March 19.—Robert Vaughn, second baseman for the St. Louis Feds last season, is still up a tree and out on a limb, for he is not certain as to what he will do this season. He has heard nothing from the East and present negotiations with Manager McCredie of the Portland club have been discontinued.

Vaughn declared today that the only way he will talk business with McCredie is under condition that the latter take the Federal League contract into consideration. Vaughn asserts that McCredie ignored this feature of the deal entirely. At present Vaughn is aiding his father in the latter's campaign for a place on the City Commission.

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) March 19.—With Fincher, Wellman and Groom pitching in mid-season form, the St. Louis Americans won an easy victory over the Memphis (Southern Association) club today, 9 to 0.

LATE RALLY WINS FOR THE INDIANS.

NEW ORLEANS (La.) March 19.—The Cleveland Americans defeated the New Orleans (Southern Association) team here today, 5 to 4. The visitors scored two runs in the ninth inning.

Rain Fails to Feaze McCredie's Ducks.

FOUR DUCKS SLAP 'EM OVER THE PAN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, March 19.—McCredie paraded four pitchers before about 300 fans today and had the satisfaction of seeing Portland trim the St. Mary's College boys for the third successive day. Score 5 to 3.

On points, a tall, spindly southpaw named Whelan, of the college band, really deserved about a 3 to 2 game. Although Whelan allowed but four hits, the professionals garnered five runs off him, due to his poor support.

Harstad, Higginbotham, Dunn and then Smith took turns serving up the slants for Portland. Smith was the only one of the quartette to come through unscathed.

ONE-STEP IS ONLY WORK FOR OAKLETS.

BOYES SPRINGS, March 19.—A party of more than 100 excursionists headed by J. Peter Cook, Secretary of the Oakland Boosters Association came up here today to see the "Live Oaks" perform on the diamond but were disappointed.

The first rain of the training season visited here last night and today.

Manager Elliott found that it was out of the question to either allow his athletes to play a game or to even go through their regular practice stunts.

The day was not misspent, however, as there was plenty of entertainment for both visitors and players.

Dancing and music in theater were the order for the day and all the players were roundly cheered by the Oakland boosters as they were introduced to the fans.

SLOPPY WEATHER HINDERS SEALS.

SAN JOSE, March 19.—Rainy weather and wet grounds combined to give the Seals a holiday this afternoon instead of the hard grind that had been expected. In consequence, if the weather behaves any better tomorrow, there will be a full-fledged workout.

So far as the condition of the men is concerned, Wolverton can well afford a couple of days of vacation. For the most part, the athletes are rounding into form a little more rapidly than might be desired and there is always a possibility of going stale.

It isn't likely that Elmer Lang, the outfielder, will be with the Seals for long, as he hardly has the necessary weight that he would need to back him up. The balance of the boys, aside, possibly, from Young Maggini, who needs more seasoning, are almost sure of remaining with the squad up to the cutting-down time.

MODESTO REDS WIN GAME FROM BEES.

MODESTO, March 19.—The Modesto Reds defeated the Salt Lake team this afternoon by a score of 3 to 2. Blankenship and a second squad won at Fresno from the Fresno All-stars by a score of 6 to 0.

The local contingent played an errorless game against the Reds, but gained but three swats off Philo Mobley, the Reds' standby, and two off Shader, whom O'Connor loaned the Modestans for the last four innings. Salt Lake made their two runs off Mobley. Kuhn was behind the bat for Modesto. Hall, Koch and Averill pitched three innings each for Salt Lake with Murray holding the backstop. The Reds swatted for a total of seven hits. The line-up of the stay-at-homes was: Vann, 1b; Thompson, 2b; Murphy, ss; Mohler, 3b; Musell, Fittery, Peterson, outfield. Blankenship and his second squad made the trip to Fresno by auto, expecting to return tonight.

STARLAND SPARKLES.

QUIPS AND CUES FROM LOCAL THEATER WORLD.

By Grace Kingsley.

John Blackwood's play, "Come Again, Smith," is to be produced by Manager Oliver Morosco following "A Romance of the Underworld," now running at the Morosco Theater. It is a comedy of youth, and Mr. Morosco considers Edmund Lowe and Ida St. Leon eminently fitted to the leading roles. Rehearsals begin today.

Morosco's New Ones.

Mr. Morosco announced last night that he had just purchased two new plays. One is entitled "The Three Wise Men," and is by Stanley Dark, the other is by Alfred Brown and is called "Slander." These are shortly to be staged by Mr. Morosco.

Lenore as Senorita.

Lenore Ulrich will come west the first of July, following the close of the Belasco play, and will create the leading role in a new play not yet named, dealing with old Spanish days in California, something after the manner of the "Rose of the Rancho." Mr. Morosco says he is not yet at liberty to announce the name of the author.

Some Scenery.

A futuristic setting and costuming is to be given "Canary Cottage." Mr. Morosco has brought Robert McQuinn, the famous scenic artist, from New York to supervise the scenery and stage settings of the new musical play, and Mme. Keeler, who has staged so many New York successes and who made the costumes for the Morosco productions last winter, has returned from New York and will see to the costuming of the new play, working in collaboration with Mr. McQuinn.

Futuristic scenic effects are the latest word in staging productions, "Watch Your Step" and "Around the Map" being New York examples.

Wise as Falstaff.

Thomas Wise before coming west to appear at the Morosco, is to play Falstaff in the James H. Hackett production of "The Merry Wives of Windsor," in New York, Mr. Hackett having given up the part on account of illness. In the cast with Wise will be Viola Allen, Henrietta Crossman and Orrin Johnson.

As the New York Telegraph justly remarks, "Mr. Wise will play the part without any padding. In his case, at least, nature and Shakespeare have co-operated."

Harmony Note.

Exceptionally sweet songs will be those rendered by Freckles, in the play of that name which comes to the Mason tonight. They were specially composed for the "Freckles" production by the eminent Viennese composer, Anatol Friedland, and they will not be heard in any other traveling organization.

Understudying the Bees.

Max Hoffman arrived in town late last night, and immediately following the Orpheum performance in the evening set a gang of men at work arranging for the scenery and lighting effects of "Sumurun," which Gertrude Hoffman brings to the Orpheum today. The fellow that has the good luck to be sitting back stage during the performance will have a most interesting view of one of the best bits of stage craft ever manipulated.

High above the stage are two bridges on which the lighting apparatus is arranged. From these bridges dangle the feet of the electricians, who, without thought of a possible tumble of eighty feet or more to the stage floor, manipulate most of the lights used in the production. Amber, blue and white lights, cast straight downward, flood the stage, while from the front of the house blue spotlights shine. Bunch lights are used at the side of the stage.

The scenes are built, one behind the other, as far as practicable, so that it is largely a matter of taking one setting out of the way, to reveal another in back of it.

The whole production is said to have cost $15,000.

Ramona Shifts.

The "Ramona" management, including W. H. Clune, Lloyd Brown and R. H. Poole, are in New York, and word from them is that the big production will go on at the Forty-fourth-street Theater April 5, with indications that the spectacle will run for twelve months. Mr. Clune has leased the theater outright.

Double Exposure.

Hector J. Streyckmans, studio manager of the Mirror Films, is the father of twins, who have just turned the first milestone in their movie careers. Although Streyckmans denies it, there is a rumor at the Mirror studio that the twins are to be starred in a dual personality picture.

We Miss Her.

All the newspaper boys and girls know her as "'Lizbeth." The public doesn't know her at all, except as a very sweet and courteous voice. But her name is Elizabeth Plummer, she dispenses information and kindness over the Morosco Theater 'phone, and just at present she is very ill at her home with bronchitis, which threatens to run into pneumonia. A lot of us miss little "'Lisbeth."

What's the Use?

Sam Bolder, doorman at the Orpheum, hadn't had an extra day off for four years. Somebody told him he was looking piqued, the other day, and they let him have two days all in a bunch. When he came back Billie McDermott asked him if he had a good time.

"You bet I did!" responded Sam.

"What did you do?" inquired Billie.

"Why, I went over and spent the afternoon with Billie Davids at the stage door of the Morosco."

Some Backfire.

No use trying to get ahead of Grace de Mar. One of the boys on the bill with her at the Orpheum came up to where she was standing in the wings waiting to go on, the other day, and laid his hand on her lily-white shoulder.

"Don't do that," admonished Grace.

"Don't you want me to be delicatessen?" asked the youth, fresh as mountain air.

"Yes, be delicatessen," replied the witty young lady, "but don't get cafeteria and help yourself!"

Shine for Charity.

The Actors' Fund promises to be richer by several hundred dollars following the ball and entertainment to be given at the Huntington Hotel, in Pasadena next Wednesday evening. The big dining-room is to be turned into a ballroom and theater combined, and some of the leading stars will take part in the entertainment.

William C. de Mille has written a brand new satirical playlet, entitled "In 1999," in which Constance Collier, William Collier and Paula Marr Collier will appear.

Mae Murray, the famous comedienne of the Follies, now in pictures with the Lasky Company, with the aid of Stafford Pemberton will give their own interpretation of the Meditation from "Thais." Earl Carroll will sing one of his "Canary Cottage" melodies; and Harry Williams, well-known song writer, will offer some of his latest compositions assisted by Harry McCoy at the piano. Lena Basketta, the child dancer, will also appear.

A double quartette of flower girls representing the many studios in Los Angeles, will be composed of Anita King, Fay Tincher, Mae Bush, Edith Johnson, Margaret Gibson, Margery Daw, May Gaston and Marcia Moore. The combined orchestras of the Maryland and Huntington hotels will furnish the music.

Manager Walker at Pantages is proving that troubles never come singly, since the announcement that Alex Pantages will enter the movie producing field, aspirants for financial connection with Pantages comedies have besieged Manager Walker in companies, platoons, regiments and brigades.

JESS READY FOR BATTLE.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Jess Willard, satisfied with his condition, said today he was physically fit to enter the ring at any moment to defend his title of world's heavyweight champion. He did not take any exercise today, except a walk of three and a half miles. The big Kansan rested quietly at his uptown quarters.

For the last three or four days Willard has been speeding up gradually in his boxing bouts with his partners and for the next five days he intends to take on each of his sparring aides for at least three rounds. He has taken off much useless weight by his active gymnasium work and yesterday tipped the scales at 251 pounds. He expects to enter the ring weighing about 248 pounds.

RITCHIE MITCHELL TO BATTLE WELSH.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) March 19.—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion, and Richie Mitchell, Milwaukee, have been matched for a ten-round bout here for either April 7 or April 10, it was announced tonight.

DAVE GREGG GETS ANOTHER CHANCE.

PORTLAND (Or.) March 19.—Pitcher Dave Gregg, whose ticket was taken up by the Portland management when he failed to call for it promptly at Clarkston, Wash., will get a chance with Spokane. Manager Nick Williams of the Indians announced this today: "I think we can get some good baseball out of Gregg," said Williams, "and as the McCredies are willing, we will take him over."

A Slaughter.

GERMAN MARKSMEN WIPE EARTH WITH RIFLE CLUB.

Only Two Men on the National Champions are Able to Defeat Mrs. Kris Kremple and They Offer an Alibi that They are not Accustomed to this Kind of Shooting, Anyway.

BY E. C. CROSSMAN.

A PASSEL of military rifle shooting gents were persuaded Sunday by the riflemen of the Turner section that they really ought to stick in their own backyards. In figures said persuasion read, Turners 1694, Rifle Club 1562.

The rifle club men, as in times gone by, toddled over to the Turner playground with the laudable idea of wiping up Schuetzen Park with the German riflemen in an offhand match. Now offhand is no longer a part of military rifle shooting, nor has it been since 1914, and ever since that time the clubmen have had an ear or two chewed off every time they tackled the Turner club, which shoots offhand entirely. In 1914 the rifle club, shooting offhand regularly, got away with their German friends to the tune of two matches certain, and one match uncertain because of errors in scoring. But alas.

Sunday the grand idea was that both clubs were to fire through the ten shots offhand at 200 on the German ring target and from the scores pick the ten least worst men for the teams to fire the real match in the afternoon. Fourteen men showed up for the rifle club out of about twenty-five who were just crazy to get in such a match—but were married.

"As Usual Choe Singer," was the high man for the central nations, scoring 209, good for a lot of folks but hardly normal for Choe. Frick cruelly started after the high score of the rifle club and topped it three points, or 203. Outside this there was nothing much to point out for the Germans, while the rifle club team tapered rapidly and sadly off from 200 and 190 to 167 for the third score and 120 for the tenth.

For the rifle club, the Springfield, variously adorned with sights other than the service, but with the same old kick and bellow peculiar to the army rifle of the United States, now represented some miles south of the Mexican border, was the instrument used for target punching in the rings foreign to the bullseye. For the Turners various sorts of the awful weapon yclept Schuetzen rifle did the work. The distinguishing features of these weapons is the fact that they have set or hair triggers, telescope sights or other fine fixin's, palm rests, Texas steer butt plates and cheek rests with alarm clock attachment to wake up the shooter after a little snooze so he can fire his shot and get out of the firing booth. There is also the notable points that you can forget to put a bullet in during the process of inserting primer, two or three sorts of powder, a wad, and said bullet. It was done Sunday.

The William R. Ruess Mitchell trophy, another very ornate, shiny and tall silver cup for high man, led to some dispute as to its ownership, the two highest rifle club men refusing to arbitrate, not seeing any way to split the cup with results satisfactory from the standpoint of looks. At the tenth shot the two highest men, Wotkyns and Crossman, as in the Nogales match of two weeks ago, were nearly tied, with a point separating them. Again the jinx settled on the rooftree of poor Wotkyns and the other fellow carried off the cup for keeps. It was understood from the assurance of other rifle club men present that the supply of bristles is unusually good this spring from indications they have noted. A soft-eyed, good-looking German Hausfrau, Mrs. Krempel, with heavy target rifle, put on 174, sixth place on her rifle team.

Winchester Harry Hoyt, Fox and Cooper of the Sheriff's office, Laughlin, just escaped from Sonora, Mex., and a resident of Nogales, were among those present or accounted for.

Dr. Taber of the Schutzen layout broke all records and precedents by landing a pair of clean misses, something he claimed had not happened in his history since the days he used to hit the floor in three throws with his nursing bottle, which was well over sixty years ago.

The Turners, through their practice at this game, are better marksmen offhand, and this is pretty nearly telling the story without all the other excuses. Nothing is said as to what the Turners would do if required to fire ten shots in two minutes from the prone position at a man figure 300 yards away, or ten shots at 200 from the kneel.

The Germans really shot a better score than they have done as a team for some time, and deserved their victory.

April 2 the rifle club takes on the Nogales Rifle Club, which recently licked Phoenix Rifle Club, in a return match over the straight military rifle course of 200 and 300 timed fire, 300, 500 and 600 slow fire, high ten men for each club.

Track Hopes.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, March 19.—Followers of track athletics at Stanford are confident that Coach "Dad" Moulton will again turn out a team that will lower the colors of the Gold and Blue in the annual meet with the University of California. In spite of the loss of such men as Bonnett of Riverside, Lachmund, Chace and Bedeau by graduation, the showing of the squad this year has been highly encouraging. The withdrawal of Capt. "Ric" Templeton proved an unexpected blow, but his successor, "Feg" Murray, is confident of chalking up another victory over the men from across the bay.

Murray is expected to capture numerous points, as usual. Besides holding the Coast low hurdle record, he has demonstrated his ability as a sprinter, and will no doubt be used to bolster up this rather weak department of the Cardinal team. Not only does he consistently run the 100 yards in close to 10 seconds, but he has recently tied the Stanford record of 21 4-5 in the 220. When he is able to spare a little time from these events, he can toss the shot well over forty feet.

In the shot put, "Reg" Caughey, with his record of forty-seven feet, is expected to again take first place, while Bihlman is showing up well. "Bill" Sisson is better than ever in the broad jump, and he has already several times passed the twenty-three foot mark. Otto Lachmund is now above six feet in the high jump, and with Wheatly of Los Angeles and Dykes should take good care of this event. Caughey and Earl of Los Angeles have done the best work in the hammer throw.

With Aupperle running the mile in 4:20, and improving all the time, "Skin" Wilson has transferred his activities to the half-mile, which he negotiates in 2 minutes or thereabouts. Schnell and Scott are running close at his heels.

Chapman is as good as ever in the two-mile, but has been pressed by Loucks and A. F. Wilson.

In the hurdles, Johnny Norton has been running a hairs breadth behind Murray, and can be depended upon to take his share of the points. Halsted of Riverside is the next best man in this event.

The dashes have been the cause of some worry. Dick Grant has been making faster time than last year, and has been running second to Murray. Niklason and Johnson are the leading contestants besides these two. There are a number of quarter-milers who have been making good time. Among the best are Wright Lynn, Dievendorff and Eddie Beal of Los Angeles, with Lynn having a little the edge so far with the time of 51 2-5. Competition in the pole vault is keen since the announcement of the ineligibility of "Bob" Krohn, with Macomber, Phillips, Hutchinson and J. W. Templeton in the field.

Stanford freshmen have this year appeared unusually prominent in all branches of athletics, and have shown up well in track, although of course, ineligible for varsity competition. Prominent among the '19 cinder path men are several former southern high school boys. "Jud" House of Riverside has lived up to his past brilliant record, as is evident from his recent breaking of the Pacific Coast record of 24 1-5s. in the low hurdles, formerly held by Murray. House was timed at 24 flat, and there has been much speculation as to what the result of the race would have been if Murray had entered. Murray is not usually hard pressed in this, his favorite event, and future meetings between the two will no doubt be lively affairs.

Coach James Ten Eyck, Jr., of Duluth Boat Club, national champions in all but the intermediate and senior sculling events last year at Springfield, Mass., has secured his brother, Edward Hanlen Ten Eyck, winner of the Diamond sculls at the royal English Henley regatta, some years ago, to instruct the club's sculling candidates.

SAN PEDRO WINS FROM P. E. TEAM.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, March 26.—The San Pedro Merchants again defeated Dan Tobey's fast Pacific Electric team here today in a free batting game, the score standing 11 to 8. The feature of the game was the batting of Defty for San Pedro, who got a two-bagger and a single with all bases full. San Pedro made 12 hits and the P. E. team 5.

Batteries—San Pedro: Cummings and Widner; Pacific Electrics: Evans, Bell and McLain. Umpire Gohenix. Bell was taken out in the seventh inning.

Something New.

BADGER WINS SQUASH, RACQUETS.

TOURNEY FIRST EVER HELD IN THE SOUTH.

Game is Played in Small Box-like Room with Racquets Something Like Tennis—Six Doctors Take Part in Club Tournament, Farquhar Outplayed by Champion.

H. D. Badger is now the proud possessor of squash-racquets championship of Southern California. He has just won the first tournament of that kind that has ever been held in the south.

The tournament was played at the L.A.A.C. under the guiding hand of Nye Williams. It has been going on for about two weeks now.

The game is played in a little cracker-box room with a wire cage over the top of it. Two men get in this with a couple of racquets and proceed to knock a little green ball around as hard and as fast as possible. The ball bounces from wall to wall so fast that it looks like about fifty green balls bouncing at once. The rally usually ends by one of the men hitting at one of the forty-nine green-looking things that is not the ball.

The man that Badger defeated in the finals was R. D. Farquhar. The victory was rather an easy one for the champion, who won in straight sets, 15-5, 15-7, 15-0. In the last game Farquhar was too tired and disgusted to care what happened.

The second division has not reached the finals. This is to be played by Dr. B. M. Frees and Alfred Wright. The match will be held on Wednesday.

Head Coach Charles F. Courtney of Cornell University crews continues to slowly improve from the injuries incurred at Poughkeepsie last year, but he may not start active work with the rowing squads until they take to the water.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CHINO, March 19.—The baseball team of this city defeated the Los Angeles Japanese nine here today by the score of 4 to 2. Sanji, the Los Angeles High School pitcher, was on the mound for the Japanese, and pitched a brilliant game. He struck out ten men.

City Marshal Olin Stark, who was umpire, was knocked out during the game. He got in the way of a ball that Sanji threw to first. The Marshal sprawled out on the ground, but immediately got up and said that he felt fine. The score:

By Henry Christeen Warnack.

[illegible] time an American and an Englishman happened to be eating at the same table in a restaurant. The word [illegible] is correctly used here. One does [illegible] dine at restaurants.

As the meal neared its perilous conclusion, the American made inquiry as to dessert. He was informed that there was apple pie, peach pie, cranberry pie, cream pie and lemon custard. The American said, "You may bring me some of the apple pie, the peach pie, the cranberry pie and the cream pie."

The Englishman was long since through his dinner, but he waited for the American and after he had followed him for some three blocks, he approached him with great deference and said, "I beg your pardon, but would you mind tell me what was the matter with that lemon custard?"

Down at the Morosco this week they have a play with twenty-nine principals and I cannot imagine what was the matter with the thirtieth, unless it is that Mr. Wesner, the director, can only count to twenty-nine. There are men whose mathematics is not their strong point and, for all I know, Mr. Wesner may be incapable of putting a cast into logarithms.

Whatever Mr. Wesner lacks in numbers, however, he has more than made up in types.

On the stage, types are not the same as on the screen. You can make a type for the stage, and you generally do if you get them, but good acting threatens to become a lost art through the motion-picture craze to find for each part a natural type and [illegible] requiring neither make-up nor dissembling. An actor being one who dissembles, it stands to reason that he cannot always be a type and an actor at the same time.

This is an interesting line of thought, with lots to be said on both sides but it is unfair to the Morosco cast and "A Romance of the Underworld" to follow it further here.

Of course, the romance of this story has nothing to do with the underworld, since neither the young lawyer, who is the hero, nor the sister of the young inspector, who is being persecuted by the crooked politician and [illegible], belong to the lower strata of society or have any connection with them. It merely happens that they come in contact with criminal court atmosphere during the trial and that the incidents attending the trial lead them also into the corridors of a jail.

The play is something on the order of "The Escape," although not nearly so strong, and is by the same author, the late Paul Armstrong, who was skilled in depicting his characters, but who never succeeded in imbuing them with paramount motives nor in dividing the sheep from the goats with any great clarity.

This last is no grievance. It is possible that the Great Judge of us all cannot do so. This mercy, however, makes a better world than it does a play, because any number of underworld characters, who have [illegible] in the plot of this melodrama and who are used merely as the units forming the background, are much more interesting than the principal.

None of us cared a lot to find that the hero intended to marry the heroine—we knew this would happen from the start—but many of us would give much to learn whether John Nixon, the ex-convict, kept straight and made good as a teamster; whether [illegible] and his wife, Levita, went on multiplying and replenishing at the rate of three little hyphens every four years, and whether "Dago [illegible]" was at the prison gate to meet "Slippery Jake" at the expiration of his term. Authors have an [illegible] way of cheating our legitimate appetite for consequences.

The play has the blessing of a great part greatly enacted or it may be that a small part has been elevated to greatness by the player. James K. Applebee has made of John Nixon the finest character bit that has been seen on a local stage since David Warfield's last engagement in "The Auctioneer." I can imagine Mansfield [illegible] through all the rest for Applebee's perfect appearances, and I can imagine David Belasco attempting to sleep on a night when he could witness this exquisite portrayal.

After this Mr. Applebee may be called upon for the metamorphosis of a hundred parts, but I think I shall always see him with ashen face, dull eyes and twitching hands, the absolute master of a crystalline conception. The "Dago Annie" of Miss [illegible] was pleasing comedy and deserved its wholesome appreciation, but the work of Mr. Applebee merited something more akin to reverence.

Miss Elliot's Levita was refreshing and Mr. Corrigan's O'Leary was [illegible] and adequate.

[Saturday Evening Post:] Margaret Illington was making a coast-to-coast tour as the star in "Within the Law" [illegible] seasons back. She had reached the far end of the one-night stands [illegible] the Southwest. To break a long jump she was to play in a new [illegible] that expects to have [illegible] inhabitants some day.

As the lady, in the early morning, alighted from the through train, with her maid and her manager and her supporting company, a colored [illegible] took hold of her hand baggage and led the way, bowing and scraping, to where the hotel bus waited. Following him, Miss Illington emerged from the station shed on an expanse [illegible] stores flanking each side [illegible] road.

Considerate Lillian.

[illegible] "Don't you think, Lillian, [illegible] your father if I told [illegible]"

"[illegible] rather have you wait until [illegible] the wedding, dear. Mother says [illegible] is poor, and she fears just [illegible] anything to his financial [illegible]"

TO FACE CHECK CHARGE.

Member of Wealthy Gotham Family Brought From the East.

L. L. Done, who is said by the police to be a member of a wealthy New York family, was detained at the Central Police Station last night. He is en route to San Diego, where he will be tried on a forgery charge. Done was arrested last week in Bilbo, Miss., by Detective Hayes of San Diego.

It is alleged Done passed worthless checks for $1500 at San Diego while he was employed by an undertaking company several months ago. Following his disappearance from San Diego he went to Biloxi, Miss., where he is said to have posed as a wealthy society man.

According to the police he cashed a worthless check in Biloxi and went to Bilbo. After his arrest at the latter place he swallowed poison in jail in an attempt to end his life. He was taken to New Orleans for treatment before starting for California with the detective.

JAIL AFTER EXPLOSION.

Two Greek Grocers Arrested when Store is Wrecked.

Gus Rados and George Lampos, proprietors of a grocery store at No. 572 Santa Fe avenue, were arrested last night following an explosion which wrecked the store and completely ruined stock said to be valued at about $1500.

Both were charged with suspicion of arson. They told the police they were "out for a walk when the explosion occurred." The store and stock were said to be insured for $1000.

THE WHALE AN ANIMAL.

Lives in the Ocean, but is Not a Fish by Any Means.

[Milwaukee Sentinel:] First let us dispel the popular idea that a whale is a fish. It is not a fish, but an animal. It feeds its young with milk. And even though it lives in the water it can be drowned. A fish extracts oxygen from the water and takes it in through its gills. But the whale has to rise to the surface and get a supply of oxygen from the air. When it does this it spouts water to make room for air; and the fishermen say: "There she blows."

A whale has a large, flat tail, about eighteen feet across. Every fish has an upright tail. That is because fish need their tails only to act as rudders. But a whale, when he needs oxygen, has to beat down the water and get to the surface in bounds. That's the reason his tail is flat.

The baleen, or whalebone whale, carries all the whalebone in his mouth. It hangs down from his upper jaw in a vast network. He eats the smallest sort of jellyfish, etc. Having no teeth, he swims right into a shoal of things that form his food and the network of whalebone acts as a huge fishing net. Whalebone is worth $10,000 a ton, and one whale may carry one and a half tons of it. Besides whalebone we get tons of oil from a whale. It is used for ointments and very fine candles. And from a certain species of whale we get ambergris, which is worth from $10 to $30 an ounce. The whale is a floating fortune.

BIG HANDS.

Their Possessor Declared to Be Usually an Honorable Man.

[Answers:] Most people seem to object to bigness, as applied to features of the body—big feet, big ears, big mouth, particularly.

As a rule, the man who has a taste for science has a big hand, and a bony one. He carries it loosely on his wrists. It is not a beautiful hand, as an artist counts beauty; but it is true that mere beauty does not often go with the very highest character.

The man who possesses this large, angular, knobbly, capacious hand never tells a lie. Moreover, he will not pass a misstatement or an exaggeration. It is this exactitude which makes him a scientist, even if his opportunities have never allowed him to study.

If the hand is not only large, but instead of being knobbly and angular is smooth and inclined to be fat, it belongs to quite another kind of person.

You will see that kind of hand belonging to the well-contented person opposite to you at a public dinner, who is always calling for the wine-list, and scanning the menu, for fear he may be inadvertantly missing something good.

The big, smooth hand is capacious. It is apt to be rapacious. It is the hand of Mammon.

They are Interested.

[Minneapolis Journal:] The charge that the American is no longer interested in politics is refuted by the fact that thirteen men have been indicted in Charleston, W. Va., as a result of a shooting in the Democratic city convention.

Shrine Party.

was a film tramp. These were the principals.

At first there was considerable chaffing and much horseplay among the "actors," but soon the rasping commands of the directors, the constant clicking of the camera and the general idea of the play became real and the performers jumped into the work in a way that elicited much praise from the big crowd of "movie" fans present. The other actors in the play were:

Capt. Perchang, Dr. Frederick R. Smith, Rochester; first private, F. B. Silverwood, Potentate of Al Malaikah Temple, Los Angeles; the minister, Imperial Potentate J. Putnam Stevens, Portland, Me.; cowboy, James E. Chandler, Kansas City; cowboy, Dr. F. F. Whitcomb, Omaha; cowboy, R. B. Montgomery, Pittsburgh; cowboy, Conrad V. Dykeman, Brooklyn; the rancher, Shirley Christy, Phoenix; the southerner, David W. Crosland, Montgomery, Ala.; the Sheriff's boy, Dr. H. B. Cave, Dallas; "Fatty," A. A. D. Rahn, Minneapolis; editor of the Daily Gulch, C. B. Greene, Dayton, O.; the bartender, A. C. Downing, Milwaukee; "Arizona" Charlie, Charles Block, Rochester; District Attorney, J. Q. Watkins, Kansas City; the postmaster, Alexander Gilliland, Pittsburgh.

The film will be shown at all of the 139 shrines in America as soon as copies of the master film can be made. The idea of the play was conceived by Noble Chester Thompson of this city and he, together with Roy Clements and Otis Turner, saw that the scenario was a success.

Tonight when the visitors start for the north they will be able to say that they can date time from the Sunday spent in Los Angeles, as it was perhaps, the busiest period in their lives, and also, judging from casual expressions, probably one of the most enjoyable.

Edith Cavell Mountain.

[New York Evening Sun:] Canada has officially decided to honor the martyred Edith Cavell by perpetuating her name in one of the most rugged and picturesque of the western range of peaks. The government has named a mountain in the Rockies on the fringe of Alberta, after the heroine.

Mt. Cavell is a snow-clad, outstanding peak more than 11,000 feet high, situated fifteen miles south of Jasper at the junction of the Whirlpool and Athabaska rivers.

OATMAN UNITED BEING ENLARGED

Large Quantities of Machinery Put in Operation.

Two Hundred Companies Put on Working Basis.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OATMAN (Ariz.) March 19.—Charles S. Sprague of Goldfield, who recently secured the Merritt group and formed the Oatman United Mines Company, arrived here today, and is busily engaged in expanding his operations in this field.

J. K. Turner, engineer for the Jumbo Extension of Goldfield, controlled by Sprague, is also here, and under his supervision, work on an extensive scale has been started on the Oatman United property. Machinery is on the way.

It is rumored here, but not confirmed, that Mr. Sprague is about to form another company in the district. J. P. Loftus, formerly of Goldfield, it is understood, will be associated with Sprague in this new company.

Harry MacMillan of Los Angeles has just launched a new company here, which, it is officially known, will have several noted eastern capitalists on its directorate, the Swift Packing people will be interested in this company. The property to be operated adjoins the famous Leland mine, which, for years, was a leading producer.

N. E. Guyot, prominent operator of Cripple Creek, has closed a deal for the Wrigley interests, involving a cash and stock consideration of $150,000. A company, to be known as the Wrigley Exploration Syndicate, has been formed and some very valuable property in the Blackrange section has been secured.

All plans have been completed for the Oatman Stock Exchange, quarters are now being secured and it is expected that the exchange will be in operation about April 15.

Lester M. Dull of Los Angeles is here to take over the Florida group of six claims in the Times district. A company, known as the Oatman Bell, has been formed to operate the property. It is estimated that close to 200 companies have been formed in this field since August last.

Fully 100 companies are equipped, fifty are receiving machinery and the remainder either have their machinery ordered or intend to place orders at an early date.

The majority of the companies are financed. Work in the field is at its height, with mining men from all over the country here. The activity shows no abatement.

BULLWHACKER MINE IS SOLD.

HAYDEN COMPANY PURCHASES NOTED PROPERTY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) March 14.—The once famous old Bullwhacker mine, a property which, in 1879, produced $12,000 from 130 tons of gold ore, worked in a crude arastra, and which has had a gross production approximating $200,000, has been sold by R. H. Burmister to T. J. Matson, D. R. Finlayson and D. K. Harper of the Hayden Development Company. The main shaft is to be retimbered for its depth of 200 feet and sinking then resumed, to cut a ledge that has faulted. The mine is only four miles from Prescott, toward Lynx Creek.

Six miles south of Jerome, the Hayden Development Company is operating a 150-ton mill on gold ores and is reported to be making large clean-ups.

Thirty years ago the Tuscumbia mine, in the Bradshars, was considered one of Arizona's richest silver properties. Operations have been resumed on the old mine by a local company with large capital, which has been making investigations for months past, covering problems of ore supplies and methods of mining and milling. At the head of the new corporation is B. H. Smith. John H. Sullivan is general manager.

Bisbee mining men have taken over the First Home group on upper Big Bug Creek. A carload shipment of lead-zinc ore has just been made from this property. The returns are so good that the company has purchased the Oriental mill, which is distant less than half a mile, and will concentrate in the future. The mine is well situated for transportation, on the line of the Poland Railway.

About thirty men are now working in the hubnerite claims of the Eureka district, whence a large amount of ore, rating from 60 to 70 per cent. is being shipped to Denver.

The great Nelson tunnel now has a length of 3100 feet and will be driven 1000 feet further. The tunnel already has cut several good ore bodies, one of them six feet in width, averaging $25 a ton in gold. Milling will be started soon, at the Crown King reduction works, which have been equipped for the saving of values in the base ores of the locality.

A group of copper-gold mines in the Black Rock district has been secured by representatives of a syndicate of Coast motion-picture people, who propose to make their company a close corporation within the membership of their craft.

WOULD REOPEN MINE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CLIFTON (Ariz.) March 18.—The old Carlisle mine in Steeple Rock district, after idleness of fifteen years, has been purchased by an eastern company of George H. Utter of Silver City, who will receive $300,000. The property lies just across the State line, in New Mexico, but the nearest railroad point is Duncan, Ariz., to which ore shipments will be started within a few days.

The mine was closed down and allowed to fill with water because its ores were "base" and not susceptible of profitable reduction by the simple processes of fifteen years ago. Now there will be no difficulty on that score, for the ores will be concentrated and then smelted.

Much activity is reported from the Chiricahua Mountains, where work has been resumed on the Paradise Development Company. Development work has progressed to such an extent on the Williams property, lately bonded by a Los Angeles company, that the Cochise concentrator will be started soon on its ores.

RARE MINERALS, METALLURGY, CHEMISTRY.

You are politely requested to submit samples carefully wrapped and tagged, with letter accompanying stating what tests are desired. Make samples of small size. There is no necessity for big chunks. Correspondents offering matter for analyses with card, or scrap of paper, intended to show that the stuff is from Jim Jones, for instance, with no marks of identification on samples, will, hereafter, receive no attention whatever.

Platinum Trace.

GOODSPRINGS (Nev.) Feb. 24.—Q.: We are sending you under separate cover six samples. Please let us know if samples, from No. 1, to No. 5, contain any of the rare metals often associated with lead and zinc. What gives the muddy purple color to No. 6? R. and A.

A.: It is well to give some of the reactions observed in the qualitative analyses of the specimens. No. 1, grayish in color; sp. weight high; fusible alone, before the blowpipe, with crackling and spurting; carbonate decidedly present; no hydrogen sulphide in contact with hydrochloric acid; vitreous and submetallic yellowish globules separate out with heat; no jelly with the acid named; arsenic present. Bismuth trace; antimony oxide (valentinite) traces. Cerussite present, with iron oxides, lead sulphate and lead sulphide. Trace of pyromorphite. Potash traces; lime and magnesium carbonates present, with zinc. Streak white. Silver present. The sample is, in part leadhillite. No. 2 reacts on the order of No. 1. No. 3 is fusible, alone, to a partly white enamel. Lead vanadate present; lead molybdate, and pyromorphite present. Willemite and Smithsonite in the mass. Lead sulphate, and lead sulphide present. Potash low per cent. (Angelisite crystallised) trace. Iron, sulphur, and lime present. Jarosite (potash copperas) traces. No. 4, iron manganese; lime-magnesium; sulphur; potash; lead carbonate, and lead sulphide; present traces of pyromorphite; molybdenum; and vanadium. Blende absent. No. 5, a grayish-yellow infusible (alone) substance; evolution of hydrogen sulphide with hydrochloric acid. Gelatinizes in the named acid. Chiefly zinc (blende and willemite,) galenite; potash low per cent. No. 6, "muddy-purple color," is due to hauerite (manganese disulphide.) With hot acid a jelly results, potash reaction.

All of the samples were milled, and sampled together. Platinum a trace.

Vanadium Trace.

SALOME (Ariz.) Feb. 24.—Q.: We are mailing you four samples of rocks, which we discovered about seven miles northwest of Vicksburg, Ariz. Please let us know contents of same, and you will greatly oblige the mining boys of this section. We are familiar with all of the metallic rocks, but these have us beaten. There is quite a body of same, and all samples are from the same place. We are prospectors, and are always out looking for something, and we are great readers of The Times, and think a lot of it. S. & G.

A.: No. 1 resembles certain ores of uranium, and the yellowish matter present is a combination of ferrous and ferric oxides; copper a trace; zinc, lead and vanadium traces. No. 2, from its brilliant red appearance, might indicate copper antimony, cinnabar, manganese, and arsenic. The whitish carbonate throughout small crevices and interstices is low percentage potash, with lime and magnesia. Iron peroxide—of good paint (pigment) value chiefly; zinc, copper, and manganese absent. No. 3, lime carbonate coating; ilmenite (titanic iron) present, with "cube" iron ore, zinc trace. No. 4, zinc low per cent., aluminum silicate, quartz, and iron oxides. Fairly good prospects.

Not Pumice.

ASH FORK (Ariz.) Feb. 24.—Q.: I enclose sample of sawed rock supposed to be pumice stone. Has it a commercial value? L.

A.: The sample is an altered vesicular lava. Aluminum silicate (potash low per cent.) and tripolite (polishing powder) in the mass. While the sample has a certain value it is somewhat difficult to suggest a market for like material on the Pacific Coast.

Hungsten Absent.

WICKENBURG (Ariz.) Feb. 24.—Q.: I send you a sample. Will you please test it for tungsten? H.

Pegmatite Variety.

SAN BERNARINO, Feb. 24.—Q.: Is there anything of value to the inclosed rock? I know where there is a large body of this and it is in Riverside county, Cal. G.

Seven Samples.

TUSTIN, Feb. 27.—Q.: Please test or name the inclosed samples. No. 1, from near Prado; does it contain tungsten? No. 2, found near gypsum; what is it? No. 3, found on saddle back; what are the crystals (red and scarlet?) No. 4, Trabuco Canyon; please name it. No. 5, something rich, from Mexico. No. 7, from Mexico; good enough for anybody. G.

A.: No. 1 (two samples) magnesum iron; arsenic present, and the other specimen is hornblende. No. 2 is hornblende, No. 3, cinnabar and realgar (minute streaks only.) No. 4 is feldspathic rock; arsenical iron; zinc and lead in low percentages. No. 5, calciferous rock with "peacock iron;" traces of lead with zinc; iron present. No. 6 carries silver, cerussite, galenite, micaceous iron, copper and trace bismuth. No. 7, silver, copper, iron; bismuth trace.

Low-Grade Asbestos.

WOODLAKE, Feb. 25.—Q.: You will please find sample of what I call asbestos. How much per ton is this grade worth? P.

A.: The asbestiform asbestos is rather brittle to command much of a price. Submit samples to Los Angeles buyers of such product.

Ferruginous Quartz.

HART, Feb. 25.—Q.: Samples are from a small prospect. Please analyze them and let me know through your "In the Earth" what they are. M.

A.: Iron, manganese, lead, zinc, copper and lead molybdate (wulfenite) present; lead molybdate 3 per cent.

Scheelite Pebbles.

RANDSBURG, Feb. 25.—Q.: Am sending you two pebbles. Any commercial value? T.

Feldspathic.

JUDSON, Feb. 26.—Q.: I am sending you under separate cover today four samples of ore from different ledge deposits. Will you kindly test same and greatly oblige me? T.

A.: No. 1, orthoclase (potash feldspar.) No. 2, porphyritic rock; iron and manganese present; zinc with lead traces. No. 3, impure lime cabonate (cement rock.) No. 4, pistachio-green epidotic matter; lime carbonate present; zinc trace.

Plumose Gypsum.

BERTRAM, Feb. 26.—Q.: Herewith sample of what I suspect to be gypsum, and containing nitrates. The deposit occurs in large beds on the north side of Salton Sea, which have been broken up by some convulsion of nature and now stand on edges appearing like veins. C.

Graphic Granite.

BARSTOW, Feb. 26.—Q.: Mailing you, even date, small sample of rock of porphyritic dyke, near here. Is it just ordinary granite? What minerals, if any, are present? D.

High-Grade Magnetite.

CRESCENT (Nev.) Feb. 26.—Q.: Am sending you sample of Crescent rock. I am imbued with the belief that this rock is hubnerite. Would thank you to advise if the same does contain tungstic acid, or is there some other mineral that makes this rock so heavy? T.

A.: Tungstic acid absent.

Serpentine Variety.

METCALF (Ariz.) Feb. 27.—Q.: Would thank you to please name and give different metals contained in inclosed sample. It comes from Greenlee county, Ariz., and was taken from a narrow stringer on the surface of ground. F.

Free Gold Absent.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25.—Q.: Please assay for copper and what other metal of importance. This ore is close to Mt. Lowe and a short ride from Los Angeles. E.

A.: No. 1, quartzitic rock; iron, arsenic and copper pyrite (chalcopyrite) sparingly present as sulphides; "peacock iron present." The sulphides could be concentrated, but arsenic is deleterious matter. No. 2 is also quartzitic, lime and magnesia present; traces of iron manganese and trace of microscopical pyrite (iron disulphide.)

Zinc Low Per Cent.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 27.—Q.: Samples Nos. 1 and 2 enclosed, and from Morongo mining district, San Bernardino county. I have a big ledge. Please test for magnesite.

Hydrocarbons.

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Feb. 28.—Q.: Please send analyses of the samples sent you by express to the address enclosed. "S."

A.: The quantity of the substance, in vial (No. 1) is not sufficient for even a qualitative analysis, and, furthermore, the sample is contaminated with a product from tobacco. It is, however, petroleum; with water. No. 2 is a "mixture" of hydrocarbons (asphaltum.)

Quite a Variety.

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 28.—Q.: Knowing that you are interested in the advancement of the mineral resources, and that you are friendly to Porterville, I take pleasure in submitting some samples from the Porterville mining district. Is the white kaolin? One black specimen seems like soapstone, and the others we thought might be some form of iron, as two chromite mines are now operating here. S.

A.: The two whitish samples are double silicates of aluminum and magnesium. The big, blackish specimen is a silicate of iron, manganese, magnesium and aluminum; chrome a trace. One other grayish-black sample is altered serpentine; talcose matter present. The gray specimen is aluminum and magnesium silicate. The greenish white substance is a fair grade talc. The milk-white vitreous sample is opal silica. The striated specimen is low-grade asbestiform actinolite.

Tungsten Trace.

RANDSBURG, Feb. 28.—Q.: I am sending you three samples. Please inform me what minerals they contain, if any. Oblige a constant reader of The Times. M.

A.: No. 1 part of a gray-white pebble, and carrying microscopical sulphides of iron, lead and zinc in low percentages. Hornblende in the mass. No. 2, iron, zinc, antimony, lead, (all sparingly.) Garnetiferous; vesuvianite traces. No. 3, zinc-garnet on one edge; otherwise on order of No. 2.

Chiefly Lime Carbonate.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Feb. 29.—Q.: I am sending you sample of ore. Please tell me through the usual column what it is, and if of any value.

A.: The sample does not give off hydrogen sulphide if struck with steel. It yields the gas referred to, however, in contact with hydrochloric acid. No fumes before the blowpipe. Phosphoric acid low per cent. Lime, magnesia, iron and manganese present. Zinc absent. Arsenic in the mass. Sulphur present. Strontium traces; dolomitic and doubtful flux stone.

Halotrichite.

YERMO, Feb. 29.—Q.: This mineral is oozing out of crevices in rock at this time, and when it first comes out it is soft and waxy, but soon hardens. Will you be kind enough to tell me what it is, and whether it has any commercial value? M.

A.: The sample is "iron alum," and if of sufficient quantity it is a variety that should readily find a market. What a taste it possesseth!

Lydian Stone.

COMPTON, Feb. 29.—Q.: I am sending you two samples from Old Woman Mountain, San Bernardino county. Please describe them. L.

A.: The large sample confuses many. It is amygdaloidal lava, and of interest in mineralogical and geological collections. No. 2 is a black lydian stone, and it is useful to test gold and others metals. If gold is streaked across the stone, and a drop of strong acid added thereto, there is but slight change in the streak; if it is streaked with copper it turns bluish-green.

Hornblende.

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 29.—Q.: Would you bekind enough to tell me the mineral in enclosed rock? S.

A.: Traces of iron and chromic iron.

Copper.

GLOBE-MIAMI YIELD GROWING.

Two Hundred and Twenty Million Pounds, or More than Double Product in Nineteen-fifteen, is Predicted—Inspiration and Queen Big Outputters.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) Feb. 17.—For the year 1916 the Globe-Miami district is expected to lead all Arizona in copper production, even passing Bisbee, which hitherto has been at the front. Already there is an estimate that the local mines will have a production for the year of about 220,000,000 pounds, compared with about 102,000,000 for 1915.

Most of this new copper will come from the Inspiration, which now is completing the eighteenth and last section of its immense concentrator, said to be the biggest mill of its sort in the world. It is rated at 15,000 tons of ore a day, and from its concentrates, reduced in the near-by International smelter, will be secured 10,000,000 pounds of copper a month, with gross value, at present prices, of around $2,500,000, or $30,000,000 a year. It is probable that a few mill sections will be idle at times, so there is prediction of only 100,000,000 pounds product for the year from this source.

It is probable that nearly this figure will be reached this year by the Copper Queen of Bisbee, which yielded about 86,500,000 pounds in 1915, but almost wholly from smelted ores.

Huge as is the Inspiration mill, the flotation process and other improvements in concentrating methods have resulted in a notably high percentage of extraction. It is told that the ore averages little over 1.7 per cent. copper and yet, so nearly perfect is the system of mining, handling and reduction that the gross cost will not pass 8 cents a pound for the metal product. All of this, however, has been secured at an initial expense approximating $13,000,000.

STORMS INTERFERE.

The storms of January somewhat cut down the copper product, owing to trouble along the ore delivery railroads and to shutting off the power supply from the hydro-electric works at Roosevelt. The Miami Company, however, turned out 3,910,000 pounds of copper. No trouble has been known in the operation of the International smelter, which has present capacity for turning out 15,000,000 pounds of copper a month. The miners of the district are now drawing the maximum day's wage of $5, following an agreement with the companies and upon the establishing of a 25-cent price for copper. At Bisbee the Copper Queen has set a new mark in paying its miners $5.10 a day, though bound by no agreement.

Spring time is not a blithsome period for Superintendent Beckett of the Old Dominion Company, for his mine has unhappy location with regard to the channel of Pinal Creek. A year ago the lower levels for a time had to be abandoned and the production of bullion almost stopped while the water was fought. This year conditions are much better, though for several weeks it is understood that the pumps have been lifting the enormous quantity of 11,000,000 gallons a day, mainly from the 1200, 1400 and 1600 levels. This record probably is exceeded by no other western mine, especially from such depths, and about doubles the pump duty of the whole Bisbee section. The Old Dominion pumps, new and of the highest efficiency rating, have capacity for 12,000,000 gallons from the sump.

Despite the handicap, the January production was around 3,100,000 pounds.

IRON CAP SHAFT.

The Iron Cap Company is to sink its main shaft from 600 feet to 1200 feet and will develop at depth its ground near the Arizona Commercial, in the hope of cutting the same rich sulphide deposit that has been uncovered in the neighboring property, on its 1400 level. The Iron Cap shipments now are averaging about a carload a day, sent to El Paso, with incidental profit of over $1000 a car. The ore averages better than 10 per cent.

Actual financial benefit was done the Gibson Company by the late storm, in holding up shipments to the smelter till copper had reached 25 cents.

Powerful pumps are being installed in the shaft of the Stonewall Jackson mine at McMillen, where water had stopped sinking at 540 feet of depth. The shaft will be carried down several hundred feet more and drifting then started. The mine is one of the most famous of Arizona's pioneer silver producers, with rich ore even now coming from the lowest level, 470 feet. As is usual in Arizona, the mine appears to be bottoming in copper, for bornite and chalcopyrite are found occasionally.

Something New.

BUILDING CITY AT GOLD REEF.

Substantial Development Made by Conservative Men.

Great Ledge of Ore Promises to Give Good Returns.

Angelenos Heavily Interested in Several Properties.

A great gold camp is being established at Gold Reef, near Danby, San Bernardino county, on the Santa Fe. Those who have located and are prospecting the territory are conservative business men with no idea of creating a "boom," either in mining or in townsite propositions.

B. G. Doak of the Pacific Coast Steel Company, after personal inspection, and under advice of R. B. Kepner, a mining engineer, has entered into a contract to carry on extensive developments in the new field.

"The district is characterized," said he, "by numerous mineralized reefs striking through the country, the distinctive feature being a large lode extending several miles through the center of the district. The magnitude of the outcrops of quartz along the main reef, some of which are more than 100 feet high and 1400 feet in length, are of calcite and quartz, occurring in andesite, and in some places are from twenty to fifty feet in width, while in many places a width of from twenty to fifty feet is attained along a prominent fissure, striking northwest for several miles."

SELECTS GOOD SITE.

It is along this lode that Doak has selected a site for his operations. These operations will be under the direction of Kepner, in conjunction with another mining engineer of wide reputation, who has been engaged to come from the East.

Another capitalist, who is negotiating for leases, is Mr. Wilfrey, who is remembered by mining men as connected with placing on the market the Wilfrey concentrating tables. Mr. Wilfrey has carefully inspected the district from the standpoint of a practical mill operator and pronounces the general outlook for a big camp the most favorable of any he has seen in an experience of thirty-five years.

The outlook for large tonnage has appealed to him from the standpoint of erecting milling plants capable of handling big production, and it is due to this fact that he is negotiating for selections upon the main reef, upon which to conduct mining operations under the leasing system, preparatory to mill construction.

The Gold Reef Mining Company, composed of Los Angeles capitalists, have large holdings in this locality, and after acquiring title to the central portion of the district, decided to develop the properties by means of the leasing system, they, themselves, to develop the reef by deep holes, two of which are to be 1000 feet deep under the initial plan and to be extended still deeper as operations progress.

THE LEASING PLAN.

The leasing plan is to prevent other than legitimate operations on the properties, which extend along the reef for about five miles, and to give to those wishing to develop properties an opportunity to invest their money in the ground rather than in acquiring titles by the enrichment of locators. It was this feature, in conjunction with the facilities for operations and the extensive nature of the deposits, which attracted Mr. Doak and other large operators now leasing or negotiating for leases.

The town, already started, is known as Gold Reef, and is situated six miles in a northerly direction from Danby. It is not to be boomed as a townsite, it is declared, all available building space, being controlled by the company, who will restrict sale of lots to the growth and needs of the camp. A lumber yard, for the convenience of the Gold Reef Mining Company and other operators, is being established and several buildings are already under construction.

A corps of surveyors have been laying out the property of the company and tying up their reef holdings to the United States base line, in order to avoid confusion of locators and those following.

RUSH TO GOLDSTINE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BARSTOW, March 18.—A rush to Goldstine, the new Eldorado gold camp twenty-five miles north of Barstow, is on.

One of the biggest and richest strikes in this vicinity was reported this week. A. A. Turner, one of the owners of the Goldstine company, brought in ten sacks, over 1000 pounds, of ore rich in gold.

This camp has been developed in a quiet way for the past twelve months.

Nickel Absent.

EL PASO (Tex.) Feb. 18.—Q.: Herewit hinclose an ore that I believe is nickel. Will you kindly ascertain what it is? The reason I ask you to do so is that I am in the mountains a great deal of the time, and only see The Times when in the city, and then purchase it of the news stands. A well wisher of The Times. "READER."

A.: The action of the powdered mineral in acids indicates no nickel; and the reactions, with reagents, shows that the sample is but a variety of massive epidote.

TO AID SHIPMENTS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, March 18.—Surveys are under way by engineers of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for extensions of the Porterville Northeastern Railway to tap the newly-opened magnesite district in the foothills just south of Success station. One of the surveys is for a line to the property of R. D. Adams, a former Alaska miner, who recently purchased 160 acres of magnesite property from S. D. Coghlan of San Francisco. Another survey is for an extension from Adobe station north to the mines of the Porterville Magnesite Company, situated on Magnesite Hill, north of here.

Reports from the railroads show that ten cars of ore are being shipped daily, after a period of inaction due to rainy weather. The average shipments at present are eight carloads of magnesite and two carloads of chromite daily, all of which is consigned to manufacturing concerns in the East and Middle West.

USELESS HYPHENS COSTLY.

They Add Thirty-three Million Dollars to Annual Printing Bills.

[St. Louis Republic:] French and British statisticians have been figuring the waste in the printing bills of the two countries through the printing of silent and useless letters in words and through the use of the hyphen in "to-day," "to-night" and "to-morrow," as it is used in Great Britain. By eliminating the silent letters from the English and French languages, one of these genii for figures has calculated $33,000,000 annually would be saved the two countries. And another statistician figures that enough energy is wasted daily in putting the hyphens in "to-day," "to-night" and "to-morrow" to draw a train across Euprope and that the value of the paper and ink wasted would by bread for one day for everybody in Yorkshire and Middlesex.

In the 6800 periodicals published in France, the foe of silent letters computed 108,000,000,000 letters used yearly. He found 13 per cent. of these letters were useless, so that 14,260,000,000 letters were wasted labor. He estimated the annual cost of this useless expenditure of printed [illegible] France alone to be $1,9[illegible] English newspapers [illegible] based on a total of 17,[illegible] per cent. of the printed letters [illegible] in pronouncing words.

The insertion of these letters [illegible] estimates, necessitates the [illegible] ture of $7,000,000 per annum. [illegible] less letters occupy so much space [illegible] the printed page that at least [illegible] 600,000 are annually expended [illegible] English-speaking people and [illegible] 000 by the French.

If the time taken up in writing [illegible] useless letters were estimated at [illegible] a day for each journalist, it [illegible] amount to $4,500,000. Then by [illegible] reasoning eliminate the silent letters from the English and the French language and nearly $33,000,000 will be saved each year.

The other statistician figures that the three words "to-day," "to-night" and "to-morrow" are used on an average of forty-eight times daily by 178,236,592 English-speaking [illegible] and an average of five times [illegible] forty-eight hours are written by hand.

The daily output of hyphens, the statician declares, is 801,230,[illegible] allowing one quarter of an inch to a written hyphen, this would [illegible] continuous line 3364 miles in length. Writing at a fair speed, it would [illegible] one man seventy-six years to [illegible] that number of hyphens, working an average workday.

Typewriter and typesetting [illegible] operators write "to-day," "to-[illegible]" and "to-night" at an average of [illegible] times each on about a quarter of a million typewriters and about [illegible] times daily for each word on 184,312 linotypes. One ounce [illegible] is required to operate typewriter [illegible] linotype keys, an aggregate of [illegible] 352,974 foot-pounds of energy [illegible] on a practically useless character, [illegible] same amount of energy would [illegible] train across Europe.

Of further interest is the [illegible] waste of ink and paper in [illegible] hyphens, the same master of figures declaring that the value of the [illegible] and paper so employed would [illegible] bread for one day for everybody in Yorkshire and Middlesex.

YORK, March 13.—The market has placed the most able construction upon the re- developments in the Mexican and sees, in the present of the American and Carran- governments the most accept- and effective remedy for the law- condition which for many years been a perpetual annoyance in border territory. other quarters, those who have partial to the "war stocks" pro- to see in the present moment an demand for munitions, the ultimate sequel being a grand campaign for preparedness which will call for billions of dollars' worth of munitions, and provide new occupation for many of the industrial plants which, because of the falling off in the demand for munitions from the European fighting nations, would be compelled to undergo many changes in order to change the character of their output.

With the coming of higher prices comes also the return of public interest in the stock market. Perhaps it would be more correct to say that the return of public interest is the explanation for the tendency to higher prices. At any rate, this week has marked the resumption of million-share days on the Stock Exchange, the sales on Tuesday exceeding that amount by 100,000 shares. This is the first day since January 3 that the million-share point has been passed. One prominent investment banker, reviewing the situation this week, said:

"There seems to be a persistent confidence in higher prices eventually. And, as has been frequently remarked, the public which is in the market on margin seems perfectly well able to care for its accounts. Brokers report many instances where, when margin has been called for, the customer has voluntarily put up double the amount. This would indicate that a considerable part of the public is able to pay for its stocks outright. In this respect it becomes associated in the capitalistic class, and if a large enough proportion of the people holding stocks should take them out of the market, this would break the long deadlock in prices and allow the advance, which is confidently expected in the future. The good statements of large earnings for last year, which are now coming out, few of which are at all disappointing and many of which are beyond expectations, would further bolster up the confidence of the market margin holders."

Last fall the United States was honored by the presence of a number of distinguished gentlemen from South America, who conferred at Washington with representatives of American business for the purpose of establishing a Pan-American business programme that would be far-reaching in its effect and permanent in its influence. The conference was eminently successful, at least in the launching of the project under contemplation, and the South American delegates returned to their homes under influence of an awakened enthusiasm for the Pan-American programme and with a very high respect for the business men of the United States

In keeping with the programme laid down by the delegates to the conference referred to above, a number of distinguished American financiers and business leaders are to return the compliment by attending a similar conference at Buenos Aires in April. The Secretary of the Treasury has regarded this conference of such importance to American business that he will attend in person rather than delegating this important duty to a subordinate. Paul M. Warburg, distinguished member of the Federal Reserve Board, will also be one of the party.

LEGAL STRIFE DOESN'T HAMPER UNION'S GROWTH.

Big Oil Company's Future is More Promising than Ever, Despite War Soon to be Waged in Courts by Contending Factions Concerning Policies of Control — Important Trial is Now Only Two Weeks Off.

WHILE forces are mobilizing for a legal battle involving its policies of control, Union Oil Company continues steadily to forge its way toward greater expansion and revenue. Estimates of the business during the first two months of the year indicate that the petroleum corporation is enjoying to the full the benefits of the greatly improved market for oil products, that promises steady increase in net results to the corporation's great earning power. Union Oil has never been in better shape physically and financially. The impending legal warfare concerns in no way its fundamental stability and strength, but merely the nature of the formal technique of management as it is now conducted.

The suit, the primary object of which is to cause the dissolution of the holding companies, United Petroleum and Union Provident, promises to involve a greater number of technical issues probably than any other action of this kind. The influence of the decision may be far-reaching in its effect on the security or insecurity of pyramidal control of corporations.

The trial is set for April 4, having been postponed from Tuesday of this week. The Union Oil Company is to be represented by Attorneys Andrews, Toland and Andrews; United Petroleum by O'Melveny, Stevens and Milliken, and Union Provident by Flint and Jutten. Among the attorneys for the Stockholders' Protective Association are Hunsaker and Britt. The present action is the outgrowth of several suits originally filed by John Garrigues, former treasurer of the Union Oil Company, early this year. The present suit names E. B. Blinn, et al., as the plaintiffs and the Union Oil Company, at al., as defendants.

Mr. Blinn is chairman of the Protective Committee of the Stockholders' Protective Association, other members of this committee being R. R. Blacker, W. J. Hogan, Arthur H. Fleming and Mr. Garrigues, and J. H. Pearman, secretary.

While the trial in any event will take on marked significance in the various issues it will bring to light, there is a strong possibility that its effect on Union Oil Company itself may be to some extent discounted through the project of a voting trust recently launched by the Stewarts, which would establish a permanent policy in relation to the management of the affairs of the company. This scheme is objected to by the Protective Association on the ground that it would give the Stewarts much the same control of the affairs of Union Oil as they at present have through the holding company system. In this system the Stewarts own control of United Petroleum, a corporation of some $8,000,000 capital, which in turn holds control of Union Provident, while the latter holds control of Union Oil, a $35,000,000 corporation.

According to Lyman Stewart, chairman of the board of directors, and founder of the Union Oil Company, this proposed voting trust is designed to do away with the holding companies and simultaneously give a larger voice in the affairs of the company to the stockholders at large. The attorneys of the company state that there is no limit to the amount of Union Oil stock that may come into this voting trust and secure representation on the governing board to be organized in the event that holders of a majority of the stock give their consent to the plan.

If the holders of a majority of the stock give their consent to the plan, it will be carried to fruition at the annual meeting of the company to occur in April.

Preliminary to the coming trial attorneys of the Stockholders' Protective Association have, during the past week, been taking depositions of Lyman Stewart, chairman of the board of directors; Milton Stewart, his brother, and W. L. Stewart, president of the Union Oil Company, for use in the trial. These depositions are being secured under an order from the court obtained by the attorneys of the protective association.

There is little likelihood of any of these developments affecting the growth and progress of the Union Oil Company. The company resumed dividends this year after a suspension covering a period of two and a half years, during which a thorough rehabilitation of the corporation's financial system was effected. The amount of the dividend was $1.50 a share or 1½ per cent. on the stock of the company. As the prediction was made in the last annual report that the net profit for 1916 will likely exceed 10 per cent., it seems likely that this dividend will be easily maintained at the present figure or perhaps, increased.

The company has lately been granted the privilege by State Commissioner of Corporations H. L. Carnahan of selling $4,000,000 of 6 per cent., twenty-year, sinking-fund bonds, to be disposed of so as to net the company not less than 87½ per cent. of par. These bonds are a part of the $20,000,000 issue authorized by the company in 1911, of which $11,990,000 were issued and $1,926,000 subsequently retired. Some of the outstanding bonds are held as collateral to secure the payment of an issue of 6 per cent. serial gold notes made in 1913. With the proceeds of the new issue the company will retire the balance of the outstanding 6 per cent. notes amounting to about $1,000,000, and will use the remainder to reduce outstanding indebtedness.

The profit of the Union Oil Company last year after depreciation amounted to 8.27 per cent. on the capital stock of the company. Before depreciation the figures show a profit of 14.57 per cent.

The current assets of the company December 31 were $10,761,589, and are over 5 to 1 of current liabilities, and offsetting cash over 9 to 1. Current assets showed an increase over December 31, 1914, of $609,132.86, while there has been a decrease in current liabilities of $606,983, so that an improvement for the year of $1,216,116 was shown. The company has been carrying a large reserve for depreciation in conformity with the general policy adopted by other large corporations.

The effect of the steady improvement in the Union Oil Company's earning power is nowhere more convincingly evidenced than in the advance in the price of the stock during the past year. Today Union Oil stock is selling at a fraction above $70 a share whereas a year ago the price was slightly less than $50. Early this year the price rose considerably above the present figure but this was principally owing to the deal which was then pending for the consolidation of various interests in this country and Mexico, causing the price to go above normal for the time being. With this exception the stock has never been any higher than of late since 1913, when the sharp break following the cutting of the dividend occurred.

The first rumblings of the present legal strife came about the time of the giving of the option of United Petroleum stock to Mark L. Requa, with a view to making the Union Oil Company a party to the Pan-American Petroleum and Transportation Consolidation that E. L. Doheny subsequently effected in the East. Mr. Garrigues, then treasurer of the company, charged the Stewarts with bad faith to the stockholders of the company in the giving of this option. They stated, on the other hand, that the option had been given only on condition that in the event of a deal all the minority stockholders were to come in on the same basis as the Stewarts. Although he was recognized as an exceedingly able financial expert by the management and directors, Mr. Garrigues subsequently was removed by the directors from his position as treasurer and W. L. Stewart was elected to the position instead. Following this came the organization of the Stockholders' Protective Committee and the filing of the present suit, which promises to attract an unusual degree of attention in the financial and business world.

There is nothing fundamentally the matter with Union Oil. The company is stronger than ever, and looks forward to a future brighter than at any time in the past. That a definite settlement of the policy of control will be reached at the next annual meeting is an assured fact, and thereafter the horizon should be absolutely clear before this, one of the largest and most successful corporations in the State.

NEW OIL STRIKE MADE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

M'KITTRICK, March 19.—The Reward Oil Company, with headquarters at San Francisco, has made an important strike on the North McKittrick Front, bringing in well No. 1, situated in the northeast quarter of section 34, 27-20, with a daily production of between 500 and 600 barrels of 31-gravity petroleum. News of the discovery of such a good grade of oil in the Reward company's first well on the Front, at a depth of 2300 feet, was received with great interest and much satisfaction in trade circles and the property has been visited by many men from the different fields.

Drilling, which has been in progress several months, was interrupted suddenly by the gushing of a great volume of oil, which shot above the crown block and has since continued to flow constantly. The gas pressure is strong.

The northeast quarter of section 34, 27-20, was purchased by the Reward Oil Company about three years ago, at which time there was considerable activity on the North McKittrick Front, in consequence of the finding of petroleum in quite promising quantities and of light quality on leases acquired by the Belridge Oil Company. However, it was not until the autumn of 1915 had set in that the Reward company commenced to drill on the northern property.

MORE FREEDOM FOR BANKS' DIRECTORS.

AMENDING OF ANTI-TRUST ACT NOW BEFORE CONGRESS.

Provisions Regarding Interlocking Directorates Affects Banks not in Competition in Any Sense and Removal of this Feature is Proposed as Only Just.

A matter of considerable importance to the banking fraternity is now before Congress, namely, the amending of the Clayton Anti-Trust Act so that bank directors will not come under its provisions regarding interlocking directorates. The change desired does not in any way affect the spirit of the act, but merely exempts from its operations such banks as are not in any sense competitors.

The bill, which so far has appealed the most to the banking world is the one introduced by Mr. Gard, which provides, "that nothing in this act shall prohibit any officer, director or employee of any member bank, or a class A director of a Federal Reserve bank, from being an officer, director or employee of one or more other banks, banking associations or trust companies, whether organized under the laws of the United States or any State, if such other bank, banking association or trust company is not in substantial competition with such member bank. Nothing contained in this amendment shall impair the powers delegated to the Federal Reserve Board to prosecute violations of the same."

This amendment is justly defended on the ground that the Clayton Act went far beyond the purpose of preventing the menace of the concentration of credit by large financial corporations controlled by a small group of men. In operation as the law now stands, the inhibition against interlocking bank directorates would work injustice to hundreds of banks and bank directors, in institutions which are non-competitive, and where there is not the slightest possibility of the existence of the evils which it was the purpose of the act to prevent.

As compared to corporations engaged in commerce, the banks are discriminated against. In the act it states that the former class shall only be prohibited from interlocking directorates when "such corporations are or shall have been theretofore, by virtue of their business and location of operations, competitors, so that the elimination of competition by agreement between them would constitute a violation of any of the provisions of the anti-trust laws."

The Clayton Act thus prohibits interlocking directorates only to corporations which are competitors, and those in favor of the Gard amendment declare the application to banks should be only under the same circumstances. Everyone agrees that the prohibition of interlocking directorates in competing industries in general is a good thing, but why injure the banks and discriminate against them when there is no proportionate benefit to the public, it is argued.

SAN DIEGO HOME'S IN BETTER SHAPE.

WITH PAYMENT OF DELINQUENT BOND INTEREST.

Telephone Securities Specialist Says the Obligations Were Met at Expense of the Plant—Plan for Rehabilitation of the Concern not Yet Determined.

With the payment last Wednesday of the delinquent bond interest on both issues of the San Diego Home Telephone Company the affairs of the concern begin to assume a better aspect. According to L. Mac Blankenhorn of Los Angeles, who makes a specialty of handling telephone securities, the bond interest was paid at the expense of the plant, as the earnings of the San Diego company are not sufficient at present to pay the interest on both issues, and at the same time lay enough aside to take care of improvements, extensions and repairs. Mr. Blankenhorn states that the corporation will either have to cut down its bonded indebtedness or find some way to finance necessary additions to the system in some other manner.

The committee of bondholders, which was appointed at a recent meeting in the southern city, has not decided as yet what plan to pursue to put the company firmly on its feet. A number of bondholders have said they would be willing to forego a year's interest if the stockholders of the company would put a like amount in the treasury for running expenses and other items. Whether this will meet with the approval of a majority of the security holders remains to be seen. Of course, as long as the interest is paid on the bonds, the bondholders have nothing to say in regard to the management of the property, unless some of the provisions of the trust deed are violated.

CUPID USHERS PAIR TOGETHER.

Elderly Pair Surprise Relatives with Their Wedding.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, March 20.—When Mrs. Bertha C. Talbot, a comely widow of 59 years, arrived at church late one night two years ago and found that there was only one vacant seat and that one beside a strange man, she little dreamed that providence had figuratively thrown her into the arms of the man she was to marry.

The man was Samuel Bricker, now 65 years old, and just arrived from Noble county, Indiana. He was a widower and at once "N. B." He liked the looks of the late arrival—so much so, in fact, that he asked her that very night if he could "see her home" and she accepted his courtesy.

That was the beginning of a romance which culminated in the marriage of the pair yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Fiscus in Linda Vista, who stood up with them. Attired in a becoming frock of gray silk crepe and lace waist, the bride looked "sweet sixteen," said the groom. The ceremony was performed at 3 o'clock, in the presence of a dozen friends, by Rev. W. O. Tingle, formerly pastor of the Los Angeles Christian Advent Church.

According to Mr. Bricker, a retired business man, although he and Mrs. Talbot had known for a year that they were to be married some time, it was not until Saturday that they had the remotest idea when there would be a ceremony. But business arrangements so shaped themselves all at once that in little more than a half hour after things were settled they rushed to Los Angeles and secured a marriage license.

When a reporter talked with Mrs. Talbot she denied that she was to be married and said that it was probably her niece; that she was only sorry that it was not she, and that she had never heard of Mr. Bricker. But he was a little more communicative and confessed that because he had never been backward, he had won his bride.

They sat down to a wedding luncheon after the ceremony and last night started keeping house at her ranch home in Linda Vista, where they will probably raise chickens. At the home of the bridegroom's son at No. 356 Parke street, where he lived also, the grandchildren had not heard that their grandfather was going to give them a grandmother, and they were much surprised to learn that he had stolen a march on them and had been married.

STARRY CONSTELLATION.

Nine stars of the theatrical world, of the "Mars, Jupiter and Venus" type, with numerous others just a little less lustrous, will the the shining lights to attract a large and fashionable throng to the supper-dance given at the Hotel Huntington Wednesday night for the benefit of the Actors' Fund of America. Not only will these stage celebrities attend as guests, but each of them will figure in a programme.

Among those to take part are DeWolf Hopper, Miss Mae Murray, Stafford Pemberton, Miss Constance Collier, 8-year-old Lena Baskets, Ruth Roland, Harry Williams, Harry McCoy, Charles Murray, Carter DeHaven, Flora Parker, Earl Carroll, Marjory Daw and numerous others. The entire programme is being arranged by a committee of theatrical men.

CITY BRIEFS.

Mrs. O. L. Corlin, 58 years old, wife of a cabinet maker of West Green street, is dead from the effects of inhaling gas, but it is not known whether it was a case of suicide or an accident. Turner & Stevens, undertakers, received a call from the husband yesterday morning urging them to send an ambulance at once for his wife, who was suffering from the influence of gas. She was rushed to the Pasadena Hospital, where she died in an hour. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Realizing that "it is more blessed to give than to receive," members of the Cauldron Club, composed of the masculine half of the cream of local society, are perfecting plans for staging a novel production for the benefit of the Pasadena Children's Training Society. It will be held early in May in the big High School auditorium. The skit is being written by a number of local persons, headed by Wilbur Hall. There will be a number of feminine parts, all of which will be impersonated by the members—who are all men.

State Engineer W. F. McClure is due to arrive in Pasadena March 28 to start from here to Palmdale to inspect the proposed route of a new highway across the mountains for the purpose of giving a new outlet from the valley on the other side. According to Commissioner Allin the new road will be built for utility rather than from a purely scenic standpoint.

OXNARD'S SCHOOL BONDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARD, March 19.—The $51,000 bond issue for a new grammar school carried by more than ten to one at the election yesterday. The total vote cast was light, only 231 voting. Of these, 209 voted for the bonds, twenty against, and two ballots were blank. The building, which will supplement the present school, will be of modern construction and attractive design. The building will be erected on a portion of the city playground, located near the high school, and purchased by the school board from the city.

"SEPTEMBER MORN" CREATES FURORE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, March 19.—The insistent desire of Joseph Schnider, a fisherman, to bathe near Long Wharf attired somewhat after the fashion of "September Morn" resulted in a riot call being sent to the local Police Station to remove him from the landscape in that vicinity.

Mr. Schnider had a hankering to go in swimming in the surf, and he also had a hankering for port wine, having consumed about half a quart. When he appeared on the beach he upset many luncheon parties, caused havoc among the fishermen and women and was finally squelched when A. F. Young, a stage driver and deputy sheriff threw a blanket over him.

The man was then hustled into a stage and taken to the Police Station, where he again caused a furore when he allowed the blanket to fall to the floor. He was charged with disturbing the peace.

FRUITLESS SEARCH FOR MISSING MAN.

SANTA BARBARA, March 19.—Today's search over the county for Frank Loustalot, merchant, who disappeared nine days ago, was fruitless. One hundred and fifty men divided into numerous squads scoured mesas, canyons, mountains and seashore. The last crew to report telephoned from Gaviota at 7 o'clock tonight, having returned from an all-day hunt through the region in which Loustalot was last seen alive.

Another posse, whose members scoured every gulch within a radius of two miles of where the missing man's horse was found dead, closed the search for the day an hour earlier and reported having seen no trace of Loustalot, though for a time they believed they had picked up his tracks.

"I fear he is lying dead in the brush on the mountains, somewhere," said Mrs. Loustalot, who offers a reward for his rescue, "but he may be traveling, for he frequently said he was going far away."

The missing man's brothers, J. P. Loustalot and P. J. Loustalot, from Santa Maria and Gaviota, respectively, are heading two of the searching parties.

ALHAMBRA BUILDING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ALHAMBRA, March 19.—That Alhambra is enjoying more than usual building activity is indicated by recent statistics which show that this city issued more building permits in the last thirty days than other cities of Southern California, of its size. The building operations are pervaded by the "city-beautiful" idea.

The municipal government takes the lead in the work of beautifying the city. Two enterprises of general interest are now under way—the landscape work on the grounds of the City Hall and the public library. The landscape architect in charge of the operations at the library is Frank Lloyd Wright of Los Angeles.

The plans of the landscape architect, while calling for artistic treatment, will give a simple arrangement which will conform with the classic architecture of the building. The rear of the building will be screened with vines and shrubs and an arrangement followed which will make an ideal place for out-door pageants. Comfort stations will be installed in the basement of the building.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Announcement is made that the class of '16 in the High School will shortly give a production of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night." The production will be a part of the world-wide celebration of the tercentary of the immortal bard of Avon.

A distinguished visitor in the city is Dr. Murray Bartlett, for many years dean of the cathedral of St. Mary and St. John in Manila. He will speak at the vesper services at Holy Trinity Church at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

TULARE COUNTY BONDS ARE GIVEN APPROVAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PORTERVILLE, March 19.—The Chamber of Commerce has adopted resolutions approving the proposal to issue $1,250,000 in bonds for the construction of a system of permanent county roads. The support of the members of the chamber individually and as an organization was promised for the passage of the bonds when the matter is submitted to a vote.

UNDESIRABLE TALK.

Through concerted effort on the part of the Mine Operators' Association here, all I.W.W. and other labor agitators have been discharged and crews of workmen have been employed in properties here without respect to their labor affiliations, provided, however, they do their agitating at some place other than on the job. About fifty men were released yesterday with the statement by the owners of the mines that they were hired for their work and not for their conversation.

ROAD GRAFT STOPPED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VISALIA, March 19.—N. D. Darlington, member of the State Highway Commission, today put an end to a privately conducted "toll" road on the link of the State Highway between Goshen and Kingsburg. It was discovered, according to Darlington, that a group of workmen, engaged on an approach to a temporary bridge over Cross Creek, had provided themselves with timbers which, when autos approached, were placed in position to afford a crossing over the structure. Before passage was allowed, it was delicately hinted to the machine-owner that it was customary to pay $1 to the laborers for the extra work involved. Nearly all of them paid. The income of a little group of men is said to have run as high as $15 a day. The temporary bridge over the stream, according to Darlington, will be opened for traffic next Saturday.

TURNS FOUR TIMES.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARD, March 19.—Merrill Land and R. Morgan of Moorpark were seriously bruised and narrowly escaped death when the machine in which they were riding with George Carter, also of Moorpark, went off the road and down the bank into a deep barranca near Somis. The machine turned over four times, and stopped right side up, with but slight damage. Carter jumped and escaped injury.

NEWS TRAVELS MANANA ROUTE

West Coast Mexican Towns Have not Heard of Raid.

Ensenada and Other Border Points not Much Worried.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, March 19.—Although recent events on the Mexican border have produced little excitement along the West Coast, Mexico is a good country for Americans to leave at this time, according to passengers on the steamer George W. Elder, which arrived here today from Balboa via Central American and Mexican ports.

The Elder called yesterday at Ensenada, but none of the Americans there cared to leave. The only passenger picked up was William R. Neal, who has a large ranch there.

"We are too close to the border to be worried over Mexican troubles," said he. "I only came up on a business trip and expect to go back. News that the Americans had crossed the line created no excitement in Ensenada. I do not look for any trouble whatever. The Carranzistas are in control and are treating Americans well."

The Elder called at Ensenada to discharge about thirty-seven Japanese and eleven Hindus taken aboard at Salinas Cruz, but the authorities there for some reason not explained refused to permit them to land and they will be carried through to San Francisco and returned on the next boat.

NEWS TRAVELS SLOWLY.

Most of the passengers came from Mazatlan and Salinas Cruz, where news of the border trouble had not penetrated to any great extent before the steamer left. The American Consul had received a long message from Washington which he had been unable to transcribe, not having a code book with him and was awaiting a torpedo-boat with the code.

"I went to Mazatlan about two weeks ago with the intention of locating there," said Dr. John F. Rees of Los Angeles, "but found business so dull I decided there was no opportunity."

Other passengers from Mazatlan were James E. Lacy and Louis M. Smith, mining men; Martin Elstein, Carranza agent at Mazatlan; Louis B. Fletcher, Otis Hidden, Robert Michler, George R. Beady and Fred M. Webb.

This will be the last visit of the Elder at this port for some time. She has been chartered for a trip to South America to load nitrate for New York and take back merchandise. Capt. G. M. Jessen, the veteran commander, who at 85 years of age is the dean of Pacific Coast shipmasters in active service, said today that he would not make the long voyage to the Atlantic.

The Elder discharged 40,000 feet of hardwood lumber and 400 sacks of coffee, proceeding to San Francisco late his afternoon.

CANNERY AFLOAT.

The tug Dauntless arrived today from San Francisco with the three-masted schooner John E. Heston, Jr., in tow. The schooner was formerly called the John H. North and was renamed in honor of the seventh son of her owner, who has purchased the vessel for a floating cannery to be used in the tuna packing industry.

The schooner will be operated for the Van Camp Sea Food Company and will employ about 100 hands. The vessel will be towed to San Diego as soon as the fish begin to run and follow the tuna northward as the season progresses. It has been fitted with modern canning machinery and the fish will be cleaned, canned, labeled and boxed ready for shipment aboard the vessel.

PLAN GARFIELD PARK FOR A PLAYGROUND.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, March 19.—Believing that Garfield Park, a tract of several acres belonging to the Southern Pacific Railway Company is urgently needed for city park and play-ground purposes, the directors of the Chamber of Commerce are formulating plans for the securing of this property, either through purchase or long-time lease. These plans will be presented to the City Council for action at an early date.

Garfield Park, it is believed, would make an ideal breathing spot. Covered with picturesque old live oaks, bisected by a running stream and with a view to the northwest of the well-kept Raymond golf links, it would need only the addition of lawn and flowers to make the tract a splendid park. There is ample space for a swimming pool, sand-boxes for the babies and athletic apparatus for the older children. The park is now somewhat run-down, covered with weeds and tangled underbrush.

Another matter upon which the Council will be asked to act is the question of "spite fences." The City Attorney is to frame an ordinance which will abolish present spite fences and prohibit the construction of others in the future. While one particular fence in the northwestern part of the city is aimed at, it is believed that others should be prohibited, leaving the matter of the height of the fences to the judgment of the Council.

BLOWS EXCHANGED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BEAUMONT, March 19.—Americans attending the local moving picture theater last night were not too proud to fight when Mexicans present cheered with offensive enthusiasm the film victory won by their countrymen over Americans. Only the energetic mediation of J. O. Grant, proprietor of the theater, who proved himself worthy of his martial name, prevented a riot. In the development of the picture drama, supposed to be located on the border, Mexican smugglers temporarily triumphed over the American antagonists. The "hombres" viewing this pictorial story were stirred by the sight from their policy of waiting watchfulness. They clapped and stamped vociferously, and the ire of their American neighbors was aroused. Blows were exchanged, but Grant hustled the Mexicans from the building.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BLYTHE, March 19.—After a stormy session in which owners of acreage land adjoining Blythe voiced a vigorous protest, the Blythe Chamber of Commerce indorsed the proposal to petition the Riverside County Supervisors for an election to incorporate the town into a city of the sixth class.

The plan as finally adopted provides for an incorporation of a territory one and one-fourth miles square. The population of this area is about 700. An incorporation election was held two years ago and the proposition was defeated by a narrow margin.

It was urged that the building of the California Southern Railroad into Blythe, which will be completed in three months, will result in a large increase in population and that local government will be desirable.

The California Southern completed the grade on its new railroad from Blythe Junction to Blythe during the week. A crew of forty men is laying one-half mile of track a day and now has eighteen miles finished. It is estimated that trains will be in operation into Blythe by June 1.

GYPSIES MARRIED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN BERNARDINO, March 19.—Two of the ancient dynasties of the gypsy rulers of Servia and Brazil were united here today in the wedding of Diana Mark, aged 17, granddaughter of Alec Adams, king of the gypsies, and George Moreno, son of Joseph Moreno, who is descended from Brazilian gypsy kings.

Priest Demetro Unanno performed the ceremony, which was ture to all traditions of the tribe. The bride is the great grand-daughter of Queen Mary Adams, known as the millionaire queen of the gypsies, who died in a local hospital last June and was buried in Denver with great ceremonies, attended by thousands of gypsies.

The wedding was witnessed by a large crowd of local people. Following the rites an immense feast of roast pig, lamb and chicken was enjoyed and dancing and music and merrymaking continued several hours.

This wandering tribe is traveling in large automobiles—four, six and eight-cylinder cars and it possesses great wealth. Alec Adams and his brother own several great grain ranches in North Dakota. They leave for Arizona tomorrow.

SKULL FRACTURED.

John E. Noonan, proprietor of a grocery store at Ontario, sustained a fractured skull when the motorcycle on which he and his son were riding on the Foothill boulevard crashed into another machine. Noonan died at a local hospital several hours later. The son is severely bruised, but will recover. The officers have not been appraised of the name of the other motorcyclist, who was uninjured.

GRAPE-VINE DRAPERY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CARPINTERIA, March 19.—The historic old grapevine, the largest in the world, which was placed in a concrete base on the Aliso school grounds a short time ago for preservation, is soon to have a green covering. Ben Fish of Santa Barbara has presented the Chamber of Commerce with cuttings taken from a plant, which was grown from a cutting of the original plant several years ago. These cuttings have been placed in a circle about ten feet from the trunk of the vine and in time will effect the covering. When the old vine was removed to its base, the main branches were cut off about ten feet from the trunk so that the new cuttings will rest their branches on these stumps. The main trunk has been covered with creosote.

NEGRO BATHER DROWNED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, March 19.—Caught in a heavy rip tide while bathing in the surf, Mack Lamere, 21 years old, a negro graduate of the University of Southern California law school, was drowned here today, making the second victim in the same vicinity in two weeks. Lamere lived at No. 2624 Darwin street, Los Angeles. He had come out to pass the day here. Near the same spot last Sunday, George O'Neill of Santa Monica was drowned. The section where Lamere was bathing is frequented by negroes. When Lamere called loudly for help everybody ran from the ocean to the beach instead of giving him aid.

CHAMBER OFFICERS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, March 19.—With a monster meeting that packed the big Christian Endeavor auditorium, and with a large overflow service at the Methodist Church, the twenty-fourth annual convention of the Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor Union closed here this evening.

During this busy Sunday eleven special Christian Endeavor convention sessions were held, besides the half-dozen regular church services addressed by visiting Christian Endeavor workers.

At the auditorium this evening President-elect A. H. Anderson of Pasadena and all other officers-elect were impressively installed by State President Harry G. Denton.

"It has been a wonderful convention," said retiring President Ray Horton," and one marked by commendable and continued interest on the part of the delegates." State President Harry G. Denton said: "The Whittier convention has been marked by a most forceful interest."

The registration for the convention reached 2775. The Los Angeles County Union now has a membership of 1100 in 378 societies. Fifty new local societies were organized during the year.

President-elect A. H. Anderson and his County Executive Committee will at once enter upon its work, and will endeavor to make the quarter-centennial convention at Glendale next year the biggest and best of all.

WOMEN INJURED WHEN ONE CAR HITS ANOTHER

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

WHITTIER, March 19.—Mrs. P. E. Parsons of Orange and her daughter, Miss Elsie Parsons, are lying at the Whittier Hospital on account of injuries received when their auto was struck by another machine and overturned on the county boulevard west of Whittier about 3 o'clock this afternoon. Neither of the women are seriously injured but are only severely bruised.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Parsons turned out on meeting another machine and a third car ran in between the two. Neither of the other cars stopped, and the injured ladies were picked up by C. H. Williams of No. 214 West Fifty-fourth avenue, Los Angeles, who came upon the scene of the accident shortly afterwards, and brought Mrs. and Miss Parsons to the hospital here.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT.

RUSSIAN STOWAWAYS.

Spent Fourteen Days in Bags on Way to United States.

[New York Tribune:] It was positively uncanny the way that bag wriggled. The astounded sailor poked his lantern among the boxes in the ship's hold and jumped back with a shout. He ran up to the steerage deck of the Czaritza and bellowed for help from the night watches.

They clumped down the stairway and ripped open the burlap bag which the sailor indicated. The lantern light shone on the dirty face of a young stowaway. They pulled him out of his retreat by the hair and one shouted:

"He's a Jew! Let's see if there are any more of them."

The sailors discovered two more stowaways in bags. Their thin, Semitic faces denied the fact that they were only young lads. For fourteen days and nights they had lived in terror within burlap containers, only to be caught a few hours before they would land on American soil.

The stowaways told the story after the Czaritza docked at Brooklyn. Their homes were in Grodno and Moheliеff, in the interior of Russia, and they escaped in the nick of time from conscription into the army. Nights they had crawled from village to village, with faces set toward Archangel. They learned the Czaritza was to sail, and they pooled their rubles, to obtain which their families had sold their furniture and possessions, and bribed John Weiss, a sailor.

In the stifling hold of the ship they counted the eternal days. Only at midnight did they venture from their bags to forage like so many rats for scraps of food. Then for another day they went back into the burlap containers.

Market Price of Babies.

[Baltimore American:] According to a sociological expert, the actual value of a baby is $90. But you couldn't buy one for that price, no mother would sell it for that, and where he has a full house no father would give five cents for another.
